GIRL, 19, TAKEN FROM HER ESCORT AND ASSAULTED BY NEGRO IN PARK

Armed Highwayman First Orders Them From Their Auto and Robs Her Companion of $17.

PLEAS OF YOUTH FOR VICTIM IGNORED

She Is Dragged Across Road Into Bushes While Young Man Is Searching for Police.

A 19-year-old girl was taken from her escort in Forest Park last midnight and assaulted by an armed Negro, who jumped upon the running board of their automobile.

The girl, a clerk in a department store, was riding with George Frankenreiter, 25, a baker, of 2700 Arsenal street, who went for assistance when the Negro grabbed the girl. The holdup took place on Greenhouse drive, opposite Forest Park Highlands.

To the police the girl said that Frankenreiter was driving about five miles an hour when the Negro, flourishing a revolver, jumped on the running board of the car, at her side, and ordered both occupants out.

Seized by Assailant.

"Take all I got and let us alone," Frankenreiter said to the highwayman, at the same time handing him $17. The Negro did not reply, and Frankenreiter asked if he intended taking the car. Again no reply. Instead, the Negro grabbed the girl by the arm and dragged her across the road to a clump of bushes. She screamed and resisted until she fainted.

Patrolman John O'Shaughnessy of the Dayton Street District, homeward bound on a Market street car, heard the girl's screams and got off the car at Oakland and Hampton avenues. eH found the girl alone and hysterical.

Frankenreiter and police from the nearby Mounted District station arrived soon after and accompanied the girl to City Hospital, where her cuts and bruises were treated.

Frankenreiter, in a statement to police, said he and the girl had been riding since 9:15 o'clock, and were about to go home, when the armed Negro appeared, robbed him and threatened to kill both.

Saw Other Negroes.

"When he dragged her away," Frankenreiter said, "I followed them for about 100 yards, until I saw two or three other Negro men and several Negro women. I thought they might be with this Negro, so I ran back to my car and drove to a confectionery on Oakland avenue. There were a couple of young men there and one had a pistol.

"I drove them back to the scene and they got out and looked for the Negro, but he had fled. Then I drove to the Mounted Police Station and got some policemen and brought them to the place."

Frankenreiter described the Negro as weighing about 190 pounds, wearing a light cap, blue shirt and light trousers. The girl described her assailant as being of medium height and dark-skinned. She said she saw no other Negroes.

DESCENDANT OF CRUSOE DIES

LONDON, Sept. 2.—William Gillies, last living descendant of Alexander Selkirk, the original of Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe," is dead at Largo, Fifeshire, Scotland.

Selkirk, put off his ship at Juan Fernandez, off the coast of Valparaiso, after a dispute with his captain, lived alone on the island four years before being picked up. He was born at Largo, where his descendant died 250 years ago.

COOLIDGE ON 100-MILE DRIVE

Visits Invalid Veterans at Two Adirondack Hospitals.

By the Associated Press.

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Leaving White Pine camp soon after luncheon, President Coolidge made a 100-mile motor trip this afternoon to visit invalid veterans of the World War, who are patients in two Adirondack Mountain hospitals.

The first stop was at the Veterans' Bureau Hospital at Tupper Lake, where the hospital staff and patients assembeld on the lawn to greet him. From the Tupper Lake institution the President drove 16 miles to the American Legion convalescent camp, at Moody returning to the summer White House in time for dinner.

CONFESSES THEFT OF JEWELS FROM CARDINAL'S HOME

Man Held by Philadelphia Police Says He Opened Safe in Cardinal Dougherty's Residence.

$8000 EPISCOPAL RING STOLEN

Loot Amounted to $50,000—All Recovered Except Two Small Rings, Sold to Negro.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—With the exception of two small diamond rings, all the jewelry and bonds, valued at approximately $50,000, which were stolen from the residence of Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, Tuesday night, have been recovered today.

The police are holding Lester Price, 21, of New York, who, they said, confessed the robbery, and Mitchell Novak, 23, of Washington, D. C.

Price was charged with breaking and entering and robbery. Novak was held for further questioning.

Among the jewels stolen was the Cardinal's episcopal ring, valued at nearly $8000. Another was a ring once owned by the late Archbishop Prendergast, and valued at $500.

The rings, with $151 in cash, a number of gold chains, prayer beads, a watch, keys, a penknife and a medal, were found by police in a paper egg crate under the steps of a vacant house a few blocks away, where Price told the police he hid them because he was frightened. He said he sold two small diamond rings to a Negro woman.

Price's arrest and the recovery of the property came as the result of his endeavoring to dispose of nearly $18,000 worth of bonds. In this he had enlisted the aid of Novak, with whom he had been rooming at the Y. M. C. A. Novak consulted a lawyer, who became suspicious and asked a broker to trace the ownership of the bonds. They were found to be the property of the Cardinal.

Novak was arrested in the lawyer's office and Price at the Y. M. C. A.

Price told the police he entered the Cardinal's house early Tuesday night and had no difficulty in opening the safe. He said he had no intention of stealing anything, and had gone there to sleep. One of the priests attached to the cathedral told the police that the house appeared to have been ransacked from garret to basement.

Cardinal Dougherty, who had been out of town for a few days, told of the robbery when he returned yesterday.

FRENCHMEN GO 3250 MILES IN A NON-STOP FLIGHT

Despite Bad Weather They Set World Record for Distance—Time 27 Hours, 20 Minutes.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Lieut. Challes and Capt. Weiser, French airmen, have established what is claimed to be a new world's nonstop long-distance flying record.

The Air Ministry has received a telegram announcing that they have landed at Bender Abbas on the Persian Gulf, a distance of 5200 kilometers. The old record was 4756 kilometers made by Capt. Girier and Lieut. Dordilly last month from Paris to Omsk, Siberia.

Challes and Weiser started from Le Bourget Airdrome Tuesday morning. The distance they covered is about 3250 miles, the distance from Brest to New York.

The brief telegram received from the aviators announcing their arrival was filed at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Assuming that they landed at 1 o'clock, their flying time would be 27 hours and 20 minutes.

The fact that they were handicapped throughout by bad weather further enhances the performances. Their stock of gasoline was sufficient for a 46-hour flight.

$5000 ON HORSESHOE MATCH

William Hale Thompson Bets Team Pitches 50 Ringers.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—A bet of $5000, said to be the largest ever placed on a horseshoe pitching contest, has been posted by William Hale Thompson, former Mayor, and covered by Carter Blatchford, after Thompson boasted he could produce two men who would pitch 50 ringers.

The wager will be decided next Tuesday night.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Grover Cleveland Alexander strengthened the Cardinals' hold on first place this afternoon by pitching them to a shutout victory over the threatening Chicago Cubs in the first game of the double-header, 2 to 0.

Alexander held the Bruins to three hits, while Hornsby's men concentrated their attack on Charlie Root and scored twice in the third inning.

Alexander, besides pitching a brilliant game, recalling the days of his prime, when he was hurling the Phillies to a pennant, also had the honor of starting the big Cardinal rally with a double. With one out in the third, he connected solidly with a fast ball and hit to left-center for two bases. Douthit followed with a three-base line drive to left-center and Alex crossed the plate. To make a victory certain, Southworth doubled to left, scoring Douthit.

Alexander held the Cubs hitless until the sixth, and if it had not been for an error, the man who broke up his no-hit game in that frame would not have batted. With one out, Thehenow fumbled a grounder from Root and after Adams had lined to Southworth for what should have been the third out, Heathcote punched a single past Bottomley for the first Chicago safety.

In the seventh, with two out, Beck singled through the box and in the ninth, with two out, Wilson bounced a single off Alexander's glove. This would not have been a hit, but Hornsby, shifting rapidly for the drive, lost his footing and could not recover in time to make a clean stop of the ball.

When Grimm fouled to Bell for the final out, there ewas a wild rush for the Cardinal dugout and the old master had to fight off his comrades to avoid being carried off the field.

Alexander was a popular figure when he was pitching for the Cubs, before being claimed by the Cardinals for the waiver price, and as he stalked off the field he was given an ovation as great as if he had just scored a triumph for the home team.

About 25,000 persons saw the game, which was played on a wet ffeld.

NAME OF TOM TAGGART TO BE CUT FROM NOVEL

Indiana Boss Threatened $100,000 Libel Suit Over Mention in "Show Boat."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Tom Taggart, Democratic boss of Indiana, today scored his point in his protest against the use of his name as that of a character depicted as a gambler in Edna Ferber's new novel, "Show Boat."

Nelson Doubleday, vice president of Doubleday, Page & Co., publishers of the book, said that the fiction gambler's name would be changed in all future editions of the novel. Taggart had threatened to file a $100,000 libel suit if this were not done.

Taggart was informed of the publishers' willingness to comply with his demand, Doubleday said.

"This business of using true names in fiction is bad stuff," said Doubleday. "The use of Mr. Taggart's name was purely incidental, and was not essential to the story. Any other name will do just as well, and since Mr. Taggart objected, we are only too glad to make the change."

Taggart demanded that three paragraphs mentioning Tom Taggart, West Baden and roulette be removed from all unsold copies in the hands of book dealers and from future editions. The offending paragraphs were printed in the August number of the Woman's Home Companion.

The World says reports of the libel suit threat were confirmed by Taggart, Tom Taggart Jr. and Fred Van Nuys of the Indianapolis law firm of Ralston, Gates, Lairy & Van Nuys.

"It has been proved time and again," the World quotes Van Nuys as saying, "that Mr. Taggart and the French Lick Co. have not a penny's interest in gambling either at West Baden or French Lick. There has been litigation on this point in which the charter of the French Lick Co. was attacked on such grounds. Mr. Taggart and the company have been acquitted in all these cases and we regard this unexplainable reference in Miss Ferber's novel as damaging and libelous. Unless Doubleday, Page & Co. comply with our request immediately, we will file suit."

STRIKE AGREEMENT TENTATIVE

Manville (R. I.) Pact Awaits Mill Management's Approval.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 2.—A tentative agreement for settlement of the strike in the Manville-Jenckes company textile mill, in Manville, which led to a fight between strikers and State police Tuesday night and the calling out of a National Guard detachment, was reached at a conference between Gov. Pothier and labor leaders this afternoon.

The agreement now awaits approval by the mill management, which had previously authorized the Governor to present its case to the strikers.

Sweets Bat for Irish Potatoes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Virginia sweets, Tennessee Nancy Halls and other aristocrats of the potato family are making things lively for their Irish cousins. The United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics says: "Last season one bushel of sweet potatoes was grown for every five and two-tenths bushels of Irish potatoes. This year both crops are heavier, and the proportion is one bushel of sweets to every four and seven-tenths bushels of Irish."

SURGEON DEFENDS RIGHT TO PUBLISH HEALTH ARTICLES

Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, Criticised, Quits British Medical Association.

By Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A question of the right of British physicians to write articles for newspapers and other public journals to inform the public on health matters has been raised by the resignation of Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, noted abdominal surgeon, from the British Medical Association.

The menus of Lyons Chain Restaurants, the only Government chain in the country, recently carried an article by Sir William on "The Athlete's Diet." Accompanying the text was a picture of the author. A member of the British Medical Association saw the menu, reported what he saw and the association ordered paper pasted over the portrait of Sir William on all of the thousands of menus printed. This was done.

Sir William said the picture was used without authority. He let the matter drop, but it is customary for a member of the profession to demand a public disclaimer in such a case, so the association was not satisfied. Sir William's resignation was the result.

Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, perhaps the leading abdominal surgeon in the world, is distinguished chiefly for his perfection of a system of "short-circuiting" the small intestine, or shortening the alimentary canal, by artificial connections.

BOMB WRECKS BOOTLEG PLANT; TWO MEN HURT

Jess Rubeling Owns Building, Formerly a Gambling Resort, at 2905 Suburban Tracks, Wellston.

"Radio Hall," at 2905 Suburban tracks, Wellston, once a notorious gambling house, formerly "Plantation Inn," a rendezvous of gangsters, where in 1923 four persons were slain by unidentified gunmen, and lately the home of a moonshiner's plant, was destroyed at 6 o'clock last night by an explosion which broke windows and shook buildings for many blocks around.

Four hours later, a two-story building at 2229 Cooper street, in the heart of the Italian colony known as "The Hill," was destroyed by an equally powerful explosion and an ensuing fire.

Both explosions, authorities believe, were caused by bombs. In the Wellston blast the generally accepted theory is that it was the result of a bootleggers' feud, inasmuch as a large still was found wrecked in the debris. No motive has been established in the Cooper street explosion.

Think Time Bomb Was Set.

The common belief is that a time-bomb was placed in the Wellston building, a one-story brick with a frame addition, worth about $5000 and owned by Jess Rubeling, who formerly ran a gambling house there.

Frank Duizen, whose home is just north of the place, said he heard a slight explosion, followed almost immediately by a loud blast which ble wout the front and back walls of the brick section and caused the roof to fall. The frame addition collapsed, sections of wall flying into the air, and disclosed the still.

Duizen's 14-year-old daughter, Frances, had seen two young men with a package slip into the supposedly vacant building earlier in the day. The theory is that they placed a bomb which, exploding at 6 o'clock, caused a running still to burst. The parts of the still were warm when Deputy Sheriff Baumer arrived.

Two Men Injured.

Two men were injured, one seriously. They were Joseph Stockman, 32 years old, of 733 Limit avenue, and Edwin Cole, 38, of 3949 Garfield avenue. Stockman was unconscious with a fractured skull at City Hospital today, and Cole was cut and bruised.

Cole said he was standing in front of the building waiting for a Kirkwood-Ferguson car, when suddenly he was showered with brick and plaster. Stockman and Cole are held for further questioning by county authorities.

Rubeling said today that he had rented the building to Emil Snyder of 6327 Audrey avenue, Wellston. Snyder, however, declared he surrendered it last March after operating lotto and euchre games there during the winter.

The building had been a gambling house at intervals until 923, when it became Plantation Inn. Four persons were killed there within a year. Wilford Grand, a Chicago safeblower and his wife, Rose, were shot to death, and their chauffeur, Wilbur Stalnaker, was mortally wounded by unidentified gunman who shot them down in

FRANCE AND ITALY ASK THAT U. S. WAIVE VETO IN WORLD COURT

Suggest America Sit Temporarily With League Council and Accept Rules Approved.

POLAND DEFENDS FIFTH RESERVATION

Tells Conference at Geneva That American Qualification on Advisory Opinions Is Reasonable.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 2.—Consideration of the five American reservations to membership in the World Court was resumed today by delegates of 38 states members of the court.

With the first three reservations accepted yesterday, and action on the fourth deferred, the fifth reservation, deemed the crucial one, was debated.

It found a champion in Count Michel Rostworowski of Poland, who said it was a reasonable condition and should be approved.

The reservation would debar the court from entertaining without American consent, a request for an advisory opinion touching any dispute or question in which the United States had or claimed an interest.

Against Special Rights.

The opinion that the United States should have the same rights in the World Court as members of the League of Nations Council, but no more, was voiced by many delegates.

If this opinion weighs in the conference, it may be impossible to accept the fifth American reservation.

Italy and France joined in an appeal to the United States to waive insistence upon the right of veto, to agree to sit temporarily with the League Council on an equal footing with the great Powers and to abide by whatever rules may be accepted by the great Powers and the members of the Council generally.

The Polish spokesman interpreted the fifth reservation as a desire by the United States to be on a footing of equality with the members of the League of Nations Council, which request advisory opinions from the court.

M. Fromageot, French jurist, thought the fate of the fifth reservation hinged entirely upon the answer to the question whether the Council should request advisory opinions by unanimous or majority vote. This was a question on which opinions differed, but it must be answered definitely before action could be taken on the reservation, he said.

Fromageot emphasized that if a majority vote were sufficient, any possible American objection could be passed over and the opinion of the court could be sought despite American opposition. He warned the conference that this would jeopardize the American reservation because it would render it inoperative.

Suggests Court Be Consulted.

M. Rolin, Belgian jurist, agreed with Fromageot and recommended that the League Council ask the Court for an advisory opinion as to whether future advisory opinions should be requested by unanimity or a majority of the council.

If the Court ruled that only a majority were necessary, Rolin was confident that the United States would not insist upon this reservation because she would realize that it would place her in a privileged position.

He asserted that the United States Senate had proceeded on the theory that unanimity was essential and that if it now was established that the Senate was mistaken, he was certain it would remodel the reservation.

Thinks U. S. Misunderstands.

Speaking for Great Britain, Sir Cecil Hurst opposed the Belgian suggestion that the Court be asked for an opinion, believing it unwise to call for such a ruling which might be binding for all time. He remarked that, in the dispute between Great Britain and Turkey, the Court had ruled that parties to a dispute did not possess the right to vote, and said he was convinced that the American reservation was based on a misconception.

Sir Cecil was convinced that intrinsic American fairness and reasonableness would lead the United States to enter the Court on the same footing as members of the League Council, accepting whatever procedure might be worked out in the future.

He advocated acceptance of the

MANY LABOR SERMONS IN CHURCHES NEXT SUNDAY

Federation Announcement Designates Day Formally Throughout Country.

Labor Sunday will be observed in many St. Louis churches Sunday, the day being that before the legal holiday of Labor day. An announcement, sent out by the Church Federation, states that the day has been designated by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America for observance.

"Many ministers," the announcement says, "will preach sermons whose themes and argument call attention to the need of co-operation between those who toil that the world may be fed, and clothed, and sheltered. Others will in other ways call attention to the day and its deeper meaning. The problems that confront civilization today are so great that only the utmost willingness to work together for the common good, and the humblest seeking for the guidance of God can see us through."

Kentucky's Governor Defends State Against Post-Dispatch Editorial.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 2.—Gov. W. J. Fields today made public a telegram he sent to the editor of the Post-Dispatch, St. Louis, Mo., in defense, the Governor said, of Kentucky. The telegram read:

"Your vicious and unwarranted editorial attack upon Kentucky in your issue of the twenty-ninth ultimo indicates that you are either a liar or a fool, and I am inclined to believe that you are both." The editorial in question was headed, "Kentucky's Surrender."

Held for Killing Editor in Canada.

By the Associated Press.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Henri R. Bertrand, secretary of "La Revue Moderne," a weekly magazine, was today held criminally responsible for causing the death of J. A. Beaudry, publisher of "Le Prix Courant," Aug. 14. Beaudry was shot twice in the back as he sat at his desk while going over his financial statements.

FRANCE AND ITALY ASK THAT U. S. WAIVE WORLD COURT VETO

reservation, but thought the United States should not be given the right of veto unless she participated in the Council's discussion of the dispute under consideration and exercised her veto after judging, like the others, on the merits of the case.

The Japanese delegate declared the conference had no power to decide the proper procedure of the Council.

Italy's Proposal.

Italy attempted to save the situation by recommending that the League Council write to the Washington Government asking it to agree to adhere to the Court on the understanding that it would enjoy all the prerogatives of the members of the Council. If Washington rejected this, he advocated appealing to the Court to lay down the proper Council procedure.

Fromageot of France, again speaking, said no good would be achieved by appealing to the Court for light, because even if it ruled unanimity necessary, the parties to a dispute had no right to vote; hence the United States could not vote and would not get what she wanted under her fifth reservation, namely the privilege of veto.

He supported the Italian motion, adding that in writing to the United States it should be made clear that nothing more could be done than to accord her the same rights as were enjoyed by the members of the Council.

Reason for Delay.

The fourth reservation, on which action was deferred yesterday, would permit the United States to withdraw from the court at any time and would prevent any amendment of the court's statutes without the consent of the United States.

Definite action on this reservation was deferred because the delegates wished enlightenment as to whether amendments to the court protocol would require a unanimous vote. Nothing definite on these questions was embodied in the court regulations but the general opinion voiced yesterday was that the unanimity rule should obtain, and that, this being so, the American condition that Washington always must consent to any remodeling of the court statutes was justified.

BROOKHART AND SMITH TO GET REGULAR G. O. P. AID

Iowan Recognized by Party in State; Senate Committee to Help Illinoisan.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Smith W. Brookhart, Republican nominee for the Senate, has been recognized as the head of the ticket in Iowa, and Frank L. Smith, senatorial nominee in Illinois, will receive support of speakers assigned by the Republican Senate Campaign Committee.

Opening Western headquarters here yesterday, the Senate Committee announced that it would send a sepaker in Smith's behalf to Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 9. Since the recent campaign fund inquiry here, in which it was shown that more than $250,000 had been expended in behalf of Smith in the primary, suggestions had been made in some quarters unfavorable to him that he resign his candidacy.

In Iowa Brookhart will take the stump prior to the November election for the full Republican ticket. She announcement was made at a party conference in Des Moines last night.

'BARON KRUPP' IS TAKEN EAST TO FACE BAD CHECK CHARGES

By the Associated Press.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 2.—George Adorjan Gabor, 19 years old, who deceived Americans in his pose as Baron George Exter Friedrich Von Krupp Jr., has left Albuquerque in custody of detectives to answer bad check charges in Wilmington, Del., on complaint of Lamont Dupont, head of the E. I. Dupont De Nemours Industries, by whom he had been entertained.

Gabor now admits his identity. His original was that he was a disowned scion of the German arms family.

STATE OFFICIALS TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF FRANK FARRIS

Senate Committee Named by Lieutenant Governor Includes Both Democrats and Republicans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ROLLA, Mo., Sept. 2.—The funeral of State Senator Frank H. Farris, Democratic leader, who died at his home here yesterday, will be from the residence in Rolla at 6 p. m., Sunday. Burial will be in Rolla.

Senator Farris had requested that his funeral be held late Sunday evening on the lawn of his home. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Calvin R. Dobson of St. Louis.

Lieutenant-Governor Phil A. Bennett has appointed the following members of the Senate as a committee to attend the funeral service: W. R. Painter of Carrollton, President pro tem.; O. A. Pickett of Trenton, minority leader; W. W. Hamlin, Springfield; Phil M. Donnelly, Lebanon; S. A. Cunningham, Eminence; Richard F. Ralph, Valley Park; James S. Summers, Kansas City, and Michael Kinney, St. Louis.

Senator Farris, who was 59 years old, died at 1:15 yesterday afternoon after an illness of more than a year. He was operated on in March, 1925, at Rochester, Minn., for cancer.

He was a member of Lebanon Lodge No. 77, A. F. and A. M., Steelville; Salem Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Rolla Council No. 39, Royal and Select Masters, and Rolla Commandery No. 59, Knights Templar, and the Abou Ben Adhem Temple of the Mystic Shrine at Springfield. He also was a member of Rolla Lodge No. 231, Knights of Pythias.

His widow and four daughters, Mrs. Arch Grubb of Rolla, Mo.; Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Allen, Ok.; Mrs. L. O. Williams, Palm Beach, Fla., and Mary Susan Farris of Rolla, survive.

$100 FINE, 120 DAYS FOR INTOXICATED AUTO DRIVER

Factory Worker Also Charged With Recklessness and Leaving Scene of Accident.

Lawrence B. Carter of 3507 Washington avenue, a factory worker, was fined $100 and sentenced to 120 days in jail by City Judge Beck today on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated, careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Testimony was that on Aug. 8, when driving on the wrong side of the street his automobile struck a machine owned by Ernest Stall of 5047 Geraldine avenue, at West Florissant and Holly avenues. Stall said that after arguing about the accident, Carter drove away. Carter announced he would appeal.

SEVENTH MURDER LAID TO CHICAGO BOOTLEGGER FEUD

Police Find Victim With Rope Around Neck and Clothing Almost Burned Off His Body.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The body of a murdered man was found in a field near Chicago Heights today. Police attributed the killing to a bootleggers' feud that has claimed seven lives in the suburb.

A rope around the neck and the clothing had been burned almost off the body, which was charred sufficiently to make identification difficult. Police said it appeared that gasoline had been poured on the man's clothes.

REED SAYS SENTIMENT WILL END CAMPAIGN SLUSH FUNDS

Senate Also to Hear of Witnesses' Defiance at Hearings, Missourian Asserts.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 2.—Defiance of witnesses during the Senate committee investigation of campaign contributions in the Illinois primary will be called to the attention of the Senate, Senator Reed of Missouri, stopping here after a vacation in Northern Minnesota, said yesterday.

Declaring that the committee was not through with its work, Reed declared "aroused public sentiment will put a stop to excessive expenditures in campaigns."

The Senate committee stands in adjournment, but a call for a meeting will go out on receipt of any serious charges of irregularities in elections involving seats in the Senate, he said.

MAKES LONG, DIFFICULT TRIP TO SEE ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Aged Siberian, Unbelieving, Travels 330 Miles Through Mountain Passes to City.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1926.

OOLALA, Ojrot, Autonomous District of Siberia, Sept. 2.—An aged resident of Ojrot has arrived at Oolala, completing a trip of 500 versts (330 miles) through the passes of the Altaj Mountains, for the sole purpose of seeing before he dies the electric lights of the city.

Oolala is the capital of Ojrot District, lying along the Mongolian border. One of the patriarch's many sons, returning to his native village, where sacrifices are still made to heathen gods of good and evil and tithes are offered to appease the spirits of the mountains, water and air, told of the light now burning in the capital without fire, smoke or heat.

The old man, not believing the story, started to the capital alone, promising upon his return to sacrifice 50 horses if the story was true and to disinherit the son of a thousand head of mountain cattle if it was untrue. Electric lights in Oolala are one of several signs of progress of the ancient Ojrot district, through which runs the age-old highway to Mongolia.

GERMANS DRINK LESS BEER

High Prices Also Decrease Consumption of Coffee.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Germany, once known as a nation of beer and coffee drinkers, is turning to cocoa and chocolate.

The high price of a stein of suds, the Government reports, has cut the annual beer consumption from 102 liters for every man, woman and child to 75 liters. Coffee consumption has been cut in half, the average cost per pound being about $1.

MAYOR BACK FULL OF PRIDE IN ST. LOUIS

Miller Home From Canadian Vacation Praises Civic Enterprise Here.

"When our visitors come here for the world's series a month hence," Mayor Miller began.

"Don't forget our Exposition, Mr. Mayor," someone interposed.

"That's right," said the Mayor, "when they come here for the Greater St. Louis Exposition next week"——

"There's the Veiled Prophet parade, too," said another.

"What I was trying to say," the Mayor went on, "was that people who come here any time this fall, for any reason or no reason in particular, will find this city with more public work now going on or planned for immediate execution than any other city in the United States.

"There is the $4,000,000 courthouse, the $5,000,000 Municipal Auditorium, the $6,000,000 waterworks, the"——

"Seven million," someone suggested.

"There isn't anything that costs $7,000,000," said the Mayor, "but the widening of streets is going to affect $33,000,000 of property values. There is the $1,000,000 police station that the city will have to pay for, too. And look at our street and sewer program. What other city has one like it?"

Nobody knew, so the Mayor changed the subject and told about his three weeks' vacation in the Georgian Bay region of Ontario, from which he returned last night. He caught a lot of fish, but is not quoting comparative weights with the eminent angler of Paul Smiths or anyone else. On his way back, he saw the annual exposition in Toronto, which made him wish that St. Louis could have a permanent exposition. Perhaps it can have, with this fall's show in Forest Park as a basis, he says.

Bettis to Be Buried in Michigan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis army air pilot and Pulitzer aviation prize winner, who died yesterday from injuries suffered in a crash in Pennsylvania, will be buried at Port Huron, Mich., his home city. Decision to have the interment in Michigan was reached at a conference between army air officers here and the former aviator's mother, Mrs. John Bettis, who arrived here early today. The casket will leave Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon on a Baltimore & Ohio train for Detroit. The trip from Detroit to Port Huron will be made by automobile.

ALLEGED IMPERSONATOR OF POLICEMAN FINED $1300

Paul M. Biery, Accused by Mechanic of Department and Young Woman May Go to Workhouse.

William S. Gardner of 6282 Cates avenue and Miss Mildred Wells, who lives in East St. Louis, were sitting in an automobile in Forest Park, not far from the Lindell entrance, at 11:30 Tuesday night, and talking about the Cardinals' chances. Gardner believed the home team would win again in yesterday's game, but the young woman was not so sure.

Suddenly a face appeared beside them. It regarded Miss Wells sternly, and the first question was, "Does your mother know you're out?"

Gardner replied by asking what the intruder's interest was, and the man said, "I'm a police officer." That interested Gardner, who is a mechanical employe of the Police Department, and he asked to see the man's badge.

"Never mind about the badge," the man said. "This young lady will have to come along with me." Miss Wells started to get out of the car, and Gardner got out also and sailed into the pretended policeman. A real policeman arrived while the two were scuffling, and after Gardner had inflicted several heavy punches.

In Police Court today the man said he was Paul M. Biery of 2129A Maury avenue, an insurance agent. Judge Rosecan fined him $500 each on two charges of disturbing the peace, and $300 for impersonating a policeman, $1300 in all. He was expected to go to the Workhouse.

TC-5 IN FLIGHT FROM VIRGINIA TO ILLINOIS

Army's Largest Non-Rigid Airship Is Expected at Scott Field Tomorrow.

Floating over virtually the same route traversed by the ill-fated rigid navy airship Shenandoah a year ago, the army airship TC-5, a non-rigid, today is on its way to Scott Field from Langley Field at Norfolk, Va.

The airship is a sister to the two ships stationed at Scott Field, and familiar to St. Louisans by reason of their frequent use in flights over the city. The TC craft are the largest non-rigids in the army service.

Beginning what is intended to be the longest cross-country flight made in the East by an airship since the Shenandoah began its last voyage, the TC-5 left Langley Field early today, with its officers attending to get to Scott Field before dark.

During the early part of its flight the ship ran into heavy head winds and its pilot, Lieut. W. A. Gray, finally landed his craft near Washington Courthouse, O., at 10:15, E. Louis time, to replenish the almost empty gasoline tanks.

The ship took off again at 11:45. During the stop members of the crew said they had been blown 150 miles off their course in Virginia and West Virginia. The craft was reported in perfect condition.

A second stop was made at 12:35 p. m. when the ship was hauled down by a volunteer landing crew at Wilbur Wright Field, Dayton, O., to have its tanks refilled again.

The TC ships have an envelope capacity of 204,000 cubic feet, of which about 185,000 is taken up by noninflammable helium gas and the remainder by air.

The bag is 195 feet long and has a maximum diameter of 44½ feet. The ship is driven by two engines, each having a separate propellor, and is capable of a maximum speed of slightly more than 60 miles an hour. Its cruising speed is about 50 miles an hour.

SAFETY COUNCIL FAVORS PARKWAY ON OLIVE STREET

Indorses Central Traffic Strip for Street Cars When Thoroughfare Is Widened.

LESSENS CHANCE FOR ACCIDENTS

Record of Similar Arrangement on Delmar Boulevard Cited—Real Estate Dealers Object.

The plan for a central traffic strip, or parkway, for street cars in the widened Olive street, has been indorsed by the St. Louis Safety Council.

"Undoubtedly many lives will be saved and far fewer acidents will occur on Olive street with the parkway than without it," Girard C. Varnum, secretary-manager of the Safety Council, wrote to the Board of Public Service. He continued:

"The remarkably good accident record on Delmar between Kingshighway and Clara avenue, where street car traffic is segregated from other types of vehicular traffic, proves the value of such traffic segregation from safety standpoint. The Safety Council regrets that there are not more places in St. Louis where street car and other vehicular traffic may move swiftly and yet with safety.

A Factor of Safety.

"Traffic authorities agree it is advisable from the standpoint of accident prevention to separate various classes of traffic wherever possible. Such neutral zone streets as now exist should by all means be permitted to remain, and in future city planning work special efforts should be made to segregate different types of traffic wherever possible.

"During nine months of last year, 263 accidents occurred on Olive street between Third and Grand boulevard, and more than one-half of these accidents involved street cars. The Safety Council feels that by establishing a center parkway on Olive street under the street widening plan now being completed, a great step has been made in the direction of safely controlling and facilitating the movement of traffic."

Realty Men Object.

Opposition to the plan, when it is presented to the Board of Aldermen, is promised by the Real Estate Exchange, which at a meeting yesterday heard the plan advocated by Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks.

Brooks said the new arrangement would make possible a speed of 15 miles an hour for Olive cars, between Twelfth boulevard and Channing avenue, instead of 3½ miles an hour which he said was the present rush-hour speed. He said the plan would benefit all street car passengers and motorists in saving time, and would increase the safety for pedestrians.

Figures were cited by Brooks to show that traffic moves faster on the section of Delmar boulevard which has a curbed-off right-of-way for street cars, between Kingshighway and Clara avenue, than on other parts of Delmar.

Lee Orcutt, secretary of the Greater Olive Street Improvement Association, Frank H. Gerhart, M. J. Sionim and others questioned Brooks and voiced objections to the plan. The objections made were, that the plan would not speed traffic as promised; that the inclosed strip would be difficult to clean and the curbing would obstruct fire apparatus; and if the plan should prove unsatisfactory, the United Railways Co. would resist any attempt of the city to remove the curbing and to require the company to pave between its tracks. The company, by authority of the Federal Court, has accepted the obligation to make this change in future should the city demand it.

Dealers a Unit Against Plan.

Speakers also argued that the Board of Public Service should prepare alternative plans for construction of the street without the traffic strip. Brooks said the Board of Public Service considered its present plan the best, and saw no need for a second-best one. He said he expected the Aldermen to pass the measure, but if it were defeated, delay in the paving of the reconstructed street would probably result.

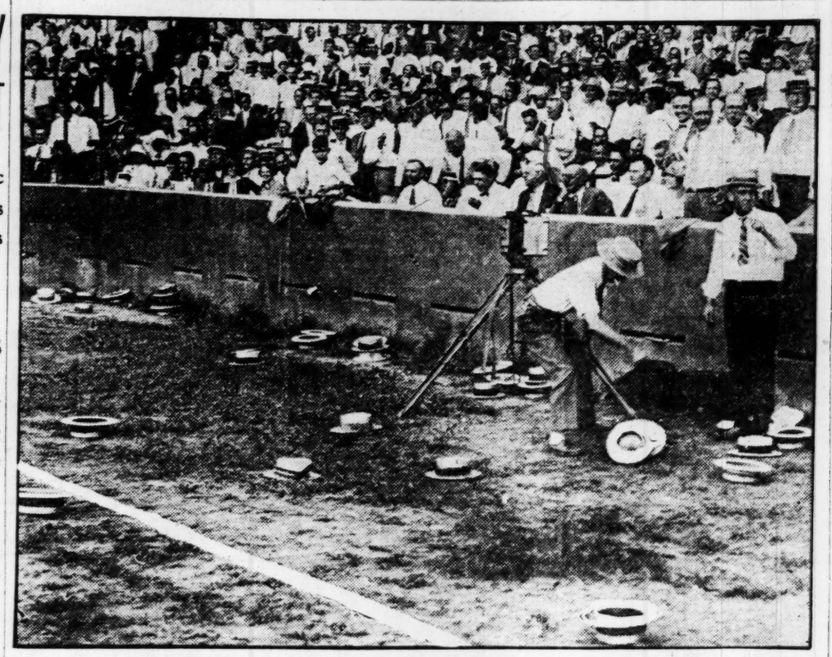

The Real Estate Exchange, by a unanimous vote of those attending the meeting, declared itself opposed to the traffic strip plan. The directors of the Exchange had taken the same position previously.

ST. LOUIS PLANE WILL DUST COTTON IN FIGHT ON INSECTS

Arkansas Planter Contracts for Treatment of 5000 Acres by Air Method.

A contract to dust 5000 acres of cotton with calcium arsenate to combat the ravages of the army worm and boll weevil, has been obtained by the Robertson Aircraft Corporation, Maj. William B. Robertson, president, announced today.

Pilot Harlan Gurney will leave Lambert-St. Louis Field soon with a specially equipped dusting plane to carry out the contract, which was given by Ira Twist, a planter of Earl, Ark., about 40 miles west of Memphis. Twist has wired that his crop will be ruined before even a small part of it can be dusted by old methods. By airplane the work will not take more than ten days, Maj. Robertson said.

DEAD GIRL HAD BEEN DRUGGED

Iowa Grand Jury Investigates Pansy Turnbull's Auto Ride.

By the Associated Press.

BEDFORD, Ia., Sept. 2.—A theory that Pansy Turnbull, 17-year-old girl of Diagonal, Ia., was lured into an automobile and drugged, then jumped to her death from the machine to escape the advances of five male companions, was advanced when a chemist reported finding drugs in her stomach.

Hal Howard, 15 years old; John Howard, 20; John Beach, 19; Terrence Luton, 19, and John Gibbons, 35, are held while a special grand jury investigates the case. A guard has been placed around the jail as the community has been aroused since the girl's death last Friday. She was found dazed after attending a party at Clearfield and was taken home. The drug found in the girl's stomach might have dazed her but would not necessarily cause her death, the chemist said. The authorities say that one youth has admitted taking the girl for an automobile ride and has said she struck her head on the curbing when she jumped from the machine.

FIGHT GASOLINE BOOTLEGGERS

Oil Inspectors of States Having Tax to Confer In Missouri.

W. A. McAtee of Jefferson City, head of the Missouri oil inspection department, has called a conference here for Nov. 11, 12 and 13 of State oil inspectors, in an effort to effect a national organization of oil officials, and check the bootlegging of gasoline.

This meeting has grown out of numerous regional conferences at which oil inspectors have discussed the problem of putting a stop to the gasoline bootlegger who smuggles oil into states where there is a gasoline tax to avoid paying the tax. Missouri has a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and other states have similar taxes. These states wish to obtain the co-operation of officials in states where gasoline is not taxed.

MISSIONARY'S SENTENCE UPHELD

Convicted in Korea of Branding Boy on Cheeks.

TOKIO, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the newspaper Asahi from Pingyang, Korea, says the Appeal Court has confirmed the lower court's sentence of Dr. C. A. Haysmeir, a medical missionary, for branding a Korean boy on the cheeks with acid. The lower court's sentence was three months in prison, but the sentence was suspended.

The prosecutor has announced he would appeal the case to the Supreme Court. Haysmeir was dismissed by the Foreign Mission Board of his church following his conviction.

Woman Killed by Train.

DEXTER, Mo., Sept. 2.—Mrs. J. B. Wamble of Idalia, seven miles north of Dexter, was fatally injured by a Cotton Belt passenger train yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, about a mile south of Idalia. Mrs. Wamble had stepped off the northbound track to get out of the way of a freight, and stepped in front of the passenger train. She died at the station here at 6 o'clock last night.

the dining room. Ike Young, a Negro cabaret singer, was killed later under similar circumstances.

Cooper Street Family Absent.

The Cooper street building was owned by Pietro Signorino, who operated a grocery on the first floor and lived upstairs with his wife, Mary, and three daughters. He is out of the city and his family were absent when the explosion occurred.

Patrolman Tobin Anderson was standing at Cooper and Bischoff avenue, a block away, at midnight, when he was shaken by the blast. He looked toward the building, he said, and saw the roof rise up about five feet and tumble over against the building at number 2227. The rear wall and parts of the side walls were blown out and flames leaped up almost immediately.

Mrs. Signorino and her daughters arrived five minutes later in an automobile. They had been at a birthday party on Kingshighway, they said, and were leaving when they heard the explosion. They did not know it was their own home until they turned into the block, they declared.

Mrs. Signorino said her husband left yesterday on a tour of Illinois cities to sell spaghetti. He had no enemies that she knew of who might have placed a bomb, she said, and there was nothing of an explosive nature in the building.

Fire followed the blast, destroying everything but the front and side walls, and spread to the building at No. 2231, which was damaged about $1500. Damage to Signorino's building was estimated at $12,000, and to the building at No. 2227 at $500. Signorino acquired the property about four years ago. It was insured to protect a mortgage.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER WED SAME MAN, LIVE IN ONE HOME

Toledo, O., Police Arrest Harry Hendrickson; May Be Returned to Marshall, Ill.

By the Associated Press.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 2.—Harry Hendrickson, 26 years old, is under arrest here charged with bigamy, following discovery by police of a home in which Hendrickson lived with Oralee Schaffer, 15, his bride of two months, and her mother, formerly Mrs. Ruth Schaffer, whom he married three years ago. The girl is being detained at the juvenile detention home and her mother is at the Schaffer home with her 6-month-old son.

Hendrickson married Mrs. Schaffer in Troy, O., in September, 1923. They lived in Toledo until the birth of their son, when Mrs. Schaffer sent for her daughter. In July Hendrickson took his stepdaughter, Oralee, to Marshall, Ill., where he is said to have married her. He returned to Toledo and lived with both wives in one home, police say.

Hendrickson will be arraigned here, after which he probably will be held for Marshall, Ill., authorities.

THREE MEN ARE CONVICTED OF $300,000 WAR FRAUD

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A sealed verdict, opened in Federal Court today, disclosed the conviction of three men in a $300,000 war fraud.

The convicted men are Capt. Benjamin F. Falter, former chief of the textile branch of the Surplus Property Division of the War Department; Herman H. Canter and Bertrand Weiss. Abraham I. Levy, who also was named in the indictment, was found not guilty.

The trial started a month ago. The men will be sentenced next Wednesday.

The men were specifically charged with selling unused Government supplies contracted for during the war. After leaving office, Falter connected himself with a New York organization known as the Universal Sales Co., with which the other defendants were associated.

SHERIFF UNABLE TO FIND ACCUSED SEDALIA ATTORNEY

Misses Claud Wilkerson, Charged With Complicity in Pleasant Green, Mo., Bank Robbery.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 2.—Sheriff Percy McMahan of Cooper County arrived this morning from Boonville, with a warrant for the arrest of Claud Wilkerson, Sedalia attorney, charged with abetting the robbery of the Pleasant Green, Mo., bank last July 28. The evidence of Mrs. Grace Craw of Boonville is the basis for the warrant.

McMahon was unable to find Wilkerson. One theory is that Wilkerson has gone to Boonville to surrender.

Wilkerson said last night he knew nothing of the robbery except what he had read, adding, "If the warrant has been issued for me it is a matter of revenge."

FOUR-POUND BOY BORN TO 30-POUND SIDE SHOW MIDGET

Mother and Child Reported Doing Well After Caesarian Operation at Hospital Here.

A four-pound boy was born yesterday to Mrs. Ruth Evans, side-show midget, who weighs 30 pounds, at the American Hospital, 2800 North Taylor avenue.

Dr. Nellie Shaver, chief surgeon at the hospital, who performed a Caesarian operation, reported both mother and son doing well. Mrs. Evans is 22 years old and 32 inches tall. Her husband is Alva Evans, a 75-pound midget.

The couple were with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus until six weeks ago, when Mrs. Evans left the company in East St. Louis to enter the hospital.

GRANDSON OF JAMES J. HILL SWINGS PICK AT $2.50 A DAY

Learning Railroad Business From Ground Up; He Refused Job in Office.

By the Associated Press.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 2.—Warren Hill, 24 years old, son of Louis Hill, chairman of the Board of the Great Northern Railway, and a grandson of the late James J. Hill, is learning the railroad business from the ground up. He is swinging a pick as a $2.50-a-day section hand at Foreston, Minn.

Young Hill got his job at the Superior, Wis., office of the railroad yesterday after waiting in line with other job hunters for more than an hour. He was offered work on books in the Superior office, but turned it down.

U. S. PAYS OFF LAST OF $25,000,000 FOR CANAL

$5,000,000 Installment Wipes Out Debt Contracted to Pacify Colombia.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—A romantic chaper of Latin-American diplomatic history was brought to an end today when the United States Treasury paid to Colombia the last installment of the $25,000,000 she demanded as a result of the circumstances attending the building of the Panama Canal.

Today's payment of $5,000,000 was the fifth of like amount handed over to Colombia since the celebrated Colombian treaty was ratified in 1921 after a long fight.

Just before the canal project reached fruition Panama, then a part of Columbia, declared her independence. President Roosevelt was accused of having intervened prematurely on the side of the Panamans in order to secure from them the cession of territory needed for the canal. This Roosevelt denied, but a decade later President Wilson negotiated the $25,000,000 treaty "to restore cordial friendship" with Colombia, and although the Senate once refused to ratify, it reversed itself after President Harding had come into office and seconded the request of Wilson. The Senate amended the treaty, however, to eliminate an apology included in the original draft.

LEFT OUT OF WILL SHE SUES FOR $10,000 FOR SERVICES

Mrs. Amelia Bollmann Makes Claim for Attending Helpless Invalid for 11 Years.

Suit for $10,380 for services rendered was filed today against the estate of Mrs. Margareta Bollman of 1437 North Eighteenth street, by Mrs. Amelia Bollman, wife of Margaret Bollman's nephew, August. The plaintiff and her husband now reside at the North Eighteenth street address where Mrs. Margareta Bollman died last April 23.

In her petition Mrs. Amelia Bollman asserts that for 11 years she cared for her aunt, who was a helpless invalid. For this service the elder Mrs. Bollman paid $20 a month, but the plaintiff says it was worth $100 a month. According to her attorney, S. D. Flanagan, a substantial legacy was promised the plaintiff but she got nothing.

Mrs. Margareta Bollmann, a widow, left the bulk of her $125,000 estate to other relatives. She bequeathed a life interest in half of a 113-acr farm in St. Louis County to her nephew, August Bollman, husband of the plaintiff.

20 TAKEN IN POLICE ROUNDUP

Twenty Italians were arrested yesterday and last night by Carr street police in a general roundup and investigation because of three recent mysterious shootings in the district. Two men have been shot to death and a woman bystander wounded.

One prisoner had a weapon. Tony Fasulo, 39 years old, of 2918A South Compton avenue, was found seated in an automobile at Eighth and Wash streets at 8:15 p. m. While police were questioning him, they searched his coat on the seat beside him and report finding in the pocket a revolver loaded with six cartridges.

$5,904,000 FOR WAR CLAIMS

First Installment of German Reparations Paid to U. S.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The United States has received $5,904,000 cash as its first installment of German reparations under the Dawes plan.

The funds will be used to satisfy judgments awarded by the American-German Claims Commission. For that purpose, the American Government receives 2½ per cent of the German reparations. The Treasury expects also to receive $12,000,000 in reparations this year to pay the cost of maintaining the American army on the Rhine.

$50,000 LOSS IN FIRE AT MEDART FACTORY

Firemen, Hindered by Spectators' Autos, Three Hours in Putting Out Blaze.

A fire of undetermined origin which started at the plant of the Medart Manufacturing Co., 2500 DeKalb street, at 8 o'clock last night, burned for three hours before it was put out by fire companies responding to three alarms. The damage to the two-story brick building and machinery was estimated today at $50,000 by E. J. Baur, assistant treasurer of the company.

Fast work by 15 engine companies and four truck companies confined the fire to the foundry and core room, saving the power plant and machine shop from destruction. Work went on as usual in these last named units of the plant today.

Several thousand automobile drivers and pedestrians gathered to watch the blaze. Congestion of the streets with sightseers' automobiles hindered the fire engines in getting up to the scene.

John Ebenrick, private watchman at the plant, who discovered the fire, says he found it first in the foundry and believes the flames started there. The loss was insured.

MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS, APPARENTLY STRUCK BY AUTO

Papers in Pocket Identify Him as John B. Parsons of 5575A Palm Street.

John B. Parsons, 26 years old, of 5575A Palm street, was found unconscious, in critical condition, on the Valley Park road, near Valley Park, at 8 a. m. today. His spine is fractured and his head badly cut, the wounds indicating he had been struck by an automobile.

A truck driver who found him took him to Kirkwood from where he was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in an ambulance. He was identified by papers in his pockets.

Grandson, 20, Kills Woman, 76.

LONDON, O., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Flora Richards, 76 years old, was stabbed to death today at her home here. Her 20-year-old grandson, Paul Weese, who had lived with her since infancy, confessed that he killed her. He is reported feeble minded.

SAVES HALF A TON OF SMALL COINS IN HOARD UNDER BED

New York Subway Beggar, Worth $11,800 in Cash, Goes Insane Figuring Wealth.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Matilda Ries, aged laundress, not trusting banks, piled her savings under her bed. Tenement house inspectors said yesterday it was a wonder the floor did not collapse under the weight of metal.

Pennies, nickels, dimes, and occasionally a quarter, she stuffed into old stockings, and as she filled one stocking after another she took to selling pencils in the subway at night, so that her stockings might be filled sooner. She grew worn and ragged under the strain until she looked 63 years old instead of her 43.

Coins rolled in faster, and she had so many bags, and they were so heavy and so far under the bed that she could no longer count them. She lost sleep trying to figure out her wealth with a stump pencil on an old envelope. Perhaps that was responsible for the condition of her mind when she was arrested Aug. 17 for soliciting alms in the subway and sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Sewed in her clothing was $1800 in bills. The coins have not yet been counted, but they weighed about half a ton and are estimated to total $10,000.

Matilda, meanwhile, is at the State Hospital for the Insane at Central Islip, L. I., and a sister-in-law has been notified.

"52 PER CENT FLAGG" LEFT ESTATE OF ONLY $65,000

Creditor's Suit Sets Value of Holdings of New York Promoter Who Died Recently.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The late Jared Flagg, who promised his clients 52 per cent a year on their investments, left only $65,000.

James J. Billingsley, a creditor, filed application in the Surrogate's Court here today for letters of administration for the estate, setting forth that Flagg, who died last week after he had been quizzed about his method of selling bonds, left personal property not exceeding $25,000 and real estate valued at not more than $40,000. The amount of Billingsley's claim against the estate was not revealed.

CLAUDE L. MATTHEWS IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife, a Daughter of the Late T. L. Skinker Charges Indignities.

Suit for divorce was begun today by Mrs. Jane Skinker Matthews of 4660 Pershing avenue, against Claude L. Matthews, vice president of the W. N. Matthews Corporation, 3722 Forest Park boulevard, an electrical concern. They were married in June, 1906, and separated last April.

Mrs. Matthews alleges general indignities, including abusive language, statements by Matthews that he no longer loved her and attempts by him to alienate the respect of their three children, Rives, 19 years old; Jane, 18, and Claudia, 16.

Mrs. Matthews is a daughter of the late Thomas K. Skinker, capitalist. Matthews, who entered an appearance and made a general denial of the allegations, is a graduate of Princeton University.

SEEKS CONTROL OF SONS' FUNDS

Daughter of Former "Tin Plate King" Files Court Petition.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Rhea Reid Topping of Greenwich, Conn., daughter of the late Daniel G. Reid, the "tin plate" king, who died in 1925, filed a petition in Surrogate's Court today asking to be appointed guardian of her three sons. She desires authority to receive the income of three $250,000 trust funds provided for her sons under the terms of the will.

Mrs. Topping also asked for a share in the income from another trust created in 1919 by Reid for her children, the annual income from which is said to be approximately $13,000.

Reports $130,000 Jewel Robbery.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Jewels valued at $130,000 were taken today from Norman D. Kadison, son of Lazarus Kadison, New York jeweler, by two armed men, he told police. Kadison said that as he returned to his room at a downtown hotel the men overpowered and gagged him, tied him to the bed and took the jewels from his person. Kadison said he had just gotten the jewels from the hotel safe.

DEATHS IN AZORES QUAKE REACH 25

List of Injured Mounts to 400—Martial Law Proclaimed in Horta.

By the Associated Press.

HORTA, Fayal, Azores, Sept. 2. The dead number 25 and the injured not fewer than 400 in the town of Horta, where the earthquake Tuesday wrecked many buildings and drove the inhabitants in all directions.

Other towns throughout the Azores were rocked, but Horta suffered the most severely.

For two days and a night, the frightened citizens have been living out-of-doors and rain, which began yesterday morning, is adding to their misery. Few habitable houses are left standing.

Martial Law Proclaimed.

Martial law has been proclaimed and the civil and military authorities are working hand in hand to alleviate suffering.

Special attention is given women and children for whom temporary shelters are being put up in Horta and other towns. These shelters have been built of anything at hand, such as packing boxes and rolls of sheet iron.

The Church of the Conception is a mass of ruins. Fortunately, the building was wrecked by the first shock before the crowds that rushed to offer prayers for safety could enter. Lighter shocks during the day and early night completed the ruin of the building.

Most Buildings Not Habitable.

While many of the dwellings in Horta are still standing, most of them are not habitable because of wrecking of the interior and weakening of the walls.

Many streets are blocked with fallen walls and upheaved pavements, which adds to the difficulty of communication with the suburbs, which also suffered.

Persons aboard steamers in the harbor when the quake occurred say they experienced a thumping sensation as if their vessel had struck on rocks.

Damaged Houses Condemned.

Officials have inspected damaged houses and condemned those considered dangerous. Heavy traffic is forbidden on the streets until the ruins have been cleared. The British community, numbering more than 150 men employed by the cable company, is putting up wooden huts and tents in which to live.

The breakwater, a strongly built structure, shows a crack three inches wide and 200 yards long.

Horta enjoyed a much more cheerful outlook today after a tranquil night and excellent weather. The main streets were lighted again last night.

There is no fear of an immediate food shortage, as temporary bakery ovens have been erected to replace those which collapsed during the earthquake.

The inhabitants fled from the buildings and began an exodus which former British army men compared with the flight of war refugees. The Portuguese boat San Miguel, lying in the harbor, took aboard a number of unofficial passengers. Others, including many Britishers, are preparing to leave on other ships as soon as possible.

100 PERSONS POISONED AFTER EATING AT CHURCH PICNIC

Two Peoria Ministers Among Those Ill; Two Girls in Serious Condition; Veal Loaf Blamed.

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 2.—More than 100 persons here are suffering from ptomaine poisoning contracted from eating veal loaf at the annual picnic of the City Christian Endeavor Societies Tuesday. Several cases are serious and physicians despaired of the lives of two girls.

The clergymen were among the sufferers whom doctors were called to attend several hours after church leaders and young people concluded the outing with a banquet spread beneath the trees. It was expected that both the Rev. J. Summers, retired, and the Rev. R. F. Joop, pastor of the First Evangelical Church, would recover.

Physicians agreed that the poisoning was the result of tainted veal loaf, which had been prepared in advance for the picnic.

Frocks of Satin—in the Smartest Three Colors

Chanel Red ..... Black ..... Jungle Green

Specially Featured in Our Specialized Group of Frocks at $25 Individual Modes for Misses, Women and Larger Women

At smart places everywhere, you will see the smartest women wearing satin. And it is best of all when it is one of three colors: Black—used entirely on the satin side, or trimmed with the crepe surface. Chanel Red—deep as the dregs of old wine. Jungle Green—the rich, dark green of tropical foliage.

Our specialized group of Frocks at $25 presents Satin Frocks in these colors, styled with versatile charm in the favored modes of the season. Frocks pleated and shirred, Frocks bloused a-la-Paris, Frocks with boleros and surplice closings. Frocks with skirts tiered in twos and threes are an important fashion.

Frocks for the petite miss are youthful in spirit in sizes 14, 16, 18. Women's Frocks in sizes 34 to 44 are smartly sophisticated. And special styles in sizes 42½ to 52½ are cleverly designed for the larger women.

SON-IN-LAW ADMITS PLOT TO KILL JUDGE

C. R. Bachelor Had Negro Shoot Lamar Smith at Wetumpka, Ala.

By the Associated Press.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 2.—How three months ago he plotted the murder of Judge Lamar Smith of Wetumpka, his father-in-law, and the execution of the plan Monday night when the Judge was shot down by a Negro, Hayes Leonard, 25 years old, was told to authorities here by Clyde Reese Bachelor.

The Negro confessed he fired the shot that killed Smith, but said Bachelor held a pistol against his ribs, forcing him to shoot. Bachelor said that financial difficulties inspired the plot. His wife, he said, would inherit her father's estate. "I was money mad," Bachelor added.

In written confession Bachelor described the slaying of the Judge, who at the time was lying on his bed reading a paper. Bachelor denied holding a pistol on the Negro, but admitted he was within 30 yards of the window through which Leonard fired. Mrs. Smith was wounded by the shots that killed her husband.

After the shooting Bachelor said he and the Negro ran to his automobile, parked about two blocks away, and drove to Bachelor's plantation 10 miles from Wetumpka.

"I went home and went to bed," Bachelor said.

Explaining his motive, Bachelor said: "In order to get in better financial condition, I decided to kill Judge Smith. I knew that in the event of his death my wife, Judge Smith's daughter, would inherit her share of the property, and for this reason I plotted Judge Smith's death."

Bachelor then described how three months ago he had spoken to Leonard, a tenant on his plantation, about killing the Judge, but said, "I did not promise the Negro anything for the killing."

Continuing, Bachelor said: "On several occasions between the date of the killing and the time I first talked with the Negro, we talked about the matter. On two occasions within the past three months the Negro and I went to Judge Smith's home to kill him, but my nerve failed me, but on last Monday night my nerve did not fail me and I went there with the Negro and we killed him, the Negro doing the shooting."

FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

William Wooters Released at Vandalia, Ill., in Recluse's Killing.

By the Associated Press.

VANDALIA, Ill., Sept. 2.—William Wooters, accused by Frank Sparr of having aided him in the killing of Peter Rosenberger, aged and wealthy Assumption farmer, was released from custody yesterday after Sparr had retracted his accusations against Wooters.

Wooters was freed on motion of State's Attorney Carl Preibs, when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Meyers here this morning. Sparr had accused Wooters of having struck the blow that killed Rosenberger. After Wooters was freed, he faced Sparr in the county jail and Sparr declared that all statements he made against Wooters were untrue.

Appealing

MISS M. BUTCHER

There's an appealing loveliness about a girl like Miss M. Butcher, which draws friends to her irresistibly. Along with thousands of pretty girls all over America she enhances this loveliness with the soft, caressing touch of Black and White "Incense of Flowers" Face Powder, whose exquisite texture and perfume add the last touch of daintiness to perfect grooming. You can get this lovely powder from your dealer in the attractive 50c boxes, along with the other Black and White Beauty Creations, such as the Cold Cream, Cleansing Cream, Lemon Beautifying Cream, Beauty Bleach, Talcum Powder, etc.

Miss Butcher, who lives at 10 West 64th St., New York City, says: "Black and White 'Incense of Flowers' Face Powder suits me as no other powder has ever done. It clings with velvety smoothness, and gives my complexion a silky sheen and a rosy glow that seems perfectly natural, yet improves on Nature."

If your dealer doesn't have the Black and White Beauty Creation you want, send his name to Plough, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive free a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts on beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

UNSIGHTLY OLIVE ST. TO FADE GRADUALLY

City Officials Confident Time Will Eliminate Makeshift Construction.

New Olive street will not be new to begin with. It will have some bad-looking buildings, and many more which are not very good. These will tend to disappear within a few years, and will be replaced by creditable structures.

This was the answer of city officials today to the question asked in yesterday's Post-Dispatch editorial "Will New Olive Street Be New?" The article pointed out that property owners on the south side of Olive street are moving back unsightly buildings, including some one-story shacks. Buildings cut in two, it was stated, are being refaced with the dingy bricks from the demolished walls. It was also asked whether any provision of the zoning law could be invoked against such disfigurement and cheapening of what is intended to be a fine thoroughfare.

Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks said: "There is no law which can compel owners to put up any certain class of buildings on their property, or can keep them from moving back or altering the existing buildings, in case of a street widening."

Frank Lawrence, secretary of the City Plan Commission, said: "The experience of this and other cities, in widening main traffic streets, is that at first the streets are disfigured with buildings rebuilt from wreckage. As ground values increase there is a gradual disappearance of these old buildings, and new buildings of merit appear. This is happening on Washington boulevard here, and it happened on Michigan boulevard in Chicago.

"Nothing can be done legally against Olive street property owners who adopt a makeshift construction. The zoning law classes Olive as a commercial street, and it could be invoked only against a building which is a nuisance."

Roy Gans, Street Division engineer, said he did not think old brick was being used for rebuilding except in the case of a few structures intended only for temporary use.

BRITISH MINER HEADS SEEK POWER TO END COAL DISPUTE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The executive officers of the Miners' Union this afternoon decided to recommend to the congress of the union delegates now in session that the executives be given full power to enter negotiations for settling the coal dispute and to agree upon a settlement, should one be reached in a new conference.

NICHOLS' DEATH ACCIDENTAL, CANADIAN INQUEST VERDICT

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 2.—Formal investigation of the death of Harry B. Nichols, a former St. Louisan, who fell from a train here Aug. 26, was concluded with an inquest verdict of accidental. The jury could not determine what caused him to fall from the train on which he was riding from Montreal to visit his sister in St. Louis.

Testimony was that he alighted from the train at London and was not seen to return to it. It is believed he boarded the train after the vestibule doors were closed and hung on until the speed of the train loosened his hold. He was Canadian manager for the Barrett company, manufacturers of roofing and paving materials.

UPPER MISSOURI RIVER CITIES PLAN WATER FREIGHT SURVEY

Figures to Be Presented to Congress by Army Engineers in Channel Improvement Case.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 2.—Representatives of upper Missouri River cities plan to have data on the amount of freight it would be possible to handle on an improved Missouri River channel in the hands of army engineers on Oct. 1.

A conference held in the office of C. E. Schilde, manager of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce traffic bureau, yesterday was attended by Arthur T. Sullivan, traffic assistant to the board of army engineers, Kansas City; Mayor S. Gilman, Sioux City, Ia.; H. D. Morrow, St. Joseph, assistant traffic commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce there; A. W. Donaldson, Yankton, S. D.; W. S. Whitten, Lincoln, Neb.; C. L. James, Council Bluffs, Ia., and C. D. Sturtevant and John A. Kahn of Omaha. Representatives of Atchison and Leavenworth subscribed to the plans.

The data will include statistics on freight which may be carried wholly by water and that which may be carried partly overland, after or before its river trip. The figures will be prepared for the army engineers for use in presenting the case to Congress.

GERMAN ARRIVES TO CONFRONT DAUGHERTY AND T. W. MILLER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Richard Merton, German metal magnate, has arrived in New York to testify against former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty and former Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller, who are charged with accepting a $391,000 bribe to release $7,000,000 of seized stock to Merton, says the New York World.

Merton's arrival was known only by Government officials, who wanted him here in time for the opening of the trial in Federal Court Tuesday, the newspaper says.

Merton was named as a defendant in the first indictment against Miller, but in a second indictment, which also named Daugherty, he was not named. It is understood that he was promised immunity if he would come to this country to testify.

$150 Jewel Robbery in Home.

Daylight burglars ransacked the home of Mrs. Katherine Leigh, 2221 Tower Grove avenue, in her absence yesterday afternoon, obtaining entrance by using a duplicate key on a front door. Jewelry valued at $150 was stolen.

CHARGES KU KLUX DEAL TO BEAT $3000 AWARD

East St. Louis Suit Names Mrs. Fannie R. Carter as 'Kamelia' Organizer.

A creditor's bill and petition for injunction, filed yesterday in the City Court of East St. Louis to discover assets alleged to be concealed, name Mrs. Fannie R. Carter, a widow, as principal defendant and chief organizer of the women's auxiliary of the Ku Klux Klan in East St. Louis, known as the "Kamelia," and also names five of 14 other co-defendants as officers of the George Washington Chapter of the klan in East St. Louis.

Mrs. Florence Biener of 1737 North Twenty-third street, East St. Louis, the plaintiff, declares that she won a judgment of $3000 against Mrs. Carter in City Court last December in a personal injury suit, which has been satisfied only to the extent of $170 by execution, Mrs. Carter avoiding payment by concealing her assets.

Charges Secret Deal by Kluxers.

According to the bill, Dr. Harry F. Killene of 1744 North Twenty-third street, was presiding officer of the klan and Anderson B. Garrett of 614 North Eleventh street, was secretary, who, with E. G. Dennison of 1417 North Fifty-fourth street, Dr. James C. Henry of 3252 Waverly avenue, and Jefferson F. Lindsey of 548 Washington place, were trustees of and held title to the Labor Temple in East St. Louis, where the klan held its meetings, when by a trust agreement in April, 1924, Mrs. Carter became owner of shares and trust certificates in the property to the amount of $12,000. Garrett is a Republican nominee for Judge of the City Court in the city judicial election Tuesday.

Killene, Garrett and Mrs. Carter, the bill states, "jointly performed secret work" of the organization and in order to defeat payment of the judgment to the plaintiff, Mrs. Carter transferred to Killene her shares and trust certificates without compensation.

Interest in Note Assigned.

It also is alleged that since the filing of Mrs. Biener's damage suit, Mrs. Carter has assigned to her brother-in-law, Brown McKee, to prevent execution of judgment, a half interest in a $15,000 promissory note, secured by a mortgage on the Labor Temple.

The First National Bank of East St. Louis also is named as a defendant as an alleged custodian of money and personal property of Mrs. Carter, which she transferred to a niece, Elizabeth French, as an alleged act of concealing assets.

An injunction order restraining the bank officers from surrendering this property was granted yesterday by Judge Silas Cook.

WON'T RUSH SALE OF SHIPS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Hasty disposal of ships of the Emergency Fleet Corporation is not contemplated, A. C. Dalton, president of the organization, announces.

"Ships of the fleet will be disposed of to American owners operating ships under American flags, and only as it is made clear that the ships are to be operated by private owners on trade routes essential to the maintenance of American overseas commerce," Dalton said.

FOE OF KEMAL PUT TO DEATH

Smyrna Tribunal's Sentence on Abdal Cadir Carried Out.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—Abdul Cardir Bey, former Governor of Angora, was hanged Tuesday night in conformity with the death sentence passed on him by the Smyrna Tribunal, which ordered the execution of numerous former political leaders for alleged connection with a plot to murder President Mustapha Kemal Pasha and set up a new government.

Cadir was captured last week when he was trying to cross the frontier into Bulgaria.

LONG DISTANCE PHONE SERVICE TO ENGLAND SOON

Result of Readjustment of Relations Between Telephone and Radio Corporations.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The way is being prepared for the opening of long distance telephone service between Great Britain and the United States.

This is the true meaning of the recent adjustment of the relations between the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Radio Corporation of America. Instead of an allocation of effort between these companies for monopoly purposes, what has taken place is a re-distribution of patent rights essential to each of the two concerns in the further development of their respective specialties.

The subject has become pertinent because it has been reported that the Federal Trade Commission would soon begin an inquiry into what was termed a monopolistic agreement in connection with the sale of radio station WEAF to the Radio Corporation of America to be operated with WJZ.

Agreement as to Patents.

Every patent gives its author a certain monopoly and in the electric communication business almost everything depends on patent rights. When shortly after the close of the war, the Government observed that rival groups had possession of vital patents and that scientific progress might be impeded by infringement suits an agreement was urged and finally undertaken by the various companies holding important patents. It was a "give-and-take" and had the full sanction of the Government authorities in Washington. Its object was not to restrain trade, for it involved no interference in the retail merchandising of products, but simply a definite understanding as to the use of patents.

Now, as time has shown the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. the wisdom of concentrating on the telephone business and as the Radio Corporation of America has seen to develop its specialty of spark transmission of messages, a revision of the original patent agreements has been made.

In effect this has made it possible for the Radio Corporation to go ahead with its plans for the development of radio both inside and outside the United States without struggling by law to get hold of patents necessary for expansion of radio broadcasting or message communication. As for the ship-to-shore business, the rates prevailing are now relatively so cheap that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. cannot see its way clear to the establishment of such a service for voice communication except at a prohibitive cost, though there is nothing to prevent such a step later on if the ships at sea can be equipped at sufficiently low expense to connect with land stations of the Bell system.

Service in Good Condition.

The message business across the Atlantic never was in a better condition from the viewpoint of competition, for there are not only the multiple cables of the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable Co. and the Western Union and allied cable lines, but the almost limitless air circuits of the radio corporation of America operating directly or by relay with virtually every country in the world.

But it is recognized that there are some phases of business relations which can better be conducted in conversation and that the sound of the voice is a factor and to this end the trans-oceanic telephone service is directed. To date it has cost huge sums in experimentation, with nothing in the way of revenue coming in. After many delays and a good deal of red tape, a big station finally has been erected in Great Britain which can work with the stations of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

To transmit voice across to Europe it has been found that the submarine cable would be too expensive. Radio offered the best and most practicable means, but the Bell system engineers needed certain patents held by the Radio Corporation of America, and so the transfer came about. It means an impetus for the long-distance telephone service.

There are, of course, many other difficulties to be solved. For instance, the difference in time means that only about two hours of the business day in New York, namely 9 to 11 in the morning, would correspond to the last two hours, namely, 2 to 4 o'clock, in London. The American business man has been educated to do a good deal of telephoning at night, but the Briton has not. And to get the Englishman at his office at 10 o'clock in the morning would require a call on this side of the Atlantic at 5 o'clock in the morning. Much of the telephoning, therefore, would be concentrated at certain hours, probably from 8 to 11 a. m., on this side of the ocean, and from 1 to 4 p. m. in London, all of which means the building of adequate facilities before a service can really be offered as practical.

Far from being a monopoly in the general sense of the word, the movement is one of scientific development by the use of patents which the Government itself has granted exclusivity.

M'ADOO MAN LEADS IN CALIFORNIA VOTE

His Candidate for Democratic Senatorial Nomination Likely to Win.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Decisive victory for Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, Coolidge Republican, opposed in Tuesday's primary by two anti-World Court candidates for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, and a hip-and-tuck gubernatorial contest between Gov. Friend W. Richardson and Lieutenant-Governor C. C. Young, the issue of which was still in doubt, featured returns from 7646 out of 8274 California precincts early today.

Lieutenant - Governor Young, who was backed in his fight for the Republican nomination by Senator Hiram Johnson, still led his opponent in the midnight tabulation, but his margin had been reduced from nearly 23,000 to less than 12,000. The vote was, Young 307,653, Richardson 296,523.

The Republican senatorial race, on the other hand, was emphatically one-sided. Returns from 7563 precincts gave Shortridge 305,730 votes, as against 219,238 polled by Robert M. Clarke, anti-World Court candidate, backed by Senator Johnson, and 116,293 polled by Representative Walter F. Lineberger, also an opponent of the World Court, but stressing strict enforcement of the prohibition law.

Justus S. Wardell was leading Carl Alexander Johnson, dry anti-Tammany candidate, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, indorsed by William G. McAdoo, 45,321 votes to 43,679, in returns from 7646 precincts. John B. Elliott, also indorsed by McAdoo and accused by his opponent, Isidore M. Dockweiler, of plotting to capture the State organization for McAdoo with an eye to the 1928 presidential campaign, was leading in the senatorial contest.

GERK, ADDRESSING FARMERS, URGES POLICE PENSION PLAN

Protection No Longer Local Matter, Chief Says in Sedalia Plea for Proposition No. 2.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 2.—Addressing the convention of Missouri Farmers in Sedalia today, Chief of Police Gerk of St. Louis appealed for support of Proposition No. 2, the police pension enabling act, to be voted on Nov. 2. He pointed out that police protection has ceased to be a local matter since rapid transportation has enabled organized robbers to extend their operations to State-wide proportions.

"Today, crime is in the ascendancy," said Gerk. "We have bands of automobile thieves, who steal machines from you folks in the country and sell them in the city; we have mobs of robbers who loot country stores and attempt to dispose of the merchandise in the cities. Hard roads and the automobile have given the criminal who makes headquarters in the cities quick access to distant towns and have obliterated city and county boundaries for the purposes of organized crime. As a matter of self-protection, you folks of the country must interest yourselves in promoting efficiency of city police departments. Scratch "No" and vote "Yes" on Amendment No. 2, so that a pension system can be established for policemen at the expense of the cities that provide it and without cost to others."

Gerk said a pension such as proposed is not intended as compensation for low salaries, but as a premium on long and faithful service to those who constantly risk their lives in dealing with disorder.

BOY, 16, CATCHES 16-POUND PIKE IN COOLIDGE'S LAKE

By the Associated Press.

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The big pike are biting in Osgood Lake, but President Coolidge has yet to catch his.

Four of the fish, totaling 60 pounds, have been taken from the presidential dooryard in the last week. The 16-year-old son of Ormon Doty, the President's guide, gave both his father and the President a lesson in fishing yesterday when he caught a 16-pound pike. Later in the day Richard L. Jervis, head of the White House Secret Service detail, landed a 12-pounder.

Mrs. Fred Hirschborn of Port-Chester, N. Y., a guest at Paul Smiths Hotel, caught a pike last week that scaled 15 pounds, while two days later another summer resident brought in one two pounds heavier.

President Coolidge's largest fish of the summer to date is a six-pound pike.

TO gasoline consumers, using 200 gallons or more in 30 days, we offer a very convenient "Gallonage Coupon" system, which not only gives you a check on your gasoline consumption, but also lowers your operating costs.

Every Automobile and Truck owner is vitally interested in his cost of operation, how much per ton, how much per mile, how much per year.

The "Q D A" system solves this cost problem and enables operators of two or more trucks or pleasure cars, using at least 200 gallons of gasoline per month, to save money on gasoline consumption.

"POWERITE" is the efficient motor fuel, full of pep and go. "VEEDOL" is the motor oil which gives the "film of protection"—what a combination!

"Q D A" is the gallonage system that will save you many hundreds of dollars on your annual gasoline consumption. The mailing of the coupon will bring you the complete story.

DEMOCRATS RALLY TOMORROW AT FOREST PARK HIGHLANDS

William H. O'Brien Heads Organization Formed to Supplant City Committee.

The United Democracy of St. Louis, an organization designed to stimulate interest among Democratic voters, and to supplement the work of the City Committee, will hold a meeting at Forest Park Highlands tomorrow, when Democratic day will be observed there.

At a meeting in the Central National Bank Building yesterday, William H. O'Brien was elected president. Other officers are: Vice presidents, John J. Nagle, Chairman of the City Committee; John Ring, Mrs. Nat Brown and Mrs. Mary Ryder; secretary, Mrs. William F. Glynn; treasurer, Ben G. Brinkman. A finance committee, headed by Brinkman, has been named. The Constitution and By-laws Committee is composed of Ernest Green, Jacob M. Lashly, Charles M. Hay, Mrs. Nat Brown and Miss Margaret Rowan.

Fall Expresses Her Preference for the Tailored Mode in

DRESSES

Friday We Feature a Special Selection

$39.75

A survey of the new Fall fashions reveals a decided trend toward the tailor made. Skirts do not flare as much, sleeves drape in graceful lines, necklines and waistlines are designed to suit the individual. Crepe Satin, Crepe Angot, Crepe Joli, Georgette Crepe and heavy Crepe de Chines are the chosen materials. The Fall shades represent every color in the darker spectrum.

ANY SUMMER SILK DRESS NOW
All Suitable for Fall—Formerly to $42.50—Georgettes, Tub Silks, Printed Crepes, Figured Chiffons

BLIND STAGE JESTER WHO DIED IN EAST

BEN WELCH.

BEN WELCH, OLD-TIME COMEDIAN, IS DEAD

Actor, Blind for Several Years, Succumbs at 50 at Kings Park, L. I.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Ben Welch, blind comedian, died at the King's Park, L. I., Sanitarium at 12:30 o'clock this morning, game and optimistic until the last moment. He was 50 years old.

Welch was one of the premier Yiddish dialect comedians in burlesque and vaudeville. In the years before he went blind his earnings ran as high as $50,000 a year.

When he was appearing in a revue in London in 1920, Welch's eyes began to trouble him. They grew worse until one night in Boston, on the stage, his sight grew alarmingly dim and he could not see beyond the footlights.

A few weeks later, early in 1921, when he stepped off the train in Washington for the opening of the musical comedy, "Jimmie," everything went black before his eyes. For a moment he stood dazed, then shook himself and cracked a joke to his companions who were unaware of what had happened. Welch went to see an oculist who was unable to diagnose the trouble, and the comedian continued his rehearsals.

Plays in Spite of Blindness.

He lost his sight completely a few nights later. When he first stepped on the stage his vision seemed normal. He saw the smiling faces down in front and the fringe at the rail of the gallery. Then impenetrable darkness shut them off. Not one of the thousands in front of the house or his fellow-actors and actresses suspected the tragedy. Welch went on playing as if nothing was wrong. For 21 weeks Welch appeared nightly with the company, as gay and merry as ever. It was only weeks after he had lost his eyesight that the public and the newspapers heard of it. By that time specialists had given up hope of being able to help him.

Blindness was followed by loss of the power of locomotion, but Welch continued on the stage, appearing in 40 weeks of vaudeville each year with his partner, Frank Murphy, who actually fed him, shaved him and performed all the other duties of nurse and servant, as well as appearing with him in their act. (They appeared in St. Louis after Welch was stricken.) Welch's affliction was due to a disease which directly affected the brain and was so advanced as to be incurable.

When Welch heard that the news had leaked out, he laughed and said:

"Well, I'll get a good story on this. We ought to pack 'em in tonight."

When the play closed at Providence, Welch again showed his pluck and made it plain that he meant to go on with his work and wanted neither pity nor charity.

For years he had carried an insurance policy with a disability clause. It was suggested he should avail himself of this clause and accept its provisions of a flat payment of $10,000 or $75 a week for the rest of his life.

Burns Insurance Policy.

On the last night in Providence, in the presence of the whole company and the Mayor, Welch drew the policy from his pocket.

"Touch a match to this document," he requested the Mayor. "If I were ready to quit and admit that I'm licked, it would be worth a bunch of money; but I'm not licked. I'm in the game—in it to stay."

As the document went up in flames, Welch cried: "I'm free—free to make my plans, as I have done in other days. No gloom for me, no benefits. I shall go on as before."

Aug. 7 he was taken to Bellevue Hospital where it was said his condition was almost hopeless. Two days later he was removed to the private sanitarium, where he died this morning.

His wife, Jeannette, was at his bedside. A 17-year-old daughter, Justine, also survives.

Funeral services Sunday will be under the auspices of the Jewish Theatrical Guild of America.

DRYS TO SEPARATE PROPOSITION NO. 4 FROM PARTY LINES

Leaders at Jefferson City Decide Not to Ask for Platform Planks at State Conventions.

W. HILL SLATED TO HEAD CAMPAIGN

Gov. Baker Declares Repeal of Missouri Enforcement Statute Would Be "Act of Rebellion."

BY CURTIS A. BETTS.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 2.—The militant opponents of initiative Proposition No. 4, which would repeal the State prohibition enforcement act, will confine their efforts to an aggressive campaign among the electorate and will make no attempt to influence either the Democratic or Republican State conventions to include a platform declaration against the proposal.

Meeting in Jefferson City this afternoon and tonight, the dry forces, led by Gov. Baker, Charles M. Hay and David W. Hill of St. Louis and Mrs. Nelle G. Burger of Springfield, president of the Missouri W. C. T. U., are prepared to form a state-wide organization with representation in every congressional district to oppose the proposal.

The drys were agreed that their work should be entirely divorced from politics and that every effort should be made to prevent the opposition campaign and the political campaign from becoming one and the same. They do not want their fight embarrassed by the political expediency problems of candidates and the drys, some of them being practical politicians themselves, do not want their fight to embarrass the candidates.

D. W. Hill to Lead Fight.

Preliminary to the actual organization work, a member began shortly after noon with Gov. Baker presiding. There were addresses by the Governor and Hay. Following these talks the plans for the election of permanent officers. It was tentatively arranged that Hill, vice president of the International Life Insurance Co., former Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives and a Republican, should be elected chairman of the organization and Mrs. Mrs. W. E. Ewing of Odessa and Mrs. A. S. Parsons of King City, Democrats, elected secretary.

If Mrs. Ewing reaches Jefferson City she will be chosen; if not, Mrs. Parsons.

There will be two committees chosen by the meeting, one on organization, to be composed of one member from each of the congressional districts, and another, probably of the same size and composition, on resolutions.

A resolution will be presented through this committee for the appointment of a general campaign committee of one Democratic man and woman and one Republican man and woman from each congressional district, which will give the committee a total membership of 44.

More than 500 persons, some from every congressional district attended the meeting.

The almost complete absence of support for Proposition No. 4 by men, who are or have been of prominence in public life seemingly served to dampen the enthusiasm of some of the drys here, but the Governor, Hay and other leaders urged that nothing should be left undone to make the organization complete and effective.

Drys Not Inclined to Worry.

The attitude of a number of the drys, evidently caused by the opposition to the proposition expressed several days ago by Senator Reed, was that "there isn't anything that counts for the proposition, so why worry about it?"

Preliminary to the regular organization work, Gov. Baker assured the drys to enthusiasm by a declaration that he was a "last-ditcher, against the repeal of the enforcement act. He demanded not only that the law be enforced, but that the Goxernor be given a power to remove law enforcement officials if they failed to enforce the law.

Hay dealt at considerable length with the history of the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, and the passage of the Volstead and Missouri enforcement laws.

He called the effort at repeal of the Missouri law as an "act of disloyalty."

Would Be Act of Rebellion.

Asserting that the only result, if the repeal movement succeeds, would be the encouragement of bootleggers, the Governor declared that of the law would be "an act of rebellion."

The Governor denied that enforcement of the law had been a failure and pointed to the fact that there were more than 100 men now in the penitentiary for violation of the dry act, that many more had been fined and that there were a number of cases of conviction pending in the Appellate Court.

Would Fire Lax Officials.

The Governor was positive in his declaration that he believed the Governor should have the power to remove derelict officials.

"These laws are not enforced as they should be in some sections of the State, but had I had the power I would remove every officer derelict in his duty in the enforcement of this or any other law," he said.

Hay sought to make two principal points in his speech, one that refusal of Missouri to participate with the Federal Government in the enforcement of prohibition would be "an act of rebellion," and the other that in having its State enforcement act Missouri was maintaining the theory of State sovereignty and local self-government.

Asserting that it never was the intention that prohibition should be enforced alone by the Federal Government, Hay said the practical enforcement act would be "unenforcement act would be "unspeakable."

"The Federal Government, unaided by the states," he said, "could not enforce prohibition in Missouri without setting up Governmental machinery of such magnitude as to violate the principle underlying our dual form of Government. It could not do it without imposing unjust burdens of expense and neglect upon the rest of the country. It could not do it without putting in jeopardy the principle and right of local self-government."

ITALIAN CABINET BEGINS DEFLATION OF CURRENCY

Lira Rises on First Day on Which Drastic Financial Change Is Attempted.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 2.—The initiation of Italy's financial program marks a red letter date in the history of the Fascist party, according to the friendly press, equal in importance to the day in January, 1925, when Mussolini announced that all political opposition must cease.

This policy, sponsored by Finance Minister Volpi and adopted on Tuesday by the Cabinet, provides for a vigorous deflation by retiring the note circulation of the Banca D'Italia and giving to that institution broader powers over internal credit and foreign exchange.

The Bourses throughout Italy reacted strongly to the announcement, the lira rising yesterday from 31 to 27.80 to the dollar and from 150 to 134 to the pound sterling.

PRIMARY PROVED STATE WET, SAYS STAYTON; OPPOSES PLAN TO REPEAL ENFORCEMENT ACT

Liquor Traffic, in Very Nature of Things, Ought Always to Be Regulated, Declares Anti-Prohibitionist.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Wet voters in Missouri have been asked to withhold their support from the proposal calling for repeal of all existing liquor legislation in the State, by Capt. William H. Stayton, founder and executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Stayton contends that the recent Republican and Democratic senatorial primaries constituted a sufficiently decisive referendum on the subject. By voting against the repeal proposal, Stayton holds, the wets will checkmate any demand the dry forces may make in the direction of trying to bind either Senator Williams or Representative Hawes by the outcome of the referendum.

Primary Really a Referendum.

The text of Stayton's announcement follows:

"The Missouri branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment decided on the repeal move months in advance of the State primary prior to the announcement of the candidates, and when it could not be foreseen that the primary would resolve itself into a wet and dry referendum in both parties.

"But the nominations of candidates for the United States Senate turned wholly on the prohibition question and both Democrats and Republicans buried the dry candidates and named the two liberals, Hawes and Williams, to oppose each other. Therefore, the holding of any further referendum in Missouri became unnecessary. The State had declared doubly wet.

"However, the repeal question is on the ballot, and it is too late to have it removed. The drys when in control of the Missouri Legislature had craftily framed its laws so as to prevent a fair vote on the simple proposition of wet and dry. They accomplished this by denying the right of a referendum on any Federal law, as the Volstead act, such as is being held this year in Illinois. Thus the matter could be submitted practically only by proposing the very unsatisfactory and objectionable method of repealing as a protest all the State liquor laws.

Must Retain Some Restrictions.

"But the members of this association do not believe the State should repeal all its liquor laws, for in the very natureof things the traffic in liquor ought always to be regulated and restricted.

"An executive committee of prominent Missourians at present empowered to represent the organization in that State recommends that our members now be urged to vote in the negative on the repeal issue. That recommendation has the unqualified approval of the national body, which has indorsed both Williams and Hawes as worthy candidates.

"The State branch will take appropriate action as to indorsing or opposing State and local candidates and the national organization pledges itself to do all it can to defeat the proposal which, although now useless and superfluous, would in all probability be carried save for our opposition."

Hadley Says Move to Repeal Dry Law Is Pernicious.

Chancellor Hadley of Washington University, former Governor of Missouri, has announced himself as opposed to Proposition No. 4, for the repeal of the State prohibition law. In a letter to David W. Hill of St. Louis, he calls the repeal move "pernicious and unwarranted."

Four other former governors, Dockery, Major, Gardner and Hyde, and Gov. Baker, have previously lined up against No. 4. The only other surviving former Governor, David R. Francis, is too ill to be approached on the matter.

Writing from a Wisconsin summer resort, Chancellor Hadley said:

"While I was opposed to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, that question is not involved in this proposition. If the state law prohibiting the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor were repealed, it would not restore the licensed and regulated saloon. The only result that would follow would be that the bootlegger would be in less danger of arrest and prosecution for his illegal acts. I cannot understand why any good citizen should wish to bring about such a result.

"As a citizen, and as one charged with some responsibility for the morals and welfare of 7000 young men and women who are securing an education at Washington University, I am glad of an opportunity to declare myself against this pernicious and unwarranted measure."

GERMANY PAYS $10,000,000 DUE UNDER DAWES PLAN

Last Payment for Reparations Fiscal Year, Except for Transport Tax of Sept. 21.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Germany paid yesterday to S. Parker Gilbert, Agent General for Reparations, 45,000,000 gold marks ($10,000,000), the last payment due for the reparations fiscal year just closed, except 8,000,000 for transport tax due Sept. 21.

"Germany," said Gilbert, "thus is faithfully performing her obligations and has made punctually payments falling due the second year of the Dawes plan."

The payment was received from the German Railways Co. and brings the total, including the amount due in the three weeks, to 1,220,000,000 marks (about $305,000,000). Of this sum, about 65 per cent has been in kind or by mark payments in Germany. The rest has been in foreign currencies.

EARLY ATTACK EXPECTED ON EL BLUFF, NICARAGUA

Beacons on Some East Coast Lighthouses Extinguished for Military Reasons.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 2.—Some of the beacons in the lighthouses of Nicaragua's east coast have been extinguished for military reasons. An attack is expected momentarily on El Bluff.

At the request of President Chamorro, the United States gunboat has proceeded from Corinto to the scene of the battle between Government troops and revolutionists near Coseguina, to take back the men wounded in the encounter to Corinto. The revolutionists in their retreat are reported to have been cut off from their base of communication.

Sacco Case Holds Up Execution.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The electrocution of Celestino F. Madeiros, sentenced to die for murder during the week of Sept. 5, was today postponed until Oct. 27, to allow Madeiros to appear as a witness for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti in their motion for a new trial. Sacco and Vanzetti, for whom radical demonstrations have been held in Europe and South America, were convicted of the murder of a paymaster and his guard.

CALLES CHARGES CLERGY FORCED CHURCH CONFLICT

Addressing Mexican Congress He Declares Intention to Stand Firm and Rely on Popular Support.

NO PERSECUTION OF CREEDS INTENDED

Declares Alien Land Regulations Can Be Modified, if Necessary, in Spirit of Equity.

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—President Calles informed the new Congress in his formal message that the Government would stand pat on its church policy, will continue to enforce the Constitution and the laws emanating from it, and will count on public opinion to sustain the policy.

The President, in his message last night, expressed his satisfaction with the alien land and petroleum laws, but added that if experience showed the necessity for modifications, these would be made in a spirit of justice and equity.

The financial situation of the country was discussed, and Calles predicted more stringent measures that would enable the country to meet its foreign obligations and become prosperous internally. He asserted the financial policies of his Government have been oriented with an eminently national viewpoint and have operated to consolidate the conquests of the revolution. But he stressed the need of further Government economies to meet the formidable obligations.

A full membership of the new Congress was present and the galleries were crowded to hear what the President would say. Chief interest, of course, centered on his words dealing with the church-state conflict.

Undue Attention Abroad.

The President frankly called the controversy "the matter of palpitating interest." He said it had aroused the attention of foreign countries out of all proportion to its domestic attention.

He blamed the clergy for precipitating the situation and said they had always been rebellious against the institutions of the republic.

"They have seized a moment which they thought propitious for their ends," he went on, "to disavow the Constitution and the laws based thereon, which regulate the exercise of religion. There is nothing at the bottom of the so-called religious problem which, so far as the action of the Government is concerned, may be considered a novelty.

"Neither the executive nor the ministry has made changes which should alarm the clergy and their congregations. Article 130 of the Constitution and the reform laws had only the appearance of a declaration of principles.

"The executive, occupied with problems urgently needing solution for the vitality and reconstruction of the country, could not ignore its duty to enforce the laws referring to worship. And its efforts in this respect had to be intensified and developed more energetically because of the declarations of a minister of religion prominently connected with the heirarchy of the Catholic church (a reference to the pastoral letter of Archbishop Jose Mora y Del Rio, last April).

"He deliberately refused to recognize parts of the Constitution referring to religious worship and public order. He called on all his followers and congregations to renounce and disobey these fundamental laws.

No Persecution for Beliefs.

"The executive, compelled to watch over Magna Charta, could not permit this to pass unnoticed. No means outside the fundamental laws were taken to oppose these boastings of insubordination. No persecution of religious beliefs was intentionally made. All that was done was to repress antisocial, antijudicial, uncalled-for acts of a group urged on by so-called spiritual leaders to disown openly and publicly laws under the pretext that these were not moulded to their strange conception of liberty nor satisfactory to their particular interests.

"To tolerate this would have been for the executive to accept the responsibility for the future before the nation, before the revolution, and before history.

"The bill drawn by the ministry for regulation of Article 130 of the Constitution will be presented to Congress. They will regulate the number of minister of religion in the Federal district and territories.

Counts on Popular Support.

"The executive in my charge is firmly determined to follow the line of conduct already traced for enforcement of principles and the supreme law. In so doing, it is absolutely convinced that in spite of obstacles constantly opposing its work, the Mexican people in the great majority will give the Government the support necessary to terminate it."

Since the enforcement of the religious laws, the message of the President said 42 churches, 73 convents and seven centers of religious propaganda had been closed and 85 foreign priests had abandoned the country for violations of the law. The message added that for 60 years the religious clauses had been in the Constitution, but had not been enforced owing to revolutions and other incidents.

Alien Land Controversy.

Passing to the diplomatic controversy with the United States over the alien land and petroleum laws the President declared his Government had merely followed the example of its predecessors.

"I am pleased to inform Congress," he said, "that the application of the alien land laws has not only been settled in a definite manner with respect to the specific cases presented, but that application has not hindered in any manner the operation of the companies and organizations affected by them, and the Government has been able to carry out its policy clearly and agreeably on this subject.

"Promulgation of the land, and also the petroleum law, occasioned some diplomatic representations on the part of the United States Government, causing a controversy of a diplomatic character, in which the United States Government expounded various considerations whereby, in its view, the laws interfered with the rights of American citizens in Mexico, and solicited modifications of some of the details of the laws. But these details which the United States desired modified were only confirmations of other Mexican laws and of the Mexican Constitution.

Careful of Acquired Rights.

"My Government replied to the United States representations, sustaining our right for enactment and enforcement of land and petroleum laws, not only because they enacted what was ordered in the Constitution, but fundamentally because enactment and enforcement of these laws could not affect legitimately acquired rights further than what is permitted by the principles of right, justice and equity.

"Furthermore, the Mexican Government has also been careful to direct its policy in respect to all acquired rights, conforming thereby to the requirements of its own laws. The Government has based all its acts on this policy without any foreign representations being necessary.

"The policy of my Government has not been other than to continue the policy of my predecessors, but at the same time it has been necessary to define in an unequivocal manner our right to legislate and safeguard all interests in Mexico. Therefore the issuance of these laws was necessary for the purpose of establishing clearly the conditions under which the interests affected by the laws can operate in our country."

Announcing that it was not necessary for him to give further details of the exchanges between Mexico and the United States, the President said:

"Nevertheless if the Government finds that the application of alien land and petroleum laws does not conform with the attitude and purposes which have guided Mexico or if experience suggests modifications within the spirit of justice and equity, the Government will initiate such modifications in accordance with the Constitution and the Government's policies.

Cordial Foreign Relations.

"Our foreign relations have proceeded normally. We happily have established most cordial relations with all countries friendly to Mexico. Fortunately, no international problem at present is worrying Mexico. Our constructive policy has been carried out amid the greatest cordiality in our relations with all countries, and it is the firm intention of the Government to continue that policy, at the same time taking care to preserve the honor and respect of our country.

"The purpose of my administration has been to carry out a constructive program under the Constitution, striving to the end that Mexico may have throughout the world the respect, credit and friendliness to which she is entitled, as well as peace and prosperity to which Mexico's sons are equally entitled, as also are aliens who honestly have come to live and work with us."

Internal Development.

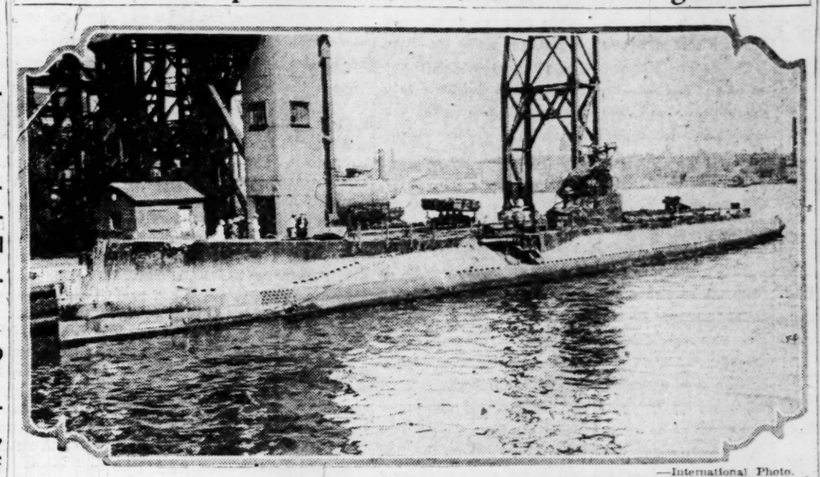

President Calles said that the budget had been balanced, permitting the Government both to meet ordinary and make extraordinary expenditures, meet some of the obligations of the domestic debt, start important constructions, highways, irrigation, docks and harbors and establish the Banco de Mexico—an agricultural loan bank enabling small farmers to acquire land.

IF CHILD NEEDS LARRUPING, GIVE IT TO HIM, BUT BE SURE YOU'RE RIGHT, SAYS EXPERT

Psychologist at Catholic Health Institute Here Asserts Merited Punishment Never Rankles, Though Injustice Does.

Why aren't pestiferous insects big as elephants, so one could shoot them? And why is a giraffe's neck so long and its tail so short?

These were two of the questions whereby the Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, S. J., regent of St. Louis University Medical School, humorously illustrated the biologists' serious problem, "What causes growth?" He was lecturing at the opening session of the two-day Catholic Health Institute in Cathedral Hall.

Health of body, mind and soul were taken up by university professors in each line at today's session of the institute, which is open to mothers and parochial school teachers. It is held under auspices of St. Louis University and the Tuberculosis Society.

"After Father Mendel's epoch-making experiments with the size of peas," said Father Schwitalla, "one's size was generally considered finally settled by the size of ONE of his grandparents. Then Sir Francis Galton came along with the theory that both sides of the family had something to do with it, that one's height and thickness approached an average of both sides, and also a medium between their size and the average size for men and women; in other words, that the human race constantly tended to get back to average.

Glands and Food Factors.

"Since 1910, however, we've laid everything to the endocrines, the ductless glands. It was found that the extract from a gland in the skull was a powerful factor for growth, powerful enough, perhaps, to make minnows grow into tarpons. But it also has been demonstrated that food has something to do with it.

"The truth derived from these three apparent contradictions is that all three, heredity, the ductless glands and nutrition, are factors. A cockroach is a cockroach, and not a giraffe, because it has the heredity of a cockroach. Even within the species, heredity influences whether it is to be a big cockroach or only a medium-sized cockroach, but it does that because it determines the activity of the endocrines.

"Healthy activity of the ductless glands will not mean healthy growth without healthy nourishment. Food must be sufficient and wholesome. Growth is the result of a balance between the secretions of the ductless glands and the food.

"As soon as a child gets proper nourishment, growth starts, and along with it comes a new alertness in class. That's why sisters on retreats these days often are forbidden to fast. Without the right sort of food they can't think about what they are supposed to think about on a retreat. We don't canonize anyone any more for thinness. Good health may not mean sanctity, but sanctity is easier with good health than with bad."

Larrup Child, If Necessary.

If your child needs a larruping, give it to him, but be sure you're right, advised Dr. Miriam L. Rooney of Chicago, professor of child psychology in Loyola University, speaking of a high-tempered mother who "couldn't keep house without a hairbrush."

"You can't lose a child's respect or love with any punishment, no matter how hard it is, provided it is just," she said, "but no matter how light it is, if it is unmerited it will rankle forever.

"Curiosity is the dynamo back of the child's growing knowledge, but in reaching out for knowledge they generally find themselves in all manner of trouble. Curiosity must not be squelched, no matter how troublesome it is. If it is squelched, you have a very stupid child.

"They can ask questions almost impossible to answer. But do you return an honest answer for an honest question, or do you impatiently refuse to answer at all? And do you repeat them to your friends in front of your boy, remarking, 'Isn't he the funniest child?'

"That will embarrass him and make him backward, or he will glory in the limelight and become a show-off."

Child Thinks in Pictures.

Children think in vivid pictures rather than in words until they are 8 or 10 years old, when one begins rattling off words without visualizing a single object, she said. Frequently, she added, small children are unable to tell what is real and what is imaginary, and that accounts for many of their "big ones."

She told the story of the little girl who saw a lion, which cross-examination whittled down to a home-sick cat. The little girl was sent upstairs to think it over.

After a while the mother rapped and asked, "Did you tell God what you did?"

"Yes," answered the penitent, "I told Him, but He said, 'Never mind; I thought it was a lion, too.'"

CARMI THOMPSON HEARS MOROS PRAISE GEN. WOOD

Collection of Beheading Knives Given American Commissioner as Token of Esteem.

By the Associated Press.

COTA BATO, Island of Mindanao, P. I., Sept. 2.—Tributes were paid to Governor-General Leonard Wood by Moro civilians when Carmi A. Thompson visited here, on his survey undertaken for President Coolidge.

Datu Piang, once the most powerful chief in Moroland, said the Moros desired to retain American rule. He declared the confidence of the Moro in the United States grew out of the administration of the affairs in Moro provinces by Gen. Wood. He asserted the Moros would be better satisfied if Gen. Wood had authority to remove Christian Filipino officials. (The Moros are Mohammedans.)

As a token of their respect for President Coolidge, the Moro leaders presented Thompson with a collection of Moro knives used to decapitate enemies before American occupation of the islands.

Thompson paid especial attention to rubber growing in Cota Bato Province.

SPAIN ABSENT WHEN LEAGUE COUNCIL MEETS

Correspondent at Geneva Says Within 24 Hours Madrid Will Withdraw From Organization.

CLAIM TO FIXED SEAT TURNED DOWN

Uruguayan Delegate Declares Latin-America, Though Sympathetic, Cannot Support Spain.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The Havas Agency's Geneva correspondent says Spain will withdraw from the League of Nations without awaiting the decision of the Council regarding her demand for a permanent Council seat.

Official notification to this effect, he adds, will be given to the League within 24 hours.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 2.—Spain and Brazil were absent when the forty-first Council of the League of Nations convened this morning.

Foreign Minister Benes of Czecho-Slovakia presided. The Council disposed of various routine matters, including the reports of a number of League committees which will be forwarded to the Assembly.

Spain's abstention, while expected, caused a considerable flutter in the League lobbies. The determining cause was the action of the commission charged with reorganization of the Council, which yesterday turned down Spain's demand for a permanent Council seat.

Senor Palacios, who represented Spain on the Reorganization Commission, let it be known that he was awaiting instructions from Madrid as to the course to be followed. He expects these instructions tomorrow.

Spain to Issue Statement.

It was the first time within the memory of League followers that Count Quinones de Leon, Spanish Ambassador to Paris, was not at the Council table.

It is understood that the Spanish Foreign Office is preparing a statement of reasons for its withdrawal, which will presumably be sent to the Council within the next few days.

Besides Dr. Benes, those attending today's meeting were Sir Austen Chamberlain, Great Britain; Sighor Scialoia, Italy; Viscount Ishii, Japan; Senor Guani, Uruguay; Dr. Unden, Sweden, and M. Vandervelde, Belgium.

Permanent Seat for Germany.

The substance of the remarks of all delegates during yesterday's debate in the commission was that Germany alone could be given a permanent seat at this session and they hoped Spain and also Poland and China, would accept the semi-permanent arrangement and defer pressing their claims for permanent representation on the Council.

Dr. Guani of Uruguay, said that although Latin-America had great sympathy for the mother country, motives of principle kept it from supporting Spain's pretensions.

M. Sato of Japan expressed sympathy with China's claim to a permanent seat, saying that it conformed to her geographical situation. He added that Japan's earliest desire was to cultivate the most friendly relations with China.

The council reconstruction scheme provides for nine temporary seats instead of six as at present. Three of these will be allotted to Latin-America. The permanent seats are held by Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, the fifth to go to Germany when she enters the League.

By the new plan, Spain and Poland would each get a temporary seat for three years and they may be declared re-eligible by the League assembly, thus providing for a possible permanency for these countries.

Dr. Momtchilo Ninchitch, Foreign Minister of Jugo-Slavia, is slated for the presidency of the Assembly of the League of Nations, which begins its sessions tomorrow. The temporary chairman will be Dr. Eduard Benes, Foreign Minister of Czecho-Slovakia.

BRITAIN TO BAR RED LEADER

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Daily Mail says that Tomski, member of the Executive Council of the Russian Trades Union, who allegedly is responsible for transmitting Moscow money to support a general strike in England, will not be allowed to land here to attend the Trades Union Congress, which meets at Bournemouth Monday.

The newspaper understands that the Home Office regards statements made by Tomski as "interference in the domestic affairs of Great Britain." Tomski is said to have prepared a speech to be delivered at Bournemouth on "The Mistake Make by the Trades Union Congress," embracing proposals and advice.

Better Police Protection for County.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT IS fortunate for the cause of annexation that the Committee Opposed to Annexation has selected police protection as one of its arguments. The people of the county are not likely to be fooled into believing that the present system of police protection in the county as a whole could possibly be made worse by the substitution of the St. Louis Police Department, which, anti-annexation claims to the contrary notwithstanding, is now operating as efficiently as any similar body in the county.

Just why the Committee believes that the city department would be less effective in protecting the citizens of what is now the county than the present scattered small-town forces, is not made clear. Is it because under the city all operations would be controlled through one central station with unlimited resources of men to answer instantly all calls for police service? Or is it because the higher standards of the city department would require the discharge of most of the county officers if the suburban departments were incorporated into that of the city?

The committee wisely refrains from stressing the advantages of police protection in such populous unincorporated areas as Wellston, Pinelawn and Jennings, where, despite the fact that thousands of people live under urban conditions, there is no organized patroling whatsoever. All protection here, as in the rest of the unincorporated territory, depends upon the Sheriff's office, which has become notorious for its ineffectiveness in handling the present situation.

Smoke-Abatement Work.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I DON'T see why the general public don't take more interest in the good work which is being done by the Smoke Abatement League to make this a clean city and decent place to live in. My organization, the Flat and Apartment Janitors' Union, has co-operated with said league and has been attending the firing school for the last two weeks, but the nonunion janitors have not attended. Now, as we have a bill before the Board of Aldermen to license all janitors and, if it becomes a law, the janitor will be forced to educate himself by attending this school, surely the tenants in apartment buildings would like to have the service that they are entitled to. If so, they should lend their full support and hearty co-operation, by having their agents insist that their janitors attend this school. W. McSHANE, President.

Choice of Operas.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTICE that a deficit is suffered by the recent presentation of the grand opera, "Carmen," at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park. Despite the fact that this is much to be regretted, it is not unexpected by a large number of people. From all sides I heard people mention that it was a mistake again to present "Carmen" after so many performances within the past few years in St. Louis.

Why could not Mr. Golterman have put on "Madame Butterfly"? This opera would be ideal for open-air presentation, as it is not only laid in the open air, but almost every note is of a high, shrill nature, which would be easy to hear from all parts of the theater. It would also have been more economical, as practically the natural stage setting could be used, and there are fewer principals in the cast. Another opera than "Carmen" would have been more successful, such as "Louise" or "Samson and Delilah," operas which have not been heard in St. Louis in ages, and which could be well adapted for open-air use.

If Mr. Golterman wants to do St. Louis a service, why not arrange a season of concerts in the open-air theater by the St. Louis Symphony Society, with, say, one or two good soloists. I predict this would be a tremendous success, and it would give a great interest in not only the Symphony but the Municipal Theater as well. FORWARD ST. LOUIS.

Weak Chin; Strong Will.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

PERMIT me to express my thanks to you for a recent editorial in which you defended myself and many others who possess features similar to those of Andrew Gump.

Although I have always believed I had a strong enough will, it really is disheartening to read articles written by so-called character analysts who claim that the owner of a receding chin has no strength of purpose, is extremely gullible, and therefore has practically no chance at all to achieve success. They almost give one an inferiority complex.

However, your article has real encouragement in it, and I trust that many others, as ambitious as I, will reap the same satisfaction from it.

"A VOTER NEXT YEAR."

CAPT. STAYTON'S SOUND LOGIC.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, through its president, Capt. W. H. Stayton, has come out vigorously against the referendum proposal to wipe all the State liquor legislation off the statute books. A statement by Capt. Stayton explains that the referendum was decided upon several months in advance of the State primary, when it could not be foreseen that the primary itself would afford a test of wet and dry sentiment in the State.

The unsatisfactory form of the proposal is attributed to the fact, as Stayton says, that the State laws are so drawn as to prevent a referendum on the Volstead act. In conclusion, Stayton pledges his organization to do all it can to defeat the proposal for wholesale repeal of the State liquor laws, known as Proposition No. 4.

The Post-Dispatch commends the stand of the Stayton association against the repeal measure. The same position was taken by the Post-Dispatch in an editorial published on Aug. 12. We expressed the belief then that the people would support a constructive proposal looking to repeal of the eighteenth amendment, or to modification of the Volstead act, or to a sane amendment of the State laws. But we expressed grave doubt that they would approve a movement to do away with all the State's restrictive liquor legislation. We added the conviction that the vote on the proposed repeal would not constitute a genuine test of wet and dry sentiment in the State.

"The members of the association," says Capt. Stayton, "do not believe the State should repeal all its liquor laws, for in the very nature of things the traffic in liquor ought always to be regulated and restricted."

The contention is eminently sound. To contend otherwise would subject the association to the charge of going to an unwarranted and dangerous extreme—the same charge that lies against the Antisaloon League.

The Post-Dispatch is happy to note that the association has not been led away from the moorings of good sense and good citizenship.

ITALY AND THE UNITED STATES.

At a time when the United States is unquestionably turning back to local government as having values that cannot be duplicated by anything else in political science, Italy presents the contradiction of abolishing local government altogether.

Rome will hereafter take care of the country. It will look after the needs of the people down to the least thing, and anyone who might want to argue with the dictator from the coign of familiarity with provincial problems will be brushed aside. Mussolini, still emulating some of the old Roman Emperors, who had time for everything and wisdom to decide it, is going to reign as another Trajan. He will have his Pliny, whose correspondence with him about repairing the plumbing here or planting a tree there will no doubt become in time as precious to history as the original letters.

Thus is efficiency raised to the nth degree. It has its merits, as was proved by some of the men after whom Mussolini is fashioning his career. The Roman Empire under Trajan was a well-oiled and perfectly functioning machine. Perhaps its twentieth-century model will be as flawless. Nevertheless, it will in time give way to local government. Those great efficients who can so govern and manage a country are not born every day. When their inferiors come, as they inevitably must, the Government goes into decay.

Fortunately, this is what we believe in the United States. We look with apprehension upon the extent to which we have already invaded local government. We are disposed to retrace our steps, and it is likely we shall. Meanwhile, Italy is going in the opposite direction—back to the mistake which the United States is trying to repair.

The Election Board has concluded that the people do not want Bernard P. Bogy for Congress, but it has not suggested how they can convince Mr. Bogy of it.

WAITER!

One must learn to be more courteous to the gentlemen who serve us in restaurants. One must not offend them any more by raucous calls of "Waiter"! That term is taboo. According to the United Restaurant Owners' Association, it lowers the self-respect of the knights of the platter. Come to think of it, we have often seen a pained look on the classic features of a high-toned server when he was so addressed. Oftener we have observed that "Waiter!" has the effect of making that functionary move slowly and haughtily in the opposite direction, even the lines of his back expressing his displeasure. One should have said, "Service, please," or "Steward," or "Card man," in a low, well-modulated tone, according to the U. R. O. A.

But we think the U. R. O. A. doesn't go far enough. There was a time when "Waiter!" was a phrase in good odor. Even now it is a great improvement over "Garcon!" or "Hey, you!" In time "Steward" and "Card man" may rankle, and, after all, there isn't much dignity, is there, in those two calls? Waiters have names. Why not use them? In entering a restaurant a guest might be formally introduced to the man who is assigned to him. Thereafter, he should refer to him as "Mr. Aristotle," or if, as is often the case, the waiter happens to be a Russian Grand Duke, he should be addressed simply, "Your Royal Highness."

Now that automobiles are being equipped with cow horns, they are presumably going to hook us after they run us down.

A PEACEFUL ELECTION IN HERRIN.

Police guards at the polling booths, armed with automatic rifles and sawed-off shotguns, made the city election in Herrin, Ill., safe for the voter. In the light of the history of that battle-scarred town, the precautions were justified. But what a commentary on these United States! What an example for "barbarous" Mexico!

FRANK FARRIS.

Frank Farris has gone to the "undiscovered country," and in his departure the public life of Missouri has lost a colorful and unique figure.

For more than a quarter of a century he has occupied an extraordinary place in this State's affairs. Whether he resided in Steelville or Rolla, whether he represented this district in the Senate or that district in the House, his home was Jefferson City. It was at the capital that he reigned, and through all the mutations of politics and variations of personal fortune that ran the gamut from apogee to nadir, he was always a personage and a power in the making of our laws.

What was the secret of his power, what magic did he possess that enabled him to survive reverses which would have consigned a lesser man to the "iniquity of oblivion"?

First of all was his mastery of his profession. That profession was not the law, though he was unquestionably a lawyer of parts. Nor was his profession politics, though he was letter-perfect in that vast and intricate science. He was a professional legislator. Legislation was his life's work and his life's passion. Elihu Root's tribute to Gov. Al Smith at the close of a long, difficult constitutional convention that he knew more about the business of the government of New York than any other man in the State might well be paid to Frank Farris. Farris did know the business of the government of Missouri from A to Z. This knowledge the higher officials, including Governors of both parties, were glad to consult. This knowledge made Farris indispensable to causes he supported and a foe to be reckoned with by the opposition.

He had other gifts, of course, in abundance. In running debate he was a wonder. His voice was really a magnificent organ, superior in timbre, we think, to that of Bryan and the equal of Bryan's in volume. Back of the voice was an analytic mind that simplified and clarified the most abstruse questions. Add, also, a tremendous capacity for work that was as effective in the drudgery of the committee room as was his oratory in the showier milieu of the floor. And, finally, a personal magnetism, a simplicity of old-fashioned manner that charmed acquaintances and held many friendships fast through storm and shine.

The debits? They are canceled now. Anyhow, it may confidently be writtten that, with Farris gone, the biennial sessions of the Assembly have lost a distinctive flavor and a rare pictorial quality.

Latin-America is again raising the old Nicaragua.

MR. WOOD'S BIG IDEA.

Representative Will Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, who broke into the news the other day with an indorsement of the Republican high tariff, is now out with a campaign statement in favor of placing all the independent bureaus of the Federal Government under the control of Cabinet members. This means, of course, under the control of the President. Among the independent bureaus are the Federal Trade Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Shipping Board and the Tariff Commission.

There is merit in Wood's contention that economy should be applied to the governmental bureaus. A thorough overhauling of the whole administrative structure is long overdue. Useless bureaus should be abolished. Bureaus now under departments to which they have no logical relation should be placed where they belong. Overlapping of functions should be cut out.

But all this is a different matter from placing under presidential control the agencies that Congress designed should be independent. Through the character of his appointments, the President has already assumed an unprecedented and, as many in Congress believe, an unwarranted control over some of these bodies. Is the President's domination now to be made complete? Is the Interstate Commerce Commission, for example, to be deprived of its quasi-judicial authority and the President to be set up as the arbiter of railroad rates? That is the direction in which the advice of the Republican campaign manager tends.

If Diogenes should return he would have just as much trouble finding somebody who had not swum the English Channel.

THE FLIGHT THAT FAILED.

The proposed nonstop transatlantic flight from New York to Paris, with Renee Fonck, famous French ace, in command, has gotten into a legal tailspin and promises to end in a controversial smash.

The complainant is an American Army officer, Capt. Berry, who apparently has a grievance. He was active in promoting the effort, was a stockholder in the company backing the enterprise and declares that the contract between the company and Fonck provided that Berry should be in the flight if a third man were taken. That claim is corroborated by another American Army officer, Col. Hartney, who is vice president of the financing company.

Fonck, it seems, rather cavalierly brushed Berry aside, describing him as an "outsider," and insisting that a radio operator or a mechanic would be carried if a third man were taken.

Berry, naturally, resents this dismissal and threatens to ask for an injunction preventing the flight. He further asserts that Fonck's contract has expired, and another charge is made that the French flyer failed to keep his agreement regarding engines.

Such a tangle of unhappy circumstances augurs the abandonment of the adventure. And this is a great pity. The project had epic qualities. Under the command of Fonck, an undoubted genius of the air, with a specially built and equipped plane, the prospects for success were bright. Presumably it is a case of ego. The moral seems to be this: Flyers should fly, but the promotion and management of flights may better be left to less temperamental persons.

GOOD NEWS FOR GENIUSES.

We read where the New York Society for the Fostering of Genius has acquired, by donation, an acre of ground where any impecunious member of the genus genius can rest undisturbed after departing for a better, and, let it be hoped, a more appreciative, world. So advanced has become our peculiarly American sense of humanity that a pauper's grave for an acknowledged possessor of the divine spark is simply out of the question, if not altogether outrageous. However, let us not be buoyed up by any false hopes—genius still is to be allowed to die penniless, but not for them is Potter's Field, horrors, no! A marked section in any ordinary cemetery would not do either. Death may be the great leveler, but it is unthinkable for us to bury genius near more plebeian mortals. For genius, a special plot, with idylic surroundings, or so we read. What, after all, is the difference between a grave in Potter's Field and a dedicated one in Elysian Lea or whatever the contemplated cemetery is to be named? At least, no bronze slab in Potter's Field proclaims to the world who donated to the good cause, as we understand is to be placed conspicuously in the cemetery for geniuses. Being the richest nation of all time, our pride compels us to do right by those of our population in whose brain flames the spark divine—after their demise. However laudable the intentions of the sponsors of the project, what a reflection upon our progress; what an aspersion upon our much vaunted enlightenment and superior discernment! What can the 100 per centers say in extenuation of the fact that we permit genius to die penniless in this wonder country of ours? One thing they may say—it is hard to recognize genius. Genius is intangible, unearthly, spiritual, whereas at no period in our existence have we paid more servile, degrading homage to Materialism. Even though we had the power to recognize genius, there are so many varieties that we are at a loss as to which should be patronized. Ponder for a moment the genius of Ponzi, Remus, Billy Sunday, Wayne B. Wheeler or the writer of vacation literature. This is genius run amuck. To foster it or to plaster it, that is the question. However, we have provided well for the future of this type of genius, and may rest assured that no subscriptions will be needed to assure them fitting burial. But poets, writers, artists, classical composers—how can they hope to interest a material crazed world? It is well that the New York society realizes that their work consists not only of fostering genius, but of burying it!

Our understanding of American Legion opposition to the Paris convention is that, while the boys are willing to recall war days, they have no desire to re-experience them.

MEMORIES.

The day is drear, and I am all alone;
My fancy wanders—travels way back home—
Back where the roses cluster, lilies flow'r,
I see an arbor green, a vine clad bow'r.

I hear the redbird singing to his mate,
I see the lilies blooming near the gate,
Again the wrens are nesting in the eaves,
I hear the restless stir of locust leaves.

The sunbeams glint and tremble as they fall
On pastures green and o'er wheat waving tall,
And then I'm back at home—a child once more,
I'm romping, too, and reading childish lore.

Again the shadows fall and round me creep,
My mother's voice! "I lay me down to sleep"—
As then a soothing slumber comes to me
I'm dreaming of the days that used to be.

PULLING THE EAGLE'S TAIL.

From the Manchester Guardian.

WHEN Lord Rothermere's paper[s sud]denly launched their offensive [...] peculiarly offensive way) against the [Unit]ed States on the question of war [debts] there were newspapers in America th[at re]fused to take the attack very serious[ly]. Baltimore Sun for one declared th[at the] attack was purely a maneuver in E[nglish] domestic politics of which there were [...] precedents in America. American [...] in the past, said the Sun, had made a [busi]ness of "twisting the lion's tail" for political purpose of their own, and E[ngland] had usually taken these attacks at [their] proper value. Lord Rothermere was [using] the war debt to America as a weapon [in an] attempt to overturn Mr. Baldwin in [favor] of another Conservative leader. Many [En]glish political observers had come t[o the] same conclusion. Their surprise wa[s not] that it should have come, but that it [should] have come so very late in the day. [...] week-end in two of his papers Lord R[oth]ermere disowns the cruel words [...] America that had appeared in his p[apers] and explains that the Daily Mail [had] "jumped in at the deep end," and th[at the] editor of that journal is the man to b[lame]. He thinks that an Anglo-American acc[ord is] essential to the world's peace and th[at Mr.] Mellon is a greater Finance Minister [than] the renowned Alexander Hamilton. [...] Lord Rothermere gets to work on Mr. B[ald]win. The whole blame of the present [mis]chief in Europe lies at the door of the B[ald]win mission to America. But for th[e in]credible ineptitude the whole inte[r-allied] indebtedness would have been settled [simul]taneously. America would in the end h[ave] agreed to the inexorable logic of a com[pre]hensive settlement. It is an intere[sting] chapter in our journalism. The E[agle's] feathers are to be considered unpulled.

BUS LINE AND RAILWAY.

From the Boston Transcript.

THROUGH the initiative of William Carter of Needham a campaign has [been] started to secure relief from congest[ion in] the streets and highways by diverting [traf]fic back to the railroads and to that [end] diminishing the number of automobile[s and] busses. Mr. Carter has written to the [Gov]ernor, to the Public Utilities Departm[ent], the Mayors of the cities, selectmen o[f the] towns, and to the Chambers of Com[merce] and the Boards of Trade, urging them [to in]terest themselves in the proposition. [Fav]orable action has been taken already b[y some] of them. The main suggestions are [that] the railroads should increase their service so as to serve more fully the [needs] of the people, that the public utilities [should] not permit the railroads or street [railway] companies to put more busses on the [roads] and that the people generally should [return] to the use of the railroads. It is [pointed] out that traveling by railroad is c[heaper] and safer, and the maintenance of th[e high]ways and streets would cost less if [the traf]fic were diverted to the railroads; [and a] wider use of the railroads would a[id the] growth and advance the prosperity of suburban towns.

PARADE WILL HERALD EXPOSITION'S OPENING

300 Floats Expected in Display Saturday; New Auto Models to Be Shown.

A motor parade, to start on Twelfth boulevard at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, and to move over a route to be announced tomorrow, will herald the opening of the Greater St. Louis Exposition in Forest Park. The Exposition is to continue through Sept. 19.

The parade is planned to consist of at least 300 floats. A Russian Cossack group of horsemen will accompany the mounted police escort. A Cossack band will play Russian music and American jazz.

A showing of new models of some 40 makes of automobiles will be a feature of the parade, this being under the direction of Capt. Robert E. Lee, manager of the Automobile Dealers' Association.

The parade will be in 11 divisions. Gen. E. J. Spencer will be grand marshal. The divisions will be Automobiles, Miscellaneous, Furniture, Food Products, Beverages, Machinery and Machine Supplies, Electrical, Shoes and Clothing, Furnaces, Stoves and Heaters, Lumber and Building Material and Public Utilities.

Besides the many industrial and commercial exhibits the Exposition will show the work of educational cultural and relief organizations. The Community Fund will demonstrate activities of the 50 member agencies. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Neighborhood Association, Red Cross and Missouri Association for the Blind will be among the philanthropic and constructive bodies represented.

THREE MORE AMERICAN OPERA ARTISTS ANNOUNCED

One Is Naturalized Jewish Cantor, Other Two Girls With Chicago Company.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Three more interesting American artists are announced today by the Chicago Civic Opera Co., two native-born sopranos, and a naturalized Jewish cantor, who joins the tenors.

Albert Rappapart, who doffs the robes as a singing priest of Judah, has been cantor of large congregations in New York and San Francisco, assistant chaplain at Sing Sing penitentiary, and is now cantor of Temple Anchoi Scholom, Chicago. He came to America many years ago with the refugee Russian Opera Co.

Miss Florence Misgen, the daughter of a Wisconsin country storekeeper, has never sang in public, save in the choir of St. Luke's Church in St. Paul, Minn., and in a few recitals given there. The girl has spent most of her life in Catholic schools and her musical ambitions were the one circumstance that prevented her from becoming a nun.

Louise Loring, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer of Providence, R. I., is the third newcomer. She has been preparing at home and abroad for 12 years for an operatic career, making her operatic debut five years ago at Fiume.

ERECT MONUMENT TO BIBLE

Czecho-Slovakia to Honor 'Kralice' Translation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PRAGUE, Sept. 2.—It is not often that a monument is erected to commemorate the translation of the Bible. But this distinction will shortly be conferred upon the "Kralice Bible" in Czecho-Slovakia. What the 1611 translation has meant in the formation and preservation of the English language the Kralice Bible has meant to the Czech. Initiated by the scholarly Bishop Blahoslav and continued by co-operators among the Czech Brethren later known as the Moravian Church—it was completed in 1593, and printed in Kralice, in Moravia.

This Bible is regarded as one of the greatest spiritual and literary treasures of the Czechs, and when the religious and political exiles, led by Commenius, left Bohemia after the Thirty Years War, we find them singing: "Nothing have we taken with us. Everything is lost. We have but our Bible." The model of the monument to be erected at Kralice has just been completed. It will be the work of Velinsky, and will represent a man standing erect, holding aloft an open Bible.

G. F. Baker Home From Europe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—George F. Baker, banker, returned today from a two months trip abroad, expressing his belief that the Nickel Plate consolidation, planned by the Van Sweringens, would be carried through. He said he was still optimistic about the future business conditions of the country.

NAMEOKI, ILL., DROPS PLAN TO ANNEX COKE CORPORATION

Granite City Attack on Election With Technicalities Favoring That Place Feared.

Mayor George Muelder of Nameoki, Ill., announced today the village had called off the special election arranged for Sept. 3, at which it was expected the $12,000,000 plant of the St. Louis Coke and Iron Corporation would be annexed for taxation purposes.

It was found that several signers of the petition signed by residents in the sections northwest of Granite City, asking Nameoki to annex them, had affixed their names after the election had been decided upon. Nameoki feared that should the big coke plant be voted into its city limits, Granite City would contest the election in court. Technicalities, it is said, would be with Granite City in this event. The Chamber of Commerce of Granite City and other boosters are rejoicing over abandonment of the scheme, as eliminating the danger to Granite City's growth toward Nameoki.

MEXICAN BISHOPS DECLARE AGAINST RESORT TO ARMS

Announce They Are Appealing to Congress in Order to Prove That Church Is Pacific.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—The Roman Catholic Episcopate, in a written statement, asserts that all responsibility for the present church situation rests on President Calles for issuing, and refusing to suspend, the religious regulations.

It declares that the episcopate, "without hope of success," is appealing to Congress because "the only other course open—starting a religious war—is contrary to the spirit of the church."

The episcopate further states that the church not only opposes war on a religious question, but believes that the Mexican people need to learn to defend their rights "not by arms, which give an ephemeral victory, but through pacific legal methods, giving lasting peace."

The appeal is being made to Congress, it is added, in order to show the world that the church is pursuing a peaceful means, and that notwithstanding defeat, which is expected in Congress, it will ultimately obtain a decisive victory for justice.

The episcopate announced that it would submit to Congress religious regulations to supplant those which President Calles promulgated. The President must approve whatever measures Congress passes, and therefore even if Congress modifies the present regulations final decision on the question rests with Calles.

The episcopate's statement says: "We believe our specific attitude, although energetic and firm, has taught a lesson to those who believe all conflicts should be settled by the use of arms and revolutions. We have given all the world an example of how tyranny should be opposed and how to fight for liberty."

MAN WHO DISARMED POLICEMAN CAUGHT AFTER WAVING PISTOLS

Stephen Janic, Clerk, of Detroit, Says He Had Been Drinking Before He Held Up Saloon.

Stephen J. Janic, 22 years old, a clerk, who came to St. Louis from Detroit seven months ago, was arrested yesterday afternoon and confessed he was the robber who held up Patrolman Henry J. Reinsch and Salviero Reno in the latter's saloon at Seventh street and Chouteau avenue, Tuesday night, escaping with Reinsch's service revolver and $30 taken from the cash register.

Janic was arrested in a rooming house after he had visited several South Broadway saloons, waving two revolvers and demanding drinks. He said he had been drinking whe nhe visited Reno's saloon. Reinsch's revolver was recovered, but the $30 had been spent.

FULTON STATE HOSPITAL STEWARD IS TRANSFERRED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FULTON, Mo., Sept. 2.—T. E. Dunphy, who has been steward of the Fulton State Hospital for about a year, has been transferred to the Colony for Feeble Minded by the State Eleemosynary Board. Col. J. J. Corey of the Marshall institution will come to Fulton to succeed Dunphy.

The order of the board is a surprise here as no public announcement of it was made until after Dunphy had left the city. Dunphy formerly was steward in the hospital at Nevada, and was succeeded there by Luther Wilson, an intimate friend of Gov. Baker. Dunphy is a Democrat.

Still Seized Near Cahokia, Ill.

East St. Louis prohibition agents under James R. DOCTOR ARRESTED IN ALLEGED NATION-WIDE SWINDLE RING

Banks Defrauded of $500,000 by Group, Complainants Say; Six Named in Case.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Charged with operating a confidence game in a national swindle ring, which defrauded banks throughout the United States of more than $500,000, Dr. Charles E. Fosberg is under arrest here.

The charge resulted from information given by two men and a woman arrested after a stock certificate on which they had obtained a loan from a bank was found to have been altered. Fosberg gained publicity as a witness in the trial of William Darling Shepherd, acquitted of the bacteria poisoning of his foster son, William F. McClintock, the "millionaire orphan."

James J. Lawrence, also known as James D. Allen and A. A. Hagerbeck, at liberty on a $30,000 bond at Fort Meyer, Fla., where he is charged with a $35,000 bank swindle, was charged jointly with Dr. Fosberg in the warrant obtained by W. E. Rowens of the Illinois Bankers' Association. Rowens charged that members of the gang purchased shares of legitimate stock and by altering the certificates raised the number of shares. A sixth member of the ring, R. M. Wolfe, was recently arrested in Jacksonville, Fla.

Missouri Woman Dies at 83.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Martha Ann Redford, 83 years old, Butler County pioneer, died yesterday. She was born and reared and lived all of her life on the farm where she died.

"It Was Her Victory"

"She hesitated at first. Couldn't see the need of it. But once she started this one little practice and performed it daily, she readily continued."

A WOMAN, with intuitive appraisal of essentials, recognizes the value of serious advice and follows its urging with faithfulness.

This is true especially when it comes to performing those little duties which safeguard her physical welfare and appearance.

All physicians know that prevention of disease is most necessary. It is commonly appreciated, also, that the nose is the open gateway for most infectious diseases.

It is necessary then that the nose be kept clean. It must be kept healthy. Only daily nasal hygiene will rout disease germs.

Such hygiene can be attained easily by means of daily nasal cleanliness. The method? Apply ARZEN each morning and evening in the nostrils with the provided medicine dropper.

At once the nasal passages are opened. They are cleansed. One breathes easily, deeply and fully. The whole body benfits.

Besides its beneficial results in protected health, daily nasal cleanliness brings with it a sense of personal hygiene, of fastidious freshness that is highly delightful. One never cares to leave off this pleasant little custom.

SPECIFIC USES

Arzen used daily prevents colds. Stops them if started. Excellent for Hay Fever Relief. An aid in sinus trouble. Daily nasal cleanliness prevents infectious disease. Keep the nose as clean as the face.

NAMES BOARD TO INVESTIGATE U. S. HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE

Secretary of Interior Work Orders Inquiry at St. Elizabeth's, Washington.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An investigation of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, the Federal institution for the insane here, which has been a target for recent attacks in Congress, has been decided on by Secretary of the Interior Work. Five eminent hospital superintendents have been asked to serve on a special committee to make the inquiry, Drs. H. W. Mitchell of the Warren State Hospital, Warren, Pa.; George M. Kline of the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases, Boston; William L. Russell, of Bloomingdale Hospital, White Plains, N. Y.; Owen Copus of the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia; and S. E. Smith, provost of Indiana University.

During the Congressional investigation of the conduct of Frederick W. Fenning, commissioner of the District of Columbia, the hospital came in for an indirect investigation through the fact that Fenning was acting as guardian for a number of World War veterans under treatment there.

German Dye Trust in Oil Market.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The Interessengemeinschaft der Deutschen Farbenindustrie, the collective name of the German dye and chemical trust, at a special meeting here, approved a proposal to increase its capital from 646,000,000 gold marks to 1,100,000,000 gold marks (approximately $275,000,000). The company, which dominates the nitrogen market, now seeks to reach out into the oil market.

Another Missouri Bank Closed.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 2.—The Cainsville Bank, at Cainsville, Harrison County, was closed yesterday by order of the board of directors. Total resources of the depository were $398,000. The last financial statement showed loans of $317,314; capital, $50,000; surplus, $12,000; deposits, $323,000, and bills payable, $10,000. H. Nally was president and H. C. Rogers cashier. It was the forty-first State bank to close this year.

FRANCE PLANS ARMS CONTROL

Paul-Boncour to Propose Conference Early Next Year.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Sept. 2.—An international disarmament conference early next year will be urged by Joseph Paul-Boncour, one of the French delegates to the League of Nations Assembly. He says France has taken the initiative in proposing international control of armaments, and is ready to submit to such control by an international organism created for the purpose.

France thus far has not succeeded in persuading the great Powers to accept her proposals. Paul-Boncour would set up an international board to keep informed on the armament conditions of different countries.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO'S BODY TO BE BURIED IN HOLLYWOOD

Will Be Sent West Tonight; Brother Agrees to Its Interment in America.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The body of Rudolph Valentino will be on the way to Hollywood tonight for burial.

Alberto Guglielmi, brother of the film player, who arrived last night on the liner Homeric, two days too late to attend the funeral services, approved the plan for the burial in the city in which the actor won his fame.

Guglielmi seemed reluctant at first to have the burial take place in America, but after talking to George Ullman, Valentino's manager, he said he would "give to the American people my dearest possession—my brother." He said he spoke also for his sister in Italy.

Guglielmi was met at the pier by Pola Negri, dressed in black, who kissed him three times, then burst into tears. Miss Negri has said she was engaged to marry Rudolph Valentino.

Guglielmi was taken from the pier to the funeral chapel where his brother's body lies.

M'KINLEY'S CONDITION SAME SINCE RELAPSE, DOCTORS SAY

Illinois Senator's Illness Critical, Relatives at Side; Near Death Since Tuesday.

By the Associated Press.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 2.—The condition of William B. McKinley, U. S. Senator for Illinois, who has been near death here since Tuesday, was unchanged today. His physician said during the night the Senator was resting as easily as could be expected, but that there was no perceptible change in the critical condition which followed a relapse last evening.

He was suffering from sciatic rheumatism, when he came to a sanitarium here Aug. 18, and lung congestion has since developed. Relatives are at his side.

CANTONESE ENTER WUCHANG

Northern Chinese Troops Reported Retreating to Hankow.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2.—The Toho News Agency reports from Hankow that a portion of the Cantonese troops broke through the northern defense at Chihfangshih and entered the city of Wuchang last night. The report also says that Wu Pei-Fu, ruler of China's central provinces, who is in personal command of the Northern troops, is retreating to Hankow. Earlier reports said he had been wounded.

Many Russian officers are said to be leading the Southern army, lending color to reports that the Cantonese were acting with Bolshevist support. The Cantonese Government has ordered its troops not to molest any missions and to evacuate any they may be occupying.

CARDS PLAYED .750 BALL ON LAST HOME STAY, WON 15, LOST 5

Crowd Which Bade the Cardinals Farewell for the Pennant Race Season at Sportsman's Park.

Reinhart's Hurling and Southworth's Fielding Clinch Final Victory

Hornsbymen Rout Kremer and Triumph Over Pirates, 5 to 2 — Manager Hits Home Run and Triple.

By JACK ALEXANDER.

Encouraged by four straight triumphs over the world champion Pittsburg Pirates, whom they dropped to third place, and a full game out in front of the Cincinnati Reds, the Cardinals left on the final leg of their hunt for the National League pennant last night and were due to arrive in Chicago this morning for two games with the Cubs. Yesterday they completed the conquest of Pittsburg by winning the series final, 5 to 2.

St. Louis will not see the Cards again this year unless they capture the flag, but local followers have been treated to uproarious baseball in the Pirate series and will never witness better, even in a fight for the title of the cosmos. And it had the merit of being winning ball, the Cards winning four, losing one and tying another in six contests.

The final drive for the National League supremacy finds the local in better all-round form than they have been all season. Gone are the boils which afflicted Hornsby and Bottomley, and kept the manager on the bench for a long period; Hornsby has at last found his hitting stride apparently, judging from his long triple and homer to center yesterday; only one player, Blades, is out of the game and two splendid substitutes, Hafey and Holm, are available; the pitching staff, with possibly Keen a little off stride, is in its best form and one who was buride as a pitcher years ago has risen from the burial grounds and confounded the Pirates with his ancient spitter.

Victory of Sothoron Stands Out.

If there was one thing that stood out against all the other features of the Pittsburg series it was the three-hit victory of Allan Sothoron over the slashing Pirates. If any actor ever had to play to a hostile audience Allan Sothoron had to do it in the first few innings of the second game in Tuesday's double-header. His victory in the face of a grumbling throng of fans, the traditional failure of attempts to come back and the swishing bats of McKechnie's men was a triumph that Mrs. Leslie Carter might have envied. And it was a tip-off on the judgment and moral courage of Hornsby, who seemingly was trying to give Pittsburg an even break on the afternoon.

During their farewell stay at home the Cardinals played .750 baseball, meeting every team on the circuit except Cincinnati. Out of 21 contests played, they won 15, lost 5 and tied one.

Taking two out of three from the Cubs, they next made clean sweeps of three-game series with Brooklyn and New York. Boston was defeated twice in three starts, but the Phillies gave trouble and the Card won only one in three games.

Then came the Pittsburg series, if not the turning point of the season, then at least a very definite milestone. The first contest was fought in Sunday's mud and was deadlocked at 2-2 in ten innings when darkness set in. The Pirates won the opening game of Monday's double-header when Ray Kremer set the Cards down with two hits, but Haines gave the locals an even break by winning the nightcap.

Wednesday, Sherdel was in form and held the visitors to five safeties to win and Sothoron accounted for the third straight victory in the second game with his remarkable three-hit performance. Yesterday it was Arthur Reinhart who, aided by a flood of hits which drove Kremer from the mound in the seventh, won the concluding contest of the series and the fourth in a row over the world titleholders.

Pittsburg Almost Annihilated.

It is hard to believe and beyond the wildest imaginations of the fans. But there it is on paper in black and white and it cannot be erased. Hornsby's Cardinals not only held the champions in check with their superb pitching but, except for Aldridge, knocked three starters out of the box with a bombardment of base hits—Meadows, Morrison and eventually Kremer—and Joe Bush didn't have any picnic while he was in there.

Probably the thousands at Sportsman's Park yesterday did not realize it at the time, but the foundation of the Cardinals' final victory over the Pirates was the smooth left-handed hurling of Arthur Reinhart. There was nothing spectacular about it, it was just what one would expect Reinhart to do, exactly what the fans have been led to look for when he is announced as starter.

It is true that he received some excellent, even phenomenal support, particularly from Southworth, and twice his control weakened enough to pass batters to first base, but neither came at a critical period and neither runner found his way across the plate.

Error Causes One Score.

Six hits and two runs were scored off him but an error put the last run in position to score and the first resulted from Southworth losing Traynor's fly after he had captured it following a long run.

Cardinals' bats, which some day will be in the same museum with the German 75-mile gun and other famous bits of ordnance, did the rest. Two hits in the first inning, although they did not produce a run, encouraged the Cardinals because it was all they had gathered in nine innings against Kremer on his previous start.

Strain Tells On Kremer.

The storm started to break in the sixth when Bell, after Bottomley had popped out to Rhyne, singled to left. Kremer then began to show the strain of too much work and passed Hafey and O'Farrell drove in the opening run by smashing a single over second base, Bell scoring and Hafey taking third. This tied the score as Pittsburg had scored one in the third.

Kremer's troubles were not over, however, even after Thevenow had popped in front of the plate for Johnny Rawlings, overeager to get Reinhart's grounder and force O'Farrell at second, booted the ball and Hafey scored.

Southworth opened the seventh by lining a vicious ball in the direction of the right-field wall, but Walter Mueller, a St. Louis boy, made a nice catch of it. Then Hornsby leaned against a fast one and drove it deep into the right-center field seats for a home run. It was a terrifically hard hit ball and flew so high that at first it appeared merely a deep catch for Cuyler, but it was good by several rows of seats.

Mueller Loses Bell's Hit in Sun.

Bottomley followed it with a single to right and scored from first when Cuyler and Mueller decided not to go after Bell's fly to right center, the hit going for a double. Mueller did not even get started after the ball, seemingly having lost track of it in the sun. A good running catch might have snared it. Hafey then lined a single to left and Bell came across the plate with the fifth and last run for the Cardinals. O'Farrell advanced Hafey to third with his second straight single, but Thevenow hit into a double play.

Hornsby got a triple and a home run and both hits were real long-distance smashes in the direction of Cuyler. Cuyler backed up and almost had his drive in the first inning, but a strong wind carried it over his head to the flag pole and it went for a triple. The homer was in the same general direction and was bona fide to the last detail.

While Hornsby gave evidence of having found his stride yesterday, he was still ineffective in the pinches. Following the Pittsburg marker in the third, Southworth lined a nice single to right with two gone and Hornsby flied out to Mueller. In the fifth Thevenow singled and was forced by Reinhart. Douthit then laid down a perfect bunt. With two on and one down, Southworth popped to Kremer, and Hornsby popped weakly to Traynor.

The Pirate run in the third was made by Walter Mueller, who singled and scored when Southworth lost Traynor's fly after a long run and it went for a double.

Billy incidentally retired the side in the third. He went deep for Kremer's fly, backed up against the wall for Cuyler's smash, barely missed Traynor's short fly and caught Barnhart's hit for the third out. He was cheered like a Roman Emperor when he trotted in.

Stuffy McInnis, who was an Athletic when the Athletics were a ball club, put up a squawk in the second inning when Umpire Reardon called him out for running out of the baseline trying to avoid being tagged by Hornsby on Rhyne's grounder to second. A lot of good it did him.

Now they can be washed. The dirtiest uniforms in baseball have retired to the laundry and will be ready for a possible world's series.

113,133 Persons Saw Pirate Games, Set New Record

A NEW local attendance record for four consecutive days was set at Sportsman's Park during the four-day stay of the Pirates, 113,133 fans having been present during the series, according to figures issued by the Cardinal management.

Sunday's double-header drew the largest crowd, 35,978; at Monday's double-header the second largest gathering was present, the attendance being 29,522; yesterday was third with 24,354 and Tuesday's double bill drew the smallest number, 23,279.

Sam Breadon, president of the club, would announce no official total on the receipts but said the average price per seat was about $1. The total receipts would therefore be in the neighborhood of $113,000, of which the visitors received a cut, which was likewise unannounced.

EDDIE HELD OUTLASTS STRONG RIVALS TO WIN STATE GOLF TITLE

TED LONGWORTH SECOND, FOUR STROKES BEHIND

Harry Cooper, Who Tied Sarazen in Western Open, Falters on Last 4 Holes, Finished Third.

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 2.—St. Louis retained its supremacy in Missouri golf today as a result of the brilliant performance of Eddie Held, the Algonquin star, in defending his state championship over the Schifferdecker Club course, yesterday.

Held's task was not an easy one. As late as the sixty-seventh hole in the 72-hole struggle, two formidable professionals, Harry Cooper of Kansas City and Ted Longworth of Joplin, were tied with the St. Louis lad. Eddie's superior staying qualities enabled him to maintain his pace as the two others cracked on the last four holes of the long journey.

Held negotiated the 72 holes of medal play, which began Tuesday, in 285, one stroke over par for the entire distance.

Four strokes behind the champion, with 289, finished the youthful Schifferdecker professional, Ted Longworth, who up until the final round threatened to take Held for a trimming.

Cooper Finishes Third.

Trailing in third place was Harry Cooper, from Lakewood, Kansas City, who finished with a score of 290. Cooper, who is winner of the $10,000 Los Angeles tournament, and who tied with Gene Sarazen for second place in the Western open at Indianapolis last week, also was a dangerous contender up until the fourteenth hole when the trio was all square, but he, too, faltered under the strain and could not come back.

In outlasting his two rivals, in the last four holes of the tourney, Held took a birdie four on the fifteenth hole. Longworth sliced his second shot out of bounds and was forced to go down in seven. Cooper also had a little hard luck and required a six. The champion then had a two-stroke lead over Cooper and a three-stroke lead over Longworth.

On the sixteenth, Cooper missed an 18-inch putt and took a five, while Held and Longworth were down in four. Held was three up on each of his two opponents, who were tied.

Longworth Careless With a Putt.

All three had good drives and second shots on the seventeenth. Longworth's approach rested four feet from the pin. He tried for a birdie but the ball stopped four inches short of the cup. Certain that he would make the short putt on the next stroke, he tapped the ball carelessly, but it veered to the side of the hole and he was forced to take a five. Cooper and Held each took four. Held was then three strokes ahead of Cooper and four ahead of Longworth.

On the eighteenth, all three drives landed in the rough. Held's second shot was close to the pin, while Longworth's overran the green into a trap. Cooper, whose ball laid to the right of the green, dubbed his approach and landed in the trap for a bad lie. He looked up too soon on his next shot and the ball barely rolled onto the green. Longworth laid his approach to within a foot of pin. Cooper had to make a 20-foot putt to win over Longworth. His try overran the hole by four feet. He then putted in an effort to halve the match with the local pro, but missed again and as a result finished third in the tournament.

WRAY'S COLUMN

The Crucial Series.

THE Cardinals today began the final drive to prove to the fans their pennant caliber. The ordeal will endure through the Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburg series and if the Hornsbymen leave Pittsburg for the East on even terms with the others, the race is as good as won for St. Louis.

So say the figures. For better or worse here they are to take or leave—an analysis of the season's play which shows only one weak spot for our pennant bearers:

Season's record	75	54	.585
Home record	47	30	.610
Abroad record	29	24	.547
East road record	22	7	.759
Midwest r'd rec'd	7	17	.292

• • •

One Weak Spot.

IN OTHER words, the Cards have played tail-end baseball throughout the season on the road against the Western clubs and world's championship ball against the Eastern clubs on the road.

If the team, now at its peak, can break the Mid-west hoodoo, it will invade its weakest sector redhot with enthusiasm and confidence, and the knowledge that none of its rivals has equaled it in success against the remaining clubs to be faced.

But the Mid-West blot must be wiped out.

• • •

The Betting.

AS REFLECTED in professional betting the Cardinals now stand favorites, the following professional quotations being offered today against the respective candidates:

Cardinals, 3 to 2 to win, 1 to 2 a place.

Cincinnati, 2 to 1 to win, 7 to 10 place.

Pittsburg, 2 to 1 to win, 7 to 10 a place.

Chicago, 4 to 1 to win, 3 to 2 a place.

• • •

In the history of the National League in St. Louis, which dates back to 1876, it is doubtful if another local club was ever betting favorite to win the flag at this season of the year.

• • •

Spells Confidence.

ONE of the downtown "big stores" which handle bets on anything, today reported that an intimate personal friend of members of the Cardinals had approached him offering a considerable sum of money to bet against 4 to 1 that the Cardinals will win the world's series.

The speculator did not divulge the name of the individual, and, in fact, said the man had not represented himself as the Cards' agent; but that he knew him as an intimate of the baseball players. The speculator said the odds were about right, but did not take the bet.

The Cardinals have proved themselves determined and uphill scrappers and that spirit is worth chancing the family plate, if one must risk it.

• • •

Dempsey Gaining Ground.

BETTING may be wrong, but it goes on just the same. It's value as news is that it reflects the popular belief as to the relative strength of opponents.

In the case of Jack Dempsey, Wall street today quotes him at 5 to 11. A St. Louis turf exchange today offers 2 to 5 against his chances and 2 to 1 against Tunney.

• • •

Dempsey Cockey.

A FRIEND of Jack Dempsey and of Gene Normile received a letter from the champion which indicates that the title holder privately believes he has a cinch in Tunney.

The St. Louisan had written to ask what Jack thought of his own chances. Normile, so the St. Louisan said, replied, "Jack says to tell you he'll win inside of three rounds."

Today, however, we read that Tunney says he is going to "try to end the fight in half a round."

You take your pick as to which confidence is more solidly grounded.

15-YEAR-OLD GIRLS MEET IN FINAL OF JUNIOR GOLF EVENT

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. — Miss Helen MacMorran of Indian Hill and Miss Mildred Hackl of Midlothian will be the finalists in the women's Western junior golf championship today as a result of victories over Janet Byrnes of North Shore and Jean Searcy of Calumet, respectively, in the semifinal play.

The finalists are each 15 years old. In winning yesterday, Miss MacMorran finished 6 up on Miss Byrnes and Miss Hackl defeated Miss Searcy, 4 and 2.

$11,000 to $5,000 Bet That Dempsey Will Beat Tunney

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.

A BET of $11,000 against $5000 that Dempsey will defeat Tunney has been recorded by a Wall street firm.

The odds are the highest reported here to date. The firm says that at 2 to 1 there practically is as much Tunney money as Dempsey in sight.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 2. —Jack Dempsey was eager today for work after a 24-hour vacation.

With Martin Burke, the gangling New Orleans light heavyweight in service as a sparring partner, Dempsey expects to put more snap in his boxing. The addition of Burke to the staff gives Dempsey another capable shock absorber besides Big Bill Tate and Charley Anderson, Negro heavyweight.

Burke proved himself of valuable aid to Dempsey when the champion trained here five years ago for his match with Georges Carpentier. Burke, weighing 171 pounds, is built on the order of Bob Fitzsimmons. He is a good defensive boxer and also capable of throwing a few punches.

Dempsey endured 300 blows over the heart yesterday without pulling on a glove. He visited the children's seaside home, an institution for crippled and orphan boys and girls. He passed between the rows of cots, shaking hands and speaking a kindly word of cheer to every one of the 300 children.

One little girl came in for special attention. She was Mable Labarbee, a crippled mite from Oil City, Pa. When Dempsey passed her bed, he looked down at her and asked: "May I pick you up?" "Oh, please do," the child pleaded.

Dempsey lifted her in his brawny arms, hugged her close and the child laughed in pleasure.

Dempsey left the orphanage with the cheers of happy girls and boys ringing in his ears.

Tunney Predicts Quick Victory.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Gene Tunney thinks he is going to beat Jack Dempsey by a quick knock out.

"I'm going to end that fight in a half round," Tunney said here yesterday. "I would not have taken the match with Dempsey unless I felt sure that I would win and there is nothing that has happened since to make me change my mind.

"Ever since I came back from the war, I have planned to be the heavyweight champion of the world and I've worked with that end in view. Dempsey is a great fighter, but I feel that I'm his master and I'm going to win by a knockout."

MEXICAN LEADS IN CHESS TOURNAMENT

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Carlos Torre of Mexico City went into the lead in the Chess Masters' national tournament last night by defeating Lewis J. Isaacs of Chicago. The victory displaced Geza Maroczy of Budapest, throwing him into a tie with Frank Marshall of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Charles Jaffe of New York for second place.

I. Kashdan of New York trails the leaders by a fraction of a point.

Leon Stolzenberg of Detroit hung on to his lead in the finals of the Western tournament by drawing with J. T. Beckner of Louisville, Ky. Herman Hahlbohm of Chicago and Herman Steiner of New York also played to a draw.

Irving Spero of Cleveland defeated Orrin Frink of New York in the other match of the final competition.

Play in both the Western and national tournaments will be concluded tonight.

Schwartz Faces Josties, Today

Winner to Oppose Wray Brown in Triple A Tennis Final.

Three matches were played in the Triple A tennis tournament yesterday afternoon. In the only contest in the championship class, the team of Edward Serrano and Forrest Stuckman eliminated Elmer Schwarz and Harry Fassett. This match was hard fought, Serrano and Stuckman coming from behind to win in three sets. The score was 4—6, 6—0, 8—6.

Dr. R. Hollinshead and Harry Hotze reached the fourth round of the Class A doubles by defeating Dr. George Rice and Edgar Rice in straight sets, 6—4, 6—2. The team of Tolkacz and Smith eliminated Moult and Burst, recent winners of the Carondelet Park title, in a close second-round encounter in Class A. The score was 6—4, 8—6.

Fred O. Josties, a former Triple A champion, will meet Elmer Schwarz in the semifinal round of the championship singles this afternoon. The winner will oppose Wray Brown, the present champion, in the final round later in the week.

Greatest Rooting Spectacle In Local History Features Final Game With Pittsburg

25,000 Delirious Fans Indulge in Shower After Shower of Straw Hats and Cushions—Cheering Almost Continuous Throughout the Struggle Won by the Cards.

By William F. Allen.

It seemed on last Sunday when the "little world's series" between the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburg Pirates opened in Sportsman's Park that the 36,000 fans in the stands had reached the peak of baseball enthusiasm. Certainly modern baseball in St. Louis previously had produced no such rooting spectacle.

On Tuesday, 24,000 fans outdid Sunday's 36,000 under stimulus of an unexpected double victory which lifted the Cardinals to first place in the tight three-cornered race for the National League pennant.

But yesterday's 25,000 fans, delirious from realization of their fondest hope—four straight triumphs over the broken Buccaneers—hoarsened, winded and exhausted themselves in almost two hours of continuous cheering that reached its flood in the fifth inning, when the Cardinals forged to a one-run lead and in the sixth when the home bats clinched victory and drove the enemy's ace pitcher to the showers.

Those innings were much like the high moments of previous victories in the series, but intensified. There were three straw hat showers in the sixth, opened when Rogers Hornsby clouted the ball far into the right center field pavillion for a home run. The crowd had waited for its moment of homage to the leader who has placed a St. Louis National League team nearer a pennant than any other in the local history of the league. A perfect avalanche of sailors fell upon the field.

One Fan Throws Coat on Field.

One fan had spent his ammunition and in his excitement tossed his coat from the upper to the lower deck. Others had flung their straws in on other days and pitched their autumn's newest.

Those who had frazzled their vocal apparatus under the strain of the opening games cut loose with automobile horns. One fan shot off a revolver. Another rang a cowbell. And everyone cheered. The second and third straw hat showers of the same inning came when, inspired by Hornsby, the Cardinals fell upon Kremer, who had humiliated them with a shutout on Monday, for five straight hits and three runs, enough to make certain that the local pennant season would end in triumph.

At the game's end there was another straw hat shower and the rush of fans about the Cardinal dugout with shouted farewells and the prediction: "We'll see you again," which meant that St. Louis expects to re-welcome the Cardinals as the National League's champion in the 1926 world's series.

Southworth Scintillates.

The crowd's cheering capacity was called upon throughout the game. In each of the five innings that preceded their successful attack the Cardinals had put men on bases and the fans had yelled for runs. In each of the Pittsburg innings, also, the enemy had put men on and the crowd had called its encouragement to the Cardinal pitcher. That was enough to keep the turmoil incessant.

But the crowd also was called upon to applaud the great play of Southworth who ran all over right field, pulling down drives, getting under high flies and cutting off Pittsburg hits and runs. He captured no less than six difficult hoists in the first five innings. One was a backhand, glove catch of a liner that would have crashed into the wall. Another was a finger-tip catch with his back to the fence. Southworth was the fielding hero of the game.

In the first inning of the game, an airplane flew back and forth across the field at low level, but was given no attention by the crowd. Rogers Hornsby had tripled and the crowd was imploring Jim Bottomley to bring him home to start the march at the outset. Jim failed and the airplane sailed away.

Fans Going to Cincinnati.

Clarence Lloyd, secretary of the Cardinals thought his ticket troubles were over with yesterday's game, but found himself facing a new dilemma. The spectacular success of the Cardinals against the Pirates brought call upon call for the Cardinals game with the Cincinnati contenders in Cincinnati, next Sunday. A railroad is advertising a low round trip fare to Cincinnati for that day and apparently the Cardinals will not be without support in the stands on that day.

Seat Concessionaire Suffers.

The only unhappy man in the whole Cardinal baseball plant in the series was the seat cushion concessionaire. He distributed 6600 cushions on Sunday. At game's end, most of them were pitched onto the muddy field, or trampled under muddy feet. More than 500 were thrown into Grand boulevard. A smaller number were thrown into Spring avenue. Every one of the 6600 were unfit for use. He succeeded in getting 1900 cleaned for Monday's game, but even yesterday his full supply was not yet back in service.

It puzzled him to understand what satisfaction a fan gets in throwing a cushion into the mud. "And next day, if there is a spot on them, he hollers," the concessionaire mourned.

Marion Brokaw Scores Upset in Women's Tennis

Defeats Sylvia Knotbe in Municipal Title Tournament.

Marion Brokaw of the Forest Park Tennis Club defeated Sylvia Knothe, the Carondelet Park star, in the feature match of the women's municipal tennis championship at Forest Park yesterday afternoon. Three sets were required before Miss Brokaw won, 2—6, 8—6, 6—2.

The victory resulted in the first upset in the tournament. Miss Knothe recently won the municipal girls' title and was favored to win from her opponent yesterday. Miss Brokaw is a left-handed player and won her match by steadier placements.

Louis Rauch, the Fairground player, advanced to the third round by eliminating Johanna Bauman of O'Fallon Park. The score was 6—0, 6—3. A number of matches in the tournament will be played this afternoon. The schedule calls for first and second round matches in singles and first round contest in the women's doubles.

Leonard Denies He Called Boxing "Dirtiest Game"

Said He Did Not Authorize That Part of Statement Quoted in Magazine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Benny Leonard, retired lightweight champion of the world, yesterday emphatically denied to the New York World that he had ever said, or knowingly authorized the statement that "boxing is the dirtiest game in the world."

"You can go as far as you like in denying that I ever said or intended to say boxing is the dirtiest game in the world," said Leonard. "There are two reasons why I wouldn't say such a thing, but only one of them is enough. The first is that I don't believe it, and the other is that it made me what I am today.

"The rest of the interview in Collier's is substantially correct—that part where I give credit to boxing for what it did for me, etc. But the headline, of course, I didn't subscribe to, and that's where the knock is. Boxing is no parlor game; but then neither is football, polo or any other strenuous sport.

"Our own Mayor, Jimmy Walker, some time ago stressed the point that boxing itself is a clean, manly sport—that only those in the game can hurt it. Boxing, like everything else, has its objectionable characters, but these are rapidly being cleaned out. I'm for boxing, always have been, and always will be."

No one connected with Collier's, authorized to talk for publication, could be reached last night.

"Killed by Many Double Headers" Pirates' Epitaph

Pittsburg Has "Blown" Wonderful Pennant Chance, John B. Foster Writes.

By John B. Foster.

(Copyright, 1926.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—After a mediocre record during the month of August the Pittsburg Pirates made a poor start on the September home stretch by dropping the final game of the series in St. Louis.

If the Pirates lose their old pennant this year their friends and relatives can put on the little slab that marks the resting place of the season's ambitions: "Done by double-headers!"

If ever a team with a pennant in sight for the second successive year has been a flop on double-headers, these champions have undisputed right to claim that unpleasant distinction.

The Cardinals should weep. They knocked the Pirates for four straight goals, gained first place and set an attendance record of the series—and to cap it all, Rogers Hornsby came back with his old batting eye in the final game in a way that must have made the St. Louis fans chortle right out loud.

Not Playing in Best Form.

There was a time a few days ago when Pittsburg could have worried through to win a pennant by winning a little more than 50 per cent of its remaining games. Not now. They've blown that. Which shows they aren't playing like champions—and there are other little points which show things.

On the first day of August the Pirates stood at .579 and on Sept. 1 they had .573 in their percentage column. On Aug. 1 the Cards had .530 and on Sept. 1 they stood at .585. The Cincinnati Reds claimed .554 on Aug. 1, and .578 on Sept. 1. There isn't a great deal of difference between the percentages of the three clubs at the start of September, but look at what the Pirates lost, not because they dropped much, but for the reason they are playing negative lukewarm baseball.

Three weeks ago the Pirates had forged their way to the front and at the pace they were moving they should have finished the month of August with a percentage of .595 which would have been traveling de luxe and with meals three times daily.

Look Out for the Cubs.

But they didn't gain anything. On the first day of September they had receded six percentage points. That kind of baseball will drop them back to .567 by the end of the season and the next thing they know the Chicago Cubs will be beating them out.

True, the Pirates are getting all that the West can lash them with right now, but the West, with the exception of Chicago, has been giving them a beating all year and the Pirates needed to overcome that sort of thing if they expected to slide through success in the East.

Facing the best pitching there is in the National League, the champions are wilting. Their own pitchers never have been any too good and they are fading under the stiffness of the attack that is being waged against them.

As a team the champions are disappointing because of their weakness under stiff fire. American League men more and more insist they were right when they declare the Pirates were 1925 world series champions more by luck of the weather than by actual baseball superiority.

BETHLEHEM SOCCERITES SIGN ANOTHER STAR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 2.—The Bethlehem Soccer forces today were augmented by the addition of another new player when James Barrie arrived and attached his signature to a contract. The acquisition of Barrie increases the ranks of newcomers to the team for this season to five. For the last three seasons he was affiliated with Queens Bart Club, a first division Scottish League team, and can play either right or left fullback.

David Eadie came to the club from the Dominion, where he was rated as the best fullback in Canadian soccer. The other recent arrivals were David Edwards, a goalie; Thomas Gillespie and Edward Smith, forwards.

THREE-CORNERED SERIES FOR MINOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONS DISCUSSED

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 2.—President E. L. Keyser of the local Western League club stated last night that reports that Des Moines had made overtures for a minor league series with the champions of the Mint and Three-I Leagues were unfounded. He declared he had never proposed or never received a proposal for such a series.

"This series might be a good thing, however," he continued, "and if we win the pennant we would give it serious consideration. However, winning the pennant is our sole objective at this time."

Mac Smith's 277 Wins $1000 Purse In Chicago Open

Remarkable Steadiness Enables New Yorker to Set Record Score.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—MacDonald Smith of New York won the Chicago district open golf tournament over the Evanston Golf Club course yesterday by finishing with a total of 277 strokes for the 72 holes of medal play. Eddie Loos of Chicago was second, one stroke behind the leader, and Laurie Ayton and Al Espinosa, both of Chicago, tied for third with 284 strokes.

Walter Hagen of Pasadena, Fla., was fifth with 285.

By winning the tournament Smith annexed a $1000 purse. Although his play was not exactly spectacular, his steady shooting through the four 18-hole rounds on the par 70 course enabled him to establish a remarkable record. His scores for the tournament were 66-71-71-69—277. It is the third title Smith has won this year, previously having won the Metropolitan championship after a triple play-off with Gene Sarazen, and the Canadian open.

Smith's total of 277 was two strokes under the record set by Walter Hagen in winning the Western open tournament at Indianapolis last week and nine strokes better than the record of 286 for the last national open, set by Chick Evans in 1918.

CONNECTICUT YACHT WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

By the Associated Press.

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Sailed in flukey winds that put seamanship abilities to a severe test, the third race of the series for the International Star yacht championship was won yesterday by the Ardara, skippered by D. Starring of the Pequot Yacht Club, Southport, Conn., and representing the Central Long Island Sound fleet.

The Ardara twice covered the triangular course off here, a distance of 10¾ miles, in 2h 8m 37s, leading the Dona Bertha of San Diego, Cal., by only 14 seconds in an exciting finish. The Pacific Coast boat, while leading on the last reach, had the misfortune to be blanketed by a pleasure yacht and lost the advantage of what light winds were prevailing.

JOHNSTON THE BRILLIANT FIGURE IN REPULSE OF FRENCH NET STARS

ALL-AMERICA DOUBLES FINAL NOW ASSURED

Tilden and Chapin Oppose Little Bill and Chandler in U. S. Title Semifinal Match Today.

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 2.—France's opening stroke to terminate the long reign of American international tennis has failed and for the first time in three years there will be an all-America final for the United States doubles championship at the Longwood Cricket Club on Saturday.

Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams defeated Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, while William M. Johnston and his young partner, Edward G. Chandler, downed Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste yesterday. Each match went four sets.

Greatest Game of His Career.

Never before in his long career, said tennis critics today, had Johnston risen to more dazzling heights than in his sensational comeback against the two foremost singles players of Europe.

Matched against Johnston and Chandler for the first of the semi-final matches today was the strong Eastern team of William T. Tilden and Alfred H. Chapin Jr., while tomorrow Richards and Williams will be opposed by Lewis N. White and Louis Thalheimer of Texas.

Decisive Victories.

Sweeping back the tri-color attack with racquets which neither gave nor asked quarter, R. Norris Williams and Vincent Richards, defending titleholders, rode over the Wimbledon champions, Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, to win impressively at 6—1, 6—2, 1—6, 6—3, in the first of the battles.

William M. Johnston, veteran California star, then fought back from a first set route with his collegiate partner, Edward C. Chandler, to complete America's day of victory by overwhelming Jean Borotra and Rene La Coste with a sensational finish, 0—6, 6—1, 6—3, 6—2.

Thus, the drive of France was checked before the semifinals by American players and for the first time since Borotra and La Coste amazed netdom by stopping William T. Tilden and Richards in the national indoor championship last winter, followers of the net game on this side of the Atlantic were given definite assurance that America's Davis Cup defenders still retain all the commanding power and skill under which they swept to decisive victory a year ago.

Two More Severe Tests.

The two greatest tests are still to come. Next week, the international rivals lock at Philadelphia in the five-match struggle for possession of the Davis Cup, held in this country since 1920. Immediately afterward, Tilden will take up defense of his national singles title against the third and final attempt of France to terminate the six-year reign of world tennis by members of the "big four."

But the wide margins by which Richards, Williams and Johnston outplayed their opponents today left no doubt that the French quartet will encounter as stubborn a defense as they strove in vain to break down a year ago.

Earning the right to face Richards and Williams on Friday in the upper half of the draw, Lewis N. White and Louis Thalheimer of Texas for the first time since the opening of the tournament come through with a straight set victory today, defeating the young New York combination, Kenneth Appel and John Van Ryn, 6—3, 6—4, 6—4.

In the lower half, Tilden and Alfred H. Chapin Jr. played greatly improved tennis, crashing through the far West defense of James Davies and Phil Neer to win, unextended, at 6—3, 6—4, 6—4.

GREB SUBSTITUTES FOR BERLENBACH IN LOUGHRAN BOUT

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. — A light heavyweight contest between Paul Berlenbach, former champion, and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, scheduled for the night of Sept. 11 at Ebbetts Field, has been postponed until Berlenbach can rest from his recent severe ring campaign.

It was announced today that Harry Greb of Pittsburg would meet Loughran on that night.

English Soccer Scores.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—League football matches played in England yesterday resulted as follows:

English League, first division:
Arsenal 2, Bolton Wanderers 1.
Bury 5, Everton 2.

Newcastle League, second division:
Manchester City 4, Portsmouth 0.

English League, third division, Southern section:
Bristol City 4, Newport County 1.
Brighton and Hove A., 1; Crystal Palace 1.
Gillingham 2, Queens Park Rangers 2.
Plymouth Argyle 3, Northampton 0.
Watford 1, Coventry City 0.

The scheduled game in the third division, Northern section, between Durham City and Halifax Town, was not played.

HORNSBY'S ANSWERS

Man on first base, none out. Batter hits a slow roller to third baseman and is thrown out at first, the other runner reaching second safely. Does the batter get credit for a sacrifice?—H. T. S.

Not unless he bunted the ball.

Batter makes a hit, crosses first base and turns to the left to come back. May he be tagged before he gets back?—A. C. F.

He is entitled to get back safely, provided he does not make a palpable break for second. He may turn either way.

UNCLE ROBBIE TAKES A NAP AND RICKEY SIGNS STAR PLAYER

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 2.—President Joe Goebel of the Peoria Fans' Association announced today that the St. Louis Cardinals had purchased Harry Layne, Tractor fleet outfielder, for $5000. The Cardinals agreed to an immediate payment of $3500 and another payment of $1500 if Layne makes good before May 1, 1927. In landing the Peoria flychaser, the Cardinals beat the Brooklyn Dodgers to it, the Dodgers having had an option on his purchase up until last Monday, but failing to exercise it in time. Later the Brooklyn management wired they wanted Layne but in the meantime the deal had already been consummated with St. Louis.

President Goebel also announced that Labor day had been set aside here as memorial day for Christy Matthewson. Quincy will be here for a double-header and members of the local post of the American Legion will have charge of the program.

WRAY BROWN WILL PAIR WITH STUCKMAN IN DISTRICT TENNIS

Entries for the St. Louis District tennis championship for men will close tomorrow noon. Players may enter before that time at 823 Locust 921 Locust and 1127 Pine street. The fee for singles is $1.50 and for doubes $2 a team. Play in the singles will open at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Wray Brown, favored to win the singles title, has secured a new partner for the District doubles. He will pair with Forrest Stuckman. During the 1926 season Stuckman has shown an improved game over last season. The new combination will no doubt cause trouble in the doubles event.

Ted Drewes, District singles champion and holder of the doubles with Ed Serrano, will compete, as will many other top ranking stars. Among the late entries are those of Karl Hodge, Charles McMillan, Fred Josties, Richard Rosebrough, Proctor Wright, Teddy Eggman, Robert Norton and William Bell.

SOUTH AFRICA NET OFFICIAL SAYS LENGLEN IS NOT WELCOME

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The attitude of South African lawn tennis circles toward Suzanne Lenglen, says a Johannesburg dispatch, has changed since she became a professional and her proposed visit to South Africa is declared to be no longer desired.

"She is out of court," President Lamb of the South African Lawn Tennis Union remarked after she became a professional. He added the union had offered to pay her parents' traveling expenses so as to facilitate her visit.

GIBBONS NARROWLY ESCAPED INJURY IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Sept. 2.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, and one-time contender for the crown of Jack Dempsey, accompanied by his wife and five children, narrowly escaped serious injury four miles west of here today when the car in which they were returning to St. Paul from their northern Minnesota summer home was struck, and badly damaged by a truck.

None of the Gibbons family was injured. The truck was thrown into a ditch.

W. A. Owners to Meet.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 2.—Western Association moguls will meet here next Sunday morning to decide whether the season will be closed Sept. 19 or closed with the Labor day games next Monday. Arrangements for the play-off series also will be made. It appears that the play-off will be between Fort Smith and Joplin, as the Twins now hold a 6½-game lead over Springfield, with only 12 more games remaining on the regular schedule.

Herman Floored 5 Times by Bass

Victor Acclaimed Featherweight Champion to Succeed Kaplan.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia featherweight, was given the judges' decision over Babe Herman, California, at the end of a 10-round bout here last night. Herman was floored five times, once for the count of nine in the third round. Each weighed 125½ pounds.

Both men were cautious until the third round, when Bass opened his attack in earnest. In that round Herman went down three times. He was floored again in the fourth for the count of seven. Thereafter until the tenth round both men slugged and clinched.

In the tenth Bass made a furious attack to the head and body and again floored the Californian for the count of seven. Herman in a last attempt to connect missed a left to the head and dived over Bass, sprawling on the canvas as the bell ended the bout.

Cheers greeted Bass' victory and he was hailed as the new featherweight champion and the logical successor of Louis (Kid) Kaplan, who recently relinquished the title because he has outgrown the weight.

KUNZ GAINS VICTORY IN HORSESHOE TOURNEY

Edwin Kunz of the Curlees team of the Municipal Horseshoe Pitchers' League, won the first annual horseshoe tournament held in conjunction with the Midwest Fair at Fairmount Park.

Of the eight players who won prizes six were members of the Curlees. H. Dietz, Richard Kunz and Fred Senn of the Curlees finished second, third and fourth; H. G. Way of Ashland, Ill., took fifth prize, while L. Monken of the Curlees finished sixth. G. Fortschneider of the Buster Browns and G. Klemme of the Curlees finished seventh and eighth.

MINOR LEAGUES MAY PLAY TITLE SERIES

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 2.—Three Midwest minor leagues may mix in a post-season championship series, according to negotiations under way in the Three-I, Western and Mint Leagues.

Bay City, Mint League leader, and Des Moines, leading the Western League, have made overtures to the Three-I League for the champions in the three leagues to battle in a post-season series, to be played about mid-September.

A poll was being taken in the cities constituting the first division of the Three-I League to find out if such a post-season series would be agreeable.

Springfield, now leading the Three-I League, would be a party to such a series if the Senators keep their lead to the end of the campaign.

The Mint League winds up its season Monday, while the Western League closes its campaign Sept. 17. The Three-I race ends Sept. 12.

Original Iceman Of Football Will Join Red Grange

Eddie Tryon, Noted Colgate Player, Finally Succumbs to Lure of Big Money.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Eddie Tryon, Colgate star halfback, who said last year he would not play professional football for $10,000 a game, has signed a contract to play in "Red" Grange's professional league. He will team with the Illinois iceman in the backfield of the New York Yankees, American League professional football team, Charles C. Pyle announces.

When the Colgate ace doffed his togs at the conclusion of the Brown University game in Province, R. I., last fall, he said: "This is my last football game. I wouldn't play professional football if they offered me $10,000 a game."

Approached later with an offer to team with Grange in New York, he again declined. Along with Swede Oberlander of Dartmouth, and Doug Wycoff, Georgia Tech Thunderbolt, Tryon refused the offer of Tim Callahan, former Yale captain, to play professional football in Florida.

"The sport world snapped to attention last December when a man who claimed to be Tryon announced at New Haven that he was planning to join the New York Giants professional team. He was arrested as an impostor.

During his four consecutive years of play Tryon piled up a total of 350 points for Colgate. He led the Eastern intercollegiate scores in eight games with 111 points last season.

Tryon beat Grange to the idea of training for football by peddling ice, as he began at the age of 14 and continued his work every summer until his graduation.

Poweshiek Wins Puppy Field Test

Sixteen-Months-Old Setter Captures Northern States Juvenile Event.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn., Sept. 2.—Twenty-two puppies raced through the hot sun and broiling prairies of Western Minnesota for the honor of winning the handsome trophy of the Northern States Bird Dog Club and it was one of the best early season Derby events that has ever been seen anywhere at any time. The winner of the stake concluded yesterday was Poweshiek, a handsome little white and black setter owned by C. T. Carney of Des Moines, Ia.

He was easily the class of the stake and took down the purse with the field of 21 trailing behind.

Poweshiek is only 16 months old, but he proved here that he is a candidate for major circuit competition. He not only showed class but he also proved that he can point prairie chickens.

Unomont's Chick Second.

Second to him was Unomont's Chick, a Georgia-bred dog, owned by W. H. Bean of Stillwater, Minn., and third went to the setter, Miss Peggy, owned by C. F. Aldrich of St. Paul, Minn. The second dog was perhaps as good as Poweshiek in speed and range, but the latter had the advantage in handling in the game.

Miss Peggy M. is not a new one on the circuit. Last spring she won four or five times in the puppy trials of Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, but here she was obliged to give way to the Northern start, who made his first appearance of the season.

All three of the dogs will meet again next week in the Master Derby, and with the breaks in their favor, any one of them is likely to be heard from in the money.

A Carefree Home

ONE of the tendencies of the times is to delegate the mechanical duties of home upkeep to a central plant by living in apartments.

Comfort and convenience are thus promoted and more time found to enjoy the real home.

Nor does community living in St. Louis' desirable apartments detract from the privacy of home life. They are built to give each family a home apart. In short, they are ideal homes.

Readers of the Post-Dispatch are given every opportunity to select such homes easily through the "Houses, Flats, Etc., For Rent" and "Apartments For Rent" columns, where desirable high-class vacancies are listed to meet the demands of discriminating homeseekers.

Call the agents or owners of these properties and let them simplify your home finding by their courteous adequate service.

Did that last cigar have a bitter taste?

ONE of the reasons why a cigar has a raspish, bitter taste is because it's made of under-ripe tobacco. You get the same bitterness when you eat an under-ripe peach, or pear, or apple.

You don't get that raspish, bitter taste when you smoke a Mapacuba. You won't get it because we don't use under-ripe tobacco. We don't use over-ripe tobacco, either!

Only carefully selected, perfectly ripened leaves from the middle of the plant are good enough for this cigar and they are the only leaves we use. Fact is, this is the only tobacco Nature intended you to smoke.

All that we ask is this: Try the Mapacuba! Compare it with any other cigar you've ever smoked at any price You'll know then that you do get more pleasure out of a cigar when it is made from carefully selected ripe tobacco!

EXPLAINS MANNER IN WHICH ORES WERE PUT INTO GROUND

Minnesota Scientist Says Deposits Forced From Inside of Earth by Hot Water.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 2.—A University of Minnesota scientist believes his theories of the way metal ores are deposited in the ground and the places where they may be found, will become accepted as law in geologic science. He is Dr. W. H. Emmons, head of the department of geology.

The theories which Dr. Emmons has worked out during 20 years of research, have attracted so much attention that he has been asked to explain them before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers and the Society of Economic Geology, both meeting in New York next winter.

"Complete mineral veins are originally formed," Dr. Emmons said, "by hot water bubbling up from inside the earth along the face of underground masses of hot rock pushing toward the surface. These hot springs contain various metals in solution which are deposited along the course of the stream of water in the inverse order of their solubility.

"Thus the metal that is least soluble will be deposited first and will be found near the bottom of a vein."

Book Shop to Act as Means of Organizing Individualists Against Collectivist Mania.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—London's Socialist book store is to have an anti-Socialist competitor. Its slogan is "Back to Herbert Spencer, and its moving spirit is Sir Ernest Benn, the publisher. His associates in the enterprise include a ship owner, a Liverpool banker, a Member of Parliament and an ironmaster.

"We shall certainly not stock Marx," Sir Ernest said, "but it is difficult to give offhand a list of sound thinkers."

Defining sound literature, Sir Ernest said, "it is literature which seeks to explain the present economic system and show how it works rather than advocate new systems.

"We shall sell," he said, "the sound economic and social writers of an earlier generation before so many economists went off on the wrong track. Cannan is sound enough in the present generation, and so, I suppose, was Mashall, but we want to get back, especially to Herbert Spencer. No doubt we shall go in to some extent like our Socialist rivals for a drama and poetry section but the main purpose of our book shop will be to organize individualists against the collectivist mania."

$42,490 Highland Paving Job Low Bid.

The Stocker Gravel and Construction Co. of Highland is the low bidder on paving work to be done in sections 41X and 42, the bid being $42,490 for the entire work. Section 41X is for the subway under the Pennsylvania Railroad track, where the highway now crosses it at the grade just east of Highland, and section 42 is to include paving through Highland and for a short relocation; to eliminate curves and provide for a subway approach east of the city.

Former Postmaster's Funeral Held.

Funeral services were conducted at Highland, Ill., today for Robert Kamm, former Postmaster of that city. Mr. Kamm was 66 years old and was born at Highland. He was engaged in the meat business, was vice president of the First National Bank and connected with the Highland Milling Co. and the Stocker Gravel Co. SALESMEN, SOLICITORS, ETC.

A SINCERE SALESMAN

We have no $25,000 a year jobs for salesmen.

No salesman can become one of our executives in a month.

We are not looking for the quick, slick, clean-up salesman.

We do not sell real estate, insurance, or house-to-house.

We call only on Executives in business.

We do have AVERAGE salesmen earning $8,000.

We do promote salesmen with Sales Records to Executives.

A connection in this organization means securing a permanent territorial franchise, with a nationally known organization. A proven future without investment, except your brains, for active salesmen between 27 and 40 years of age.

I will interview privately and employ two men for nearby territories, so do not consider this unless you are prepared to start AT ONCE, should a connection be agreed upon.

Let's get down to "brass tacks." We only want to interview salesmen who are sincere in their desire to make a permanent connection. Remember, no quick clean-up here, but an opportunity which you will immediately recognize after talking it over with me.

Telephone or write W. E. BLACKSHAW, Statler Hotel. (c5)

LIVE MEN—With autos, to sell unusual auto accessories; absolutely new; sells on sight; no competition; experience not necessary; whole or part time. Call today, 2328 Locust. (c1)

SPECIALTY SALESMEN—We have the best direct selling proposition on the market; experience not necessary; we teach you; call or write Feltman & Curme Shoe Stores Co., 304 Missouri Theater Bldg. (44)

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Why work at desk, counter or in a shop at a meager salary when others are making big money? You can do the same if you have the backbone to break away from that rut. Call and let me explain our proposition and show you how to make $500 per month or better. 9 to 12 only. OLIVE STREET TERRACE R. CO., 1608 Boatmen's Bank Bldg. Ask for Mr. Griese. (c7)

BRAND-NEW FLATS.
Something Different
Something Better!
At 5015 Chippewa (in new Northampton, 1 block west of 4000 S. Kingshighway) I have a number of very exceptional 4-family flats.
These flats are 4 and 5 rooms and breakfast room, and have separate stone entrances, sleeping porches and craftex walls, of course, the floors are of hardwood and there is furnace heat and tile bath, also brick garages are available.
The appearance of every building is different—and will appeal to those tired of the usual row of duplicate 4-family flats and yet these flats with their new and attractive features rent as low as the ordinary 4 and 5-room flats.
See representative on premises today.

$18,750
Will Buy One-half of This Spanish Duplex Residence

Large living room, dining room and kitchen on first floor; 3 bedrooms and tile bath on second floor. It has separate en... trances, basements and yards.

Each family has the privacy of a single home. From the ground to the roof is a 13-inch soundproof wall.

It is located in the center of a develop... ment that is making St. Louis take notice. Just west of Brentmoor, Forest Ridge, im... mediately adjoining Polo Drive and only 5 minutes directly west of Forest Park.

In Davis Place you have neither soft coal smoke nor garbage wagons. The re... strictions were carefully studied.

The streets are improved with noiseless, reinforced concrete.

The Kirkwood-Ferguson car goes through the center of the property and intersects with the Clayton line.

Davis Place is north of Clayton Road, 7600 west, accessible from Clayton Road, Wydown Boulevard and Forsyth. Owing to Hanley Road being improved, drive to Clayton Courthouse, then south 4 blocks.

Visit Davis Place any evening (beauti... ful ride), or phone and let us explain how every dollar invested in a duplex will earn 6 per cent interest for you.

A very prominent banker is building a duplex in Davis Place. Its estimated cost for ground and duplex will be in the neighborhood of $75,000.

A number of duplexes will be for rent.

NEW BUILDING TO RISE AT 12TH AND LOCUST

Corner, Syndicate Contracted to Buy for $500,000, Will Be Improved.

Various building plans for the northeast corner of Twelfth boulevard and Locust street, now occupied by a garage, are under consideration by a syndicate, which has contracted to purchase the property at a price approximating $500,000.

A. M. Frumberg is attorney for the syndicate, which appears in the deal as the Delsa Realty Co. It is substantially the same interest, Frumberg said, as that which, under the name of the Chestnut Street Realty Co., recently bought the Title Guaranty Building at Seventh and Chestnut streets.

He said the names of those supplying the capital would not be made known at this time, and that the incorporators whose names appear in the record are only employes.

The Essex Realty Co., controlled by William K. Bixby, is the seller of the Twelfth boulevard property. It fronts 83½ feet on Twelfth by 100 feet on Locust.

Frumberg said the intending purchasers had not decided what would be done with the property, but that several interests had made offers for certain uses of it. A theater, an office building, to be occupied in part by an industrial concern, and a wholesale house are possible uses to which it may be put, he says, and a banking institution has made a bid for the first-floor space.

Missouri Firm Buys Eastern Zinc Company.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The St. Joseph Lead Co. of Missouri todayq purchased the property, equipment and miner rights of the New York Zinc Co., Inc., which has an output of 200 tons of ore daily. The property embraces 7800 acres, including mineral rights in Jefferson, Franklin and St. Lawrence counties, the central point of operation being Edwards, N. Y. General offices of the St. Joseph Lead Co. are at 250 Park avenue, New York.

Community Fund Pledges Due.

The last installments of pledges to the Community Fund were due yesterday, and statements are being mailed to all subscribers. On Sept. 1, $1,290,111 of the $1,643,117 subscribed for 1926 had been paid, representing 78.5 per cent of the total.

WOMAN COMMON LAW WIFE OF JUSTICE, COURT DECIDES

William E. Gould of Webster Groves Ordered to Pay Her $25 a Week.

Mrs. Rose Fisher Gould, 4615A Delmar boulevard, yesterday was declared to be the common law wife of Justice of the Peace William E. Gould of Webster Groves, by Circuit Judge Charles Breuer of Union, Mo., sitting in Circuit Judge Wurdeman's court at Clayton. Gould was ordered to pay her $25 a week maintenance. He asked for a new trial, but his motion was denied. His attorneys announced they would appeal.

Gould and Mrs. Fisher deserted their respective mates in Massachusetts in 1907 and went to Webster Groves, where they lived as man and wife until February, 1924, when Gould left Mrs. Rose Gould and their daughter and married Mrs. Marcella Blair, a divorcee. He had contended that although they lived together Mrs. Rose Gould was not his common law wife.

JOHN CANNON ADVANCED BY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC

"Vice President" Added to Title of General Manager He Has Held for a Year.

John Cannon yesterday entered on his new duties as vice president and general manager of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. Hitherto he has been general manager, being appointed to that position a year ago. He is a native of Cairo, Ill., where he began his railroad career with the Illinois Central in 1886. He went to work for the Missouri Pacific in 1905, as superintendent at Coffeyville, Kan. He has served also as superintendent at Little Rock, Ark. and at De Soto, Poplar Bluff and Jefferson City, Mo.

Mussolini Praises U. S. Crew.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 2.—Premier Mussolini has received and conversed at length with Capt. Paul C. Grening of the American steamer President Harding, whose crew, after a 36-hour fight in the middle of the Atlantic, last October, saved all the members of the crew of the Italian freight steamer Ignacio Florio. The Premier asked Grening for details of the rescue and paid tribute to the heroism of the American commander and his crew.

Admiral Died of Natural Causes.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 2.—An inquest into the death of Rear Admiral George H. Barber, third in command of the navy's medical corps, has decided that he came to his death from natural causes. The Coroner's investigation was requested by the Navy Department after his death in his apartment here Aug. 22. Navy officials explained the request was merely as a matter of form.

Hay Fever Leaves At Height of Season

Former Victim Writes "Never Felt Better"

All who suffer from the distressing symptoms of hay fever will find a message of comfort in the following letter from Tom Hoshour of 2024 Broadway, Indianapolis. Mr. Hoshour writes:

"After suffering from the hay fever for five years, I purchased a bottle of Dr. Fugate's Hay Fever and Asthma Remedy. At the time I started taking the medicine, I was suffering terribly, to the extent that my eyes were burning and my lips were so sore from my nose running that I could hardly touch them.

"In three days I began to improve. From then on, each day I felt a little better. By the time I had taken the whole bottle my hay fever had entirely left me.

"At present I do not have the least touch of hay fever. Last Saturday I motored from Indianapolis to Cincinnati. As you know this was an extremely hot day and the dust was so thick that my car was completely covered. At no time did I suffer in the least from hay fever. In fact, I have never felt better in my life.

"I feel so grateful that I will be most pleased to have anyone write me regarding the medicine as all hay fever sufferers should know about this wonderful remedy."

This remarkable remedy excels because it removes the CAUSE of hay fever. Contains no narcotics or habit-forming drugs. Sold on the guarantee to refund your money if it does not give relief. For complete information write us, or, if you are now suffering, wire only your name and address at our expense.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

B. K. R.—Easter Sunday in 1927 will be on April 17.

Q. H. L.—William Wordsworth was the poet laureate of England from 1843 to 1850. Robert Bridges is the present poet laureate.

CURIOUS READER.—The dirigible Shenandoah is not known to have had a mascot on board when the dirigible was wrecked.

J. P. M.—Emancipation Day for Negroes in the United States is celebrated on Jan. 1. Abraham Lincoln issued his Emancipation proclamation Jan. 1, 1863.

READER OF P.-D.—The reunion celebration of the Thirty-fifth division of the United States Army will be held in Jefferson City, Mo., on Sept. 25 and 26.

SCIENTIST.—A species of wood called balsa wood will absorb water to the extent of 500 or 600 per cent. Unless this wood is treated with preservatives it does not last very long.

TROUBLED. — Sulphur stains caused by sulphur dioxide used in fumigating are in reality bleached spots. Your suit will probably have to be dyed to restore the color.

HOUSE OF DAVID.—Regarding information on the customs and organization of the House of David, consult the Post-Dispatch of May 6, 1923, on file at the Public Library.

J. A. S.—We refer you to the Pilots' Association, with an office in the Merchants-Laclede Building. The association may be able to trace the pilot who worked on Mississippi River boats about 1850.

C. D. S.—Consult the classified section of the telephone dirtcory for a list of bridge building companies who may be able to give you information about the type of work you desire.

FOND MOTHER.—Consult the Woman's Day Committee, Greater St. Louis Exposition, St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, for information about the baby show to be held Sept. 9.

L. E. V.—The sun-dog is a bright spot about 40 to 45 diameters of the sun distant, and at the same elevation of the sun above the horizon. The origin of the name for this phenomena is not known.

R. W. S.—Chicago is larger than St. Louis in area and population. Chicago covers 124,604 acres of ground and has 2,995,239 population. St. Louis has an area of 39,040 acres and 821,543 population. Population figures are those of the 1924 census estimate.

C. M. B.—The weight per gallon of ice cream varies with the ingredients used to make the ice cream, such as nuts, fruits, cream or milk, or flavoring. The United States Bureau of Standards says that ice cream will vary in weight from 4½ to 5¾ pounds per gallon.

A. A. A.—Dollar bird may be used as a slang term in United States to describe the American eagle, but it really is the name of a bird in Australia which is also called the roller. This bird is blue and black in plumage and has a round white spot on its wings which shows when the bird is flying.

AMATEUR.—Boiler encrustation may be removed by several compounds. You will be safer if you purchase a prepared compound from your hardware dealer and follow the directions given for using that compound.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

R. A. K.—You may try taking one or two aproac tablets three times daily as a stimulant for a man in your condition.

JOHN ANXIOUS. — Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and repeat your question if you want the names of several physicians who treat the disease you mention.

LUCY.—We do not know of any safe preparation for restoring the color to gray hair. You should consult an expert in hair dyeing. Such work, when done by an amateur, may cause serious trouble and do much damage.

J. H.—There is no medicine to our knowledge that will dissolve gravel. The nearest approach to a medicine of that kind is natural lithia water, or as a compromise, a glass of water three or four times a day in which one or two lithia tablets have been dissolved.

THANK YOU.—Ammonia is not an active poison in the ordinary sense, but it is a very active irritant. It should never be taken in large doses. The best form for internal use is aromatic spirits of ammonia. This should be taken in very small doses and should be well diluted.

V. S.—We do not know of a physician who specializes in cases such as you describe. However, it is part of the work done by genito-urinary surgeons and one of them may be able to help you. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, repeating your question, and we will forward to you the names of several such specialists.

H. D.—Huntington's disease is a form of chorea. Other names used for it are St. Vitus dance, paralysis agitous and Sydenham's disease. Huntington's disease is a chronic form of chorea, distinctly hereditary, in which generally all the muscles of the body are involved. It is named for the person who first distinguished it from other forms of chorea. The majority of cases recover, but relapses are frequent. It is essentially a disease of childhood, but older people may have it. Syphilis is not usually listed as one of its causes. Persons of rheumatic tendency, nervous temperament, or those who suffer from eye-strain, worms, fright or are liable to mental excitmeent, are subject to the disease.

P.-D. READER. — The disease called Parkinson's disease is known also as shaking palsy. It is a rather rare nervous disease of unknown pathology. Its characteristics are tremors, loss of muscular power and sometimes mental impairment. It is usually an affliction of old age. It is not known to be of syphilic origin. Complete recovery is very rare, but improvement of a stricken person's condition may be obtained if the disease is treated as soon as it appears. It does not tend to shorten life, nor is it hereditary. The name Parkinson's disease is derived from the name of the person who first diagnosed it and described it for the medical profession. It is not contagious or infectious.

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE SUIT FILED BY MRS. MIESSNER

Wife, Who Found Husband With Another, Asks for Support of Self and Children.

Suit for separate maintenance was filed in Circuit Court today by Mrs. Myrtle Miessner, 4607 Lexington avenue, against her husband, George, clarinet player in a Grand boulevard vaudeville theater, who was arrested in a Delmar boulevard rooming house last Friday in company with Mrs. Ella Erskine, 33 years old, of 743 Harvard avenue, University City, on complaint of Mrs. Miessner, who went to the place with police and her attorneys.

Miessner receives an income of $300 a month as a musician, the petition states, and the court is requested to allow a reasonable sum for the support of Mrs. Miessner and their two children, Robert, 10 years old, and Dorothy, 7. Attorneys for Miessner filed an entry of appearance and a general denial of the charges. Mrs. Erskine is not named in Mrs. Miessner's petition.

Police Court charges against Miessner and Mrs. Erskine, growing out of the arrests at the rooming house, were dismissed by Judge Beck last Tuesday when Mrs. Miessner declined to prosecute. Mrs. Erskine is the wife of Lucien Erskine, public school teacher. They have two children.

Turkey's Ruling on Trade Chambers

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—Foreign Chambers of Commerce here have been informed officially by the Department of Commerce that they must change their names to club or association and conform to the law governing associations if they wish to continue activities. It is understood that the organizations are united in opposition to the order, contending that their names have become of international usage.

ONE MAN who knows what he is talking about can and does control hundreds who merely guess in the dark. He may be directing a business, preaching from a pulpit, voting in Congress, inventing in a laboratory, or editing a great newspaper. No matter what he does, his continued influence depends on his knowledge of facts and events. The moment he substitutes guesswork, people lose their respect for him.

A man of this type has only one reason for reading The Literary Digest. It does not pretend to amuse him with fiction. But it does give him facts—from every corner of the world, and about every great branch of human activity—science, discovery, politics, religion, the fine arts, sports, exploration, commerce, literature. It tells him "the tidings as they roll"—and helps him to remain among those who control the world we live in.

The Digest in 1,400,000 American Homes

No small reason for the leadership of America in world events today is the fact that in more than 1,400,000 of our homes there are men and women who read the "Digest." They read it for a purpose—not simply from the impulse to be amused. The "Digest" is part of their equipment for leadership and control. It is their sourcebook of current events. It lays the world before their eyes each week—and does so with interest, skill, and unflagging accuracy.

For instance, if you will turn to the panel on the left, you will see listed some of the outstanding news-features in The Literary Digest for this week, September 4th Number.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Highly optimistic statements emanating from responsible quarters offset almost entirely the effect of selling by those who were inclined to take profits today, the net result being only minor changes in the average run of prices for stocks. The volume of sales was smaller on the approach of the three-day holiday. The money situation was encouraging, the call rate holding at 4½ per cent all day. However, the failure of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank to announce the action taken on its rediscount rate caused some apprehension, but this was explained by the fact that hereafter all such announcements are scheduled to come from the system's headquarters in Washington. Bonds continued to reflect a tone of optimism throughout, although the turnover did not expand to any substantial degree. United States Government obligations were slightly higher and the low coupon rate for the New York State issues offered this morning restored confidence in the higher grade securities.

Bank and Banker Comment.

"News developments today continued to be of a generally favorable character. A statement credited to George F. Baker upon his return from Europe that he was glad the public is beginning to recognize the true value of New York Central created an unusually large demand for that stock which carried the price up to 144, the highest level it has attained for nearly 20 years. While Mr. Baker's statement helped Central, it had a depressing effect on United States Steel. The head of the First National Bank said he did not expect the Steel Corporation to do anything extra for stockholders in the near future. Steel common broke below 150 for a loss of more than a point. Another statement eminating from banking quarters which attracted wide attention was one contained in the National City Bank's review saying there are prospects of record breaking business this fall.

Rails Still Prominent.

"Railroad issues held the lead throughout the entire session, although the heaviest buying took place in Central, the Wheeling & Lake Erie stocks and New Haven. Atchison and a few of the others which have been strong of late were subjected to considerable profit-taking. Studebaker was a feature in the industrial group, advancing more than a point. Foundation, which had advanced quite sharply earlier in the week, quieted down somewhat. It is reported that a new pool has been formed in the issue and that the stock which had been overhanging the market since the March break has been absorbed. Brooklyn Edison ran up several points in the early hours on reports that the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Co. is conducting power negotiations with that concern. With the exception of such specialties as those referred to above, the market was somewhat of a preholiday affair. The volume of sales fell off and price ranges were cut down to fractions in most instances.

Reaction in Exchanges.

"French and Belgian and Italy exchange rates reacted after yesterday's advance, but support was sufficient at slightly lower levels to check the decline. Lire fell sharply in London, but had recovered to a large extent when our market opened and continued the rally later. French and Belgian rates were 3 to 5 points lower. Sterling was in demand in response to buying in London, believed to be preliminary to cotton purchases in this country.

OILS IRREGULAR ON CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Although many issues that have usually been active were neglected in connection with a pre-holiday character to the market, numerous curb stocks were in special demand from the beginning of business and a surprisingly large number moved up to new high records. Among these were Singer Mfg., which rose 11 points, selling above 400 and American Gas and Electric, which rose over 4 points to above 102. Freshman Radio also made a new high record, selling at 30½.

Public Utilities reflected bullish activities in many issues, the dealings in that group again being on a large scale, with a decreasing supply in the leading stocks. Electric Bond and Share moved up over a point and Northern Ohio Power, which closed yesterday at 14¼, advanced to 16. There was a large volume of business also in Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, which made a substantial gain. Commonwealth warrants, which were traded in in small lots, rose 3 points to 65½.

Oil stocks were irregular, many issues making gains in the early trading and then reacting. Humble Oil, which advanced ¼ to 62, dropped a point but became firm after that movement. Prairie Oil made a fractional advance and there was a special demand again for Venezuela Petroleum. Standard Oil of Indiana and Standard of New York both held close to their recent trading positions. Creole was fairly active around yesterday's final price.

Industrials were also irregular. Glen Alden Coal dropped 3 points on a few transactions, while Trans-Lux which was a strong feature yesterday continued in demand and made a fractional gain. Durant was again heavy and declined under small sales. General Motors was heavily traded, but over only a narrow range. Erie Steam Shovel, one of the few additions to the trading, made a new high record.

A feature of the market was the strength and activity in many bonds, among them being the Russian dollar bonds, in which there has been a suddenly developed demand.

LOCAL STOCK TRADE QUIET ON EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS STOCK EXCHANGE, Sept. 2.—Boyd-Welsh sold at 43½ or unchanged on the local market today. Scruggs and Sieloff Packing also were unchanged, as was Ely-Walker in first transactions. Some Skouras changed hands at fractional advance.

Trade continued quiet during the day. A little Missouri Portland sold at unchanged price and in latter half of session Skouras was unchanged at 57.

Personal and Business Notes

Richard F. Hoyt of Hayden, Stone & Co. has been made chairman of a protective committee formed in the interest of holders of $4,639,000 5 per cent consolidated mortgage bonds, currency series, of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., which has defaulted in the payment of interest due Sept. 1, 1926. Principal and interest are guaranteed by the Dominion Steel Corporation, Ltd.

E. O. Bowers, vice president of Wickwire Spencer Steel Co., has been elected president of the company to succeed D. F. Edwards, who resigned. Mr. Bowers was succeeded as vice president by Paul M. Macklin.

John Cannon, general manager of the Missouri Pacific, has been elected vice president and general manager in charge of operation. His headquarters will remain at St. Louis.

Statement by G. L. Miller & Co.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—G. L. Miller & Co., dealers in real estate mortgage bonds, today issued the following statement:

"Negotiations have been under way for some time by which the business affairs of G. L. Miller & Co. would be rearranged and reorganized. Possibly these plans might result in merging of interests with one or more other real estate bond houses in this field. Pending the outcome of these negotiations, this company has, as a matter of good business policy, embarked on a practical program of retrenchment and liquidation. Because of these pending developments, it is impossible to make any further comment at this time."

FOREIGN BONDS TRADE FEATUR[E]

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Activity in the bond market today again centered in foreign issues and domestic rails.

Delaware & Hudson convertible 5s kept up their recent spurt, moving forward to a new high at 122¾. International Great Northern first 6s also were strong, but the remainder of the carrier list in general held comparatively firm. Seaboard adjustment 5s and the 6s of the same road, however, were heavy. Grand Trunk 7s also were a shade off.

In the foreign section of the list Railway 7s rose to 86⅛, a new high mark, and notable strength was shown by German General Electric 6½s with warrants, Rhinelbe 7s with warrants, [illegible] 6s, large assented, Mexican 4s of 1910, small assented, and Swiss 8s. [illegible] cropped out in some places, [illegible] Czecho-Slovakia 8s of 1951 and [illegible].

Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s [illegible] demand at slightly higher prices. [illegible] in the domestic industrials, [illegible] specialties, however, were few. [illegible] weakness was seen in Dominion [illegible] Steel 5s, Republic Steel 5½s and [illegible] Hoe 5½s.

United States Government issues [illegible] irregular.

COTTON TRADE QUIET ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of one to eight points on further [illegible] but otherwise there was very little [illegible]. After selling at 17.81 at the start, December eased off to 17.75 under liquidation and a little Southern selling.

Nothing further was heard of the possible development of a tropical disturbance in the West Indies, and part of the early buying may have been promoted by [illegible] of the private end—August crop [illegible] which placed the indicated yield at [illegible] 500,000 bales, or within 12,000 bales of the mid-August estimate of the same [illegible].

Trading remained very quiet, however, and the market held within a point or two of yesterday's closing figures at the end of the first hour.

The forenoon market remained quiet, but held generally steady on [illegible] or less favorable view of the weather news, which included reports of [illegible] rains or showers at some Eastern belt points and apprehensions that the high temperatures in the Northwest would be followed by unseasonably cool weather in northern parts of the belt. At midday December contracts were selling at 17.80c, with the general market about 3 to 5 points net higher.

No fresh feature developed during the early afternoon. Trading remained quiet but prices were fairly steady on covering. December held around 17.80 at 2 o'clock, when the general market was about net unchanged to seven points higher.

*Red wheat.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS EXCHANGE, Sept. 2.—Wheat closed about [illegible] down, corn down about as much. [illegible] Trade was influenced by bearish [illegible] wheat estimates and forecasts of [illegible] weather. Latest private reports [illegible] to effect that the Canadian provinces will yield 403,594,000 [illegible] against a prospect of less than [illegible] bushels two months ago. [illegible] of North American wheat [illegible] to aggregate 1,500,000 bushels. In the local cash grain market wheat was steady to 1c higher. [illegible] demand for milling grades [illegible] of hard was 1c to 2c lower. Demand [illegible] ½c to 2c lower. Demand [illegible] were ½c to 1c higher.

The early range of wheat was [illegible] above previous close. The continued rainfall in Canada [illegible] pressed as to effects as grain [illegible] proved main news [illegible] Winnipeg early was up 1c to 1½c [illegible] closed [illegible] higher. [illegible] market September prices [illegible] and December higher.

September wheat opened at $1.3[illegible]; winter wheat $1.36 to $1.36½; corn 82⅛c.

The three Northwestern markets received 1147 cars of wheat, [illegible] with 399 a week ago and 1427 [illegible]. Minneapolis receiving 382 cars, [illegible] and Winnipeg 437.

Local wheat receipts, which [illegible] bu., compared with 113,400 [illegible] and 42,000 last year, included [illegible] local and 5 through. Corn [illegible] were 49,000 bu., compared [illegible] a week ago and 32,200 last [illegible] 29 cars local and 6 through. [illegible] receipts, which were 108,000 bu., [illegible] 66,000 a week ago and 56,[illegible] included 43 cars local [illegible] through. Hay receipts were 9 [illegible] 1 through.

Primary receipts of wheat were [illegible] bushels, compared with 1,4[illegible] week ago and 1,823,000 last year. [illegible] receipts were 293,000 bushels, [illegible] with 291,000 a week ago and [illegible] year. Oats receipts were [illegible] bushels, compared with 733,000 [illegible] and 1,127,000 last year; wheat shipments were 605,000 bushels, [illegible] 1,940,000 a week ago and [illegible] last year; corn shipments were [illegible] bushels compared with 228,000 [illegible] and 337,000 last year; oats shipments [illegible] 267,000 bushels, compared with [illegible] bushels a week ago and 667,[illegible].

[illegible] No. 5 yellow hard, $1.23; [illegible] yellow hard, $1.08; No. 3 [illegible] No. 4 mixed, $1.26@1.27. Corn—No. 2 mixed, 78c; No. 2 [illegible] 79c; No. 3 yellow, 77½c; [illegible] sample yellow, 73½c. Oats—No. 3 white, 34½@35½c; [illegible] 31¾@33½c; sample grade [illegible] @31½c; No. 4 mixed, 29@30[illegible].

St. Louis Hay Market.

Timothy hay continues steady, offerings moderate and demand good for [illegible] but the off grades quiet and [illegible] relatively low priced. Light clover mixed [illegible] steady. Heavy clover mixed hay [illegible] pure clover hay offering scant. [illegible] situation quiet but steady. Prairie [illegible] market quiet but steady.

Hay quotations, No. 1 timothy, [illegible]; standard timothy, $21 to $22; [illegible] timothy, $19 to $21; No. 1 light mixed, $22 to $23; No. 2 light mixed, $20 to $21; No. 1 heavy mixed, $21 to $22; No. 2 heavy mixed, $19 to $20; No. 1 pure clover [illegible] $20; No. 2 pure clover $17 [illegible]; choice alfalfa, $27 to $28; No. 1 [illegible] $24 to $25; Standard alfalfa, $22 [illegible]; No. 2 alfalfa, $19 to $20; choice [illegible]; No. 1 prairie, $18 to $19; [illegible] prairie, $15 to $16.

WHEAT BREAKS LATE ON CHICAGO MA[RKET]

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Wheat prices [illegible] a little higher during the early [illegible] trade today. Continuous rains over [illegible] harvest belt of Canada, and the strength [illegible] Liverpool and Winnipeg markets [illegible] some buying. There was little follow-[illegible] the flurries, however.

Heavy selling of wheat developed [illegible] credited to a leading operator, after [illegible] market had had an early advance. [illegible] private estimate of a Canadian yield [illegible] 000,000 bushels larger than the [illegible] crop of last year was the principal [illegible]. The close was 2⅛c to 2⅜c [illegible] September $1.30⅛ to $1.30⅜, December [illegible] $1.33⅛ to $1.33⅜, May $1.38 [illegible]. Corn dropped with wheat [illegible] 1⅛c to 1⅝c lower. September [illegible] 78⅛c, December 81⅛c to 81⅜c. Oats lost early gains, closing [illegible] ⅛c lower. December 36⅛c to [illegible] December, 40⅛c to 40⅜c. May 45 [illegible]. Lard closed 22c to 27½c [illegible], 40c to 50c lower, bellies 5c to [illegible]. Local cash sales were 120,000 [illegible] of wheat, including 80,000 to export [illegible] 36,000 of corn, 90,000 oats.

An unsettling factor in the present [illegible] is the uncertainty over the size of [illegible] crop. One expert today estimated [illegible] 403,000,000 bushels, or larger than [illegible], but estimates range all the way [illegible] 27,000,000 to over 400,000,000, the [illegible] difference in opinion serving to make [illegible] cautious.

Export demand was quiet. The [illegible] European buying has been satisfactory [illegible] few days, with a sizeable business [illegible] worked. Belief prevails that if the market [illegible] will hold steady around current levels [illegible] the next month or so, permitting the [illegible] of much of our surplus wheat [illegible] healthy bull market will come later.

[illegible] The run of wheat to market continues large, but consumptive demand is [illegible] and stocks are not burdensome. Minneapolis stocks increased 64,000 bushels for [illegible] days. Deliveries on contract here [illegible] were only 335,000 bushels and judging [illegible] the action of the September delivery [illegible] grain was well taken. Russian shipments this week totaled 456,000 bushels, against 176,000 last week and 814,000 a year [illegible].

Corn prices held well with wheat [illegible] Indiana and Iowa, three of the [illegible] surplus states, have had excessive [illegible] lately, retarding the growing crop. [illegible] commercial demand overnight picked up [illegible] shipping sales were over 100,000 bushels [illegible] country offerings remain moderate and [illegible] probable that the trade will find [illegible] supplies on the farm far less than [illegible] have believed.

Oats acted better than any other grain. There have been heavy rains delaying threshing over much of the belt, and [illegible] caused buying. There was a noticeable tendency to buy deferred deliveries and [illegible] in. Commercial demand is healthier [illegible] stocks are as large.

Liquidation developed in lard [illegible] houses with Eastern connections. Dec[illegible] [illegible] weak in meats. At midday lard was [illegible] to 17c lower, ribs 7½c off, bellies [illegible].

Chicago Grain Carlots.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Car lot receipts: Wheat 203, corn 16, oats 148, rye 27.

FOREIGN BONDS TRADE FEATURE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Activity on the bond market today again centered in the foreign issues and domestic rails.

Delaware & Hudson convertible 5s kept up their recent spurt, moving forward to a new high at 122½. International Great Northern first 6s also were strong and the remainder of the carrier lines in general held comparatively firm. Seaboard adjustment 5s and the 6s of the same road, however, were heavy. Grand Trunk 7s also were a shade off.

In the foreign section of the list East Railway 7s rose to 86⅞, a new high mark, and notable strength was shown by German General Electric 6½s with warrants, Rhinelbe 7s with warrants, Mexican 6s, large assented, Mexican 4s of 1910, small assented, and Swiss 8s. Heaviness cropped out in some places, particularly Czecho-Slovakia 8s of 1951 and Seine 7s.

Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s continued in demand at slightly higher prices. Changes in the domestic industrials, utilities and specialties, however, were few. Apparent weakness was seen in Dominion Iron and Steel 5s, Republic Steel 5½s and Robert Hoe 5½s.

United States Government issues were irregular.

COTTON TRADE QUIET ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of one to eight points on further covering, but otherwise there was very little buying. After selling at 17.81 at the start, December eased off to 17.75 under liquidation and a little Southern selling.

Nothing further was heard of the possible development of a tropical storm in the West Indies, and part of the early selling may have been promoted by another of the private end—August crop reports which placed the indicated yield at 15,500,000 bales, or within 12,000 bales of the mid-August estimate of the same day.

Trading remained very quiet, however, and the market held within a point or two of yesterday's closing figures at the end of the first hour.

The forenoon market remained very quiet, but held generally steady on more or less favorable view of the weather news, which included reports of scattered rains or showers at some Eastern points and apprehensions that the lower temperatures in the Northwest might be followed by unseasonably cool weather in northern parts of the belt. At midday December contracts were selling around 17.80c, with the general market about 2 to 6 points net higher.

No fresh feature developed during the early afternoon. Trading remained quiet, but prices were fairly steady on further covering. December held around 17.81c at 2 o'clock, when the general market was about net unchanged to seven points higher.

*Red wheat.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Sept. 2.—Wheat closed about 2c lower with corn down about as much. The market state was influenced by bearish Canadian wheat estimates and forecast of better weather. Latest private estimates are to effect that the Canadian prairie provinces will yield 403,594,000 bushels, against a prospect of less than 300,000,000 bushels two months ago. Export sales of North American wheat today were said to aggregate 1,500,000 bushels.

In the local cash grain market soft wheat was steady to 1c higher. There was fair demand for milling grades. Low grade of hard was 1c to 2c lower. Corn was ½c to 2c lower. Demand was fair. Oats were ½c to 1c higher. Demand was fair.

The early range of wheat was narrow, just above previous close. The reports of continued rainfall in Canada, with fears expressed as to effects as grain is being harvested, proved main news of market. Winnipeg early was up 1c to 1¼c. Liverpool closed ⅛d to ⅛d higher. In the corn market September prices were lower and December higher.

September wheat opened at $1.32¼; December wheat $1.36 to $1.36⅛. December corn, 82¼c.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 1147 cars of wheat, compared with 399 a week ago and 1427 last year, Minneapolis receiving 382 cars, Duluth 328 and Winnipeg 437.

Local wheat receipts, which were 170,000 bu., compared with 113,400 a week ago and 42,000 last year, included 107 cars local and 5 through. Corn receipts, which were 49,000 bu., compared with 63,000 a week ago and 32,200 last year, included 29 cars local and 6 through. Oats receipts, which were 108,000 bu., compared with 66,000 a week ago and 56,000 last year, included 43 cars local and 11 through. Hay receipts were 9 cars local and 1 through.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,740,000 bushels, compared with 1,487,000 a week ago and 1,823,000 last year; corn receipts were 293,000 bushels, compared with 291,000 a week ago and 452,000 last year; oats receipts were 991,000 bushels, compared with 733,000 a week ago and 1,157,000 last year; wheat shipments were 605,000 bushels, compared with 1,940,000 a week ago and 780,000 last year; corn shipments were 168,000 bushels, compared with 228,000 a week ago and 337,000 last year; oats shipments were 267,000 bushels, compared with 328,000 bushels a week ago and 667,000 last year.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

Sales of cash grain were as follows: Wheat—No. 1 red winter, $1.37; No. 2 red winter, $1.20@1.24; sample grade red winter $1.25; No. 4 red winter, $1.30; No. 5 red winter, $1.20@1.24; sample grade red winter, $1.06@1.22; No. 1 red garlicky, $1.28½; No. 2 red garlicky, $1.28; No. 5 red garlicky, $1.24; No. 4 hard, $1.25; No. 5 hard, $1.21; sample grade hard, $1.08@1.17; No. 5 yellow hard, $1.23; sample grade yellow hard, $1.08; No. 3 mixed, $1.24; No. 4 mixed, $1.26@1.27.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, 78c; No. 2 yellow, 79@79½c; No. 3 yellow, 77½c; sample grade yellow, 73½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 34½@35½c; No. 4 white, 31⅞@33½c; sample grade white, 29@31½c; No. 4 mixed, 29@30c.

St. Louis Hay Market.

Timothy hay continues steady, offerings are moderate and demand good for toppy hay but the off grades quiet and relatively low priced. Light clover mixed hay steady. Heavy clover mixed hay scarce. Pure clover hay offering scant. Alfalfa situation quiet but steady. Prairie hay market quiet but steady.

Hay quotations, No. 1 timothy, $23 to $24; standard timothy, $21 to $22; No. 2 timothy, $19 to $21; No. 1 light clover mixed, $22 to $23; No. 2 light clover mixed, $20 to $21; No. 1 heavy clover mixed, $21 to $22; No. 2 heavy clover mixed, $19 to $20; No. 1 pure clover, $19 to $20; No. 2 pure clover $17 to $18; choice alfalfa, $27 to $28; No. 1 alfalfa, $24 to $25; Standard alfalfa, $22 to $23; No. 2 alfalfa, $19 to $20; choice prairie, $19; No. 1 prairie, $18 to $19; No. 2 prairie, $15 to $16.

WHEAT BREAKS LATE ON CHICAGO MARKET

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Wheat prices averaged a little higher during the very slow trade today. Continuous rains over the harvest belt of Canada, and the strength in Liverpool and Winnipeg markets led to some buying. There was little follow up to the flurries, however.

Heavy selling of wheat developed late credited to a leading operator, after the market had had an early advance. The private estimate of a Canadian yield 20,000,000 bushels larger than the bumper crop of last year was the principal influence. The close was 2⅛c to 2⅞c lower. September $1.30⅛ to $1.30⅜, December $1.33⅞ to $1.33½, May $1.38⅝ to $1.38⅞. Corn dropped with wheat, closing 1⅛c to 1⅞c lower. September 74⅜c to 74⅞c; December 81⅜c to 81½c; May 87¾c. Oats lost early gains, closing ⅛c to ½c lower. December 36⅛c to 36⅜c, December, 40½c to 40⅜c, May 45⅛c to 45⅛c. Lard closed 22c to 27½c lower, ribs 40c to 50c lower, bellies 5c to 22½c off. Local cash sales were 120,000 bushels of wheat, including 80,000 to exporters, 125,000 of corn, 90,000 oats.

An unsettling factor in the present trade is the uncertainty over the size of Canada's crop. One expert today estimated it at 403,000,000 bushels, or larger than last year, but estimates range all the way from 325,000,000 to over 400,000,000, the wide difference in opinion serving to make traders cautious.

Export demand was quiet. The volume of foreign buying has been satisfactory the last few days, with a sizeable business worked. Belief prevails that if the market will hold steady around current levels for the next month or so, permitting the clearance of much of our surplus wheat, a healthy bull market will come later on.

The run of wheat to market continues large, but consumptive demand is active and stocks are not burdensome. Minneapolis stocks increased 64,000 bushels for five days. Deliveries on contract here today were only 335,000 bushels and judging by the action of the September delivery, the grain was well taken. Russian shipments this week totaled 456,000 bushels, against 976,000 last week and 816,000 a year ago.

Corn prices held well with wheat. Illinois, Indiana and Iowa, three of the big surplus states, have had excessive rains lately, retarding the growing crop. Commercial demand overnight picked up and shipping sales were over 100,000 bushels. Country offerings remain moderate and it is probable that the trade will find corn holdings on the farm far less than they have believed.

Oats acted better than any other grain. There have been heavy rains delaying threshing over much of the belt, and this caused buying. There was a noticeable tendency to buy deferred deliveries on the dip. Commercial demand is healthier and receipts are as large.

Liquidation developed in lard from houses with Eastern connections. Demand was weak for meats. At midday lard was 10c to 13c lower, ribs 7½c off, bellies 10c.

WORLD CONCERN CONFERENCE TO BE AT LAKE MOHONK, N. Y.

Meeting Sept. 20-24 Will Collect Facts and Make Them Available to All.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The conference on cancer treatment to be held in Lake Mohonk, N. Y., Sept. 20 to 24, will be the most important ever held, Dr. George A. Soper, director of the American Society for the control of cancer, said yesterday on his return from Europe.

"It will be the first international meeting ever held for the purpose of studying the purely practical aspects of cancer control," said Dr. Soper. "It will formulate all present knowledge of cancer treatment and make it available to the medical profession as a whole and to the public as well."

MODIFICATION PLEA IN ILLINOIS

Petition Signed by 431,637 Voters Shipped in 5-Foot Box.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—A 5-foot box containing a petition for a State-wide referendum on modification of the prohibition law, signed by 431,637 voters, was carried with ceremony today to a train to be taken to Springfield for filing.

A truck with a banner "Bring Back Beer" carried the petition to the station, led by a band and followed by George Brennan, Democratic Senate candidate, and a score of city and state Democratic leaders. The petition is bound together by two rods, and contains 17,276 sheets. It contains 190,000 more signatures than the 240,000 required to obtain a State-wide vote in November.

HOLDUP IN DOWNTOWN STORE

Two Robbers Obtain $106 at the Olive Hat Works.

Two young men, described as about 20 years old, one of them with red hair, at 3:10 p. m. yesterday held up and robbed the owner and three other men in the Olive Hat Works, 1217 Olive street, and escaped in a Ford coupe with $106.

They compelled the owner, Mark Wolf of 2346 Louisiana avenue, and the other men to lie on the floor of a rear room where the robbers searched them, taking $20 from Wolf, $65 from Harvey King, 4366 Lindell boulevard; $15 from Harry Antonopoulis, 2804 Olive street, and $6 from Michael Crouchall, 2138 Oregon avenue.

CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS REMAIN

Move to Oust Them from Army Defeated In Chile.

By the Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 2.—A move to oust Catholic chaplains from the army has been defeated in the Chamber of Deputies by the conservative-radical combination.

The movement to discharge the chaplains dates back to the adoption of the constitution in 1925, under which church and state were separated.

Choose your new car from the General Motors Line

In the twelve months just ended, the public purchased 1,086,590 General Motors cars, an unprecedented record.

This great volume of business has made possible still further economies and these have been put into the quality of the 1927 series now on display by General Motors dealers.

The new General Motors line is first of all a quality line. It embodies every advantage of research. It has been proved at the General Motors Proving Ground. Every car is finished in Duco; the closed cars have Fisher Bodies.

It is a complete line. It includes 59 models of open and closed types, ranging in price-at-the-factory from $510 to $4,350. Within it you will find the car you want at the price you want to pay.

We invite you to visit the show rooms of our dealers and select your new car from the General Motors line.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

GLITTER

By KATHERINE BRUSH
(Copyright, 1926.)

"AND then all of a sudden he wired me, and I took a train—oh, the slowest train. Jock Hamill, I can remember yet how it dragged along, all night and half the next day!—and we were married at four that afternoon in a little town near Camp Dewens, where he'd been stationed." Yvonne smiled a smile without mirth, as though invisible strings were jerking her mouth up at the corners. "So funny! Just a parody of a wedding. In a shabby little house, with a shabby little minister, and the minister's wife and a fat woman who came in wiping soapsuds off her big red arms with her apron, for witnesses. The place smelled of boiling cabbage, and flies buzzed against the window panes. I'll never forget the commotion they made. It seemed to fill my ears and my mind, until I couldn't think of anything else. Mercifully, perhaps . . . but I'd have liked things different. I'd have liked satin, and lilies, and stained glass, and the low throb of organ music—something to treasure beautifully through all the years."

She fell silent, and her lids dropped down, shutting away from Jock the story in her eyes. After a little her lips took it on. "We had a few hours together. And that was all. He went away, to France, and I went home. And waited and waited and waited . . . That was the third stage. Then I thought, 'It'll be all right. God will send him back safe to me.' You see I believed in God in those days, Jock Hamill. I had—the most infinite faith.

"Well—God played with me, that was all. He didn't kill Paul in the war, but he killed him later. On the boat coming home—just a day or two away from my arms. Influenza. And they buried him at sea. . . . I didn't know, of course, and I was there to meet the ship that brought his battalion back. In Boston. So happy, and all in new clothes. Almost two years I'd waited . . . Did you ever hear of the Mothers' Boat, Jock Hamill? When the big transports got in, sometimes they'd send a little tug down the harbor to meet them, with mothers, and sweethearts, and wives. I was on one of those little tugs. Early one morning. Foggy and wet and cold—in March, it was. You couldn't see the land, nor anything but gray fog and gray water all around. They took the tug boat out a way and then they let it drift, and everybody stood quiet and tense, staring all in one direction . . . I don't know how long we were there. A piece of forever . . . And then finally we began to hear a foghorn, and bye and bye we could see the faint gray outlines of the transport through the mist. And they started our engine up again, and we went toward it. And when we got nearer there was a new color out of the gray. Brown. Khaki. Great lines of it—I could hardly see them, I was crying so. For joy.

"They brought the tug so close to the liner that there was only a narrow span of water between, and the liner stopped, and we stopped. Close enough that we could look up high and see the soldiers' faces. Thousands of soldiers. I'll never forget them. Waving and cheering and jammed in rows a dozen deep all up and down the decks. I tried to find Paul. I couldn't, but it didn't matter—I was so sure he was there, somewhere. I smiled and smiled, and threw kisses. And all the time I was smiling at the rail they had pushed him off of two days before, wrapped in a flag—and I didn't know"——

She broke off, fighting to retain the self-control that had kept her voice low and even . . . with an evenness that had somehow testified more poignantly than screams to the depth and truth of her emotion. Her dry-bright eyes looked out over the sea, and she shivered almost imperceptibly. Jock sat motionless, wrathed. He would have taken her in his arms to soothe her,—but something forbade him. It was as though she hid from him now, behind the ghost of the man she had so loved.

Presently he sensed a change in her, a definite hardening . . . steel doors pushed shut with a clang . . . and she was again the Yvonne he knew best, cool and possessed and faintly satirical. "Light me a cigarette, Jock. Appropriate to the rest of this autobiography.

"I won't try to tell you about those next few weeks. I couldn't tell you if I wanted to, because I can't remember anything about them except a sort of dazed bruised agony. Just two things I knew: that there wasn't any God, and that it didn't matter in the least what happened to me, any more.

"I didn't go back to Ohio. I don't think it even occurred to me that to go back would be the logical thing, and I've never been back since, to this day. I went to New York . . . did you ever notice how people crawl there when they're down, like poisoned animals toward water? . . .

"Of course, I had no money, to begin with. I lived in a little black hole of a room in a boarding house just off Broadway, and worked. Sold magazines at a stand in the Grand Central Station—that was my first job. Then I was a model in a cheap wholesale house for awhile. I suppose you've never been in one of those places, have you, Jock Hamill? The models sit around in little pink silk slips, and fat greasy buyers have a perfect right to paw them over like the merchandise . . . and do it. . . . Later I got into the misses' department of one of the big stores as a dress model, but I didn't stay. That sort of thing wasn't what I wanted.

"Then I worked in a cabaret. Carrying a tray tied around my neck with a ribbon, and crying, "Cigars! Cigarettes!" all night long, and smiling at the men so they'd tip me well. . . . Finally the manager found out I could sing, and I did a couple of solos every night. You know, going from table to table. I took a new last name then—Mountford—the Yvonne is my own.

"There were several different jobs after that, each one of them a little step up. Cabaret singer at Huber's, and later at the Cafe Mandalay. And all the time, things were happening to me. Sordid things. I needn't tell you, they weren't important. Then—do you remember the Sedgewyke divorce case? The papers were full of it at the time. I was co-respondent. . . . That gave me a lot of notoriety, and got me a new place. On the stage. You guessed right about that, though I wasn't really what you could call an actress. Just sort of a glorified chorus girl in 'Pretty Baby,' for a year on Broadway. I wore clothes, and walked around, and sang one song in the second act. . . . In the spring I married the leading man." She mentioned a famous footlight name. "I don't know why. I didn't even like him. But he made a huge salary. . . . Gold-digger, you see. That's all I am. Or was," she added on a quiet breath.

"We lived together seven months in an apartment on Central Park West, and kept open house. He used to pick up the queerest people—I don't know yet where he found them all. There were a lot of show people, of course, and prizefighters, and gamblers, and Greenwich village poets, and 'ladies with no destination,' as Kipling calls them, and flotsam and jetsam. We had parties all the time, night and day. Just drunken brawls. I was forever helping people to bed. Even now, when I think about that apartment I can only see it as it used to look every morning before the maids got to work on it. Bottles, and siphons, and cigarette butts, and broken glasses, and stale, sickening air. I suppose that's what made me hate liquor the way I do. . . . I used to have an awful time, trying to get him straightened up before the performance. You never saw anybody become so drunk so often. And then one night he struck me across the face, and that was the end. I left him, and got a divorce—oh, I had plenty of grounds, even in New York.

"There was a lot more publicity connected with that, because he was so well known, and when it was over I wrote a story for a newspaper syndicate or some man wrote it and I signed my name and got a sizable check. The thing was called, 'Why I'm Through With Matrimony,' and it ran in four installments in Sunday supplements all over the country. It was mostly bunk, of course, and very lurid pictures of me splashed all over the pages. I got a lot of letters about it. Letters from men, making all sorts of proposals, and from crazy girls, and people wanting help. And one from a woman who said I ought to be locked up somewhere. . . . I've always remembered that. Sometimes, you know, I almost get myself to thinking that she was right.

"I'd put away a little money, but not much, and I had to make my living again. So I was hostess at the Twelve-to-Five Club. You've been there, haven't you?—you know the sort of place it is. Just like a hundred other supper clubs. That's where I ran on to some of the people I know—college boys, for instance. I met a lot of college boys. One reason I wouldn't come down to the games you asked me to last fall was because I was afraid I'd meet some of them again and they'd tell you about me. I didn't want you to know. I don't now, but I've got to tell you. Something is making me tell you. Don't think I'm enjoying this, Jock Hamill.

"Of course I had grown very hard and cynical—and mercenary—by that time. New York does that to a girl alone, and losing the only thing you really cared about does it. I wanted money. . . . See, I told you! Glitter. . . . I'd made up my mind that money was more important than anything else in the world, a lot more important than a fickle will-o'-the-wisp like happiness. Money was so tangible. So—so there. A thing you could hold in your hand. I wanted lots of it. And it didn't matter much how I got it. Do you understand, Jock Hamill? It didn't matter how I got it.

"Well, there was a man who used to come to the club often, named Parke Demorest"——

"I know," said Jock unexpectedly. The sound of his voice surprised him. He had spoken aloud without volition, for the first time since Yvonne began talking.

She stopped short now, and fixed him with her glance. "You—know? Who—who told you, my dear? You didn't know before I went away—" Her eyes filled with sudden enlightenment. "You've talked to that Toby Jennings who brought me to the dance the night I met you!"

"No I haven't," Jock said quietly. "Do you think I'd gumshoe around trying to find out things you didn't want me to know? I stumbled on it accidentally. Demorest's picture in a newspaper, and something about his having left for California. The day you did. I knew you knew him—that time in Sherry's, remember?—but even then I wasn't—I didn't believe—"

"You didn't want to believe, did you?"

Jock did not reply, and his eyes fell from hers, to her white fingers that played restlessly at her throat. He felt numb. A sort of mental paralysis, that enabled him to hear and see, but not to think, seemed to have settled on him. "It's been just a lot of words," he told himself, "and they're true, yet they don't mean anything. I don't feel anything. Good Lord, what's the matter with me? I ought to feel something—one way or the other—"

Yvonne's voice began again, rather breathlessly. "I'm sorry. But you'll have to believe it now, because it's so. I've been his mistress for over a year. He gave me that limousine, and these rings, and the clothes I have on, and he paid for my apartment. . . . I thought I had what I wanted. Money; and everything money buys. But you see, I didn't leave room in my calculations for one thing, Jock Hamill. I didn't know I'd ever meet you, and love you, and wish—oh, wish so!—that I'd kept myself for you. I'm realizing, a long while too late, that money doesn't really amount to much—that love is the only thing that matters."

She stood up, and Jock from his seat on the steps raised his eyes blankly to her white set face. "Just one more thing I want to tell you," she said. "I've left him. I left him in California, to come here and tell this to you, and I've moved from his apartment. Tomorrow I'm going to get rid of his car. I—I'd just like to have you know that I'll never belong to him again, even if—even if you don't want me—"

Jock gave a harsh, unintelligible cry then, and got to his feet. But she would not let him speak. "No, don't. I want you to think, before you say anything. I'm going to leave you for a little while, so you can. And bye and bye, when you've made up your mind—come and tell me—I'll be waiting—"

A minute later he was alone on the porch of the cottage called Paradise.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN THE SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Unwanted Hairs Gone Forever!

You can easily place this delightfully perfumed balsam on the hairs for a few seconds and then remove it, at the same time gently lifting out the very roots of hundreds of hairs. And all in less than a minute!

This scientific preparation is not to be confused with temporary surface hair removers. It is composed of ingredients which will PERMANENTLY destroy the growth by gently lifting out the roots until they cannot return.

Compounded by a physician, it is simple, safe and rapid. And your skin will take on a beautiful complexion. Thousands of women are using it. Your money back if it does not do all that is claimed.

Just ask your druggist or department store for NU-ART to destroy hair on any part of the face or body and presto! It's gone!!

A Foreign Lady Puzzled by Ameri

She's Flabbergasted Because We Do Not Divide Society Into Home, Bohemian and Lower Classes.

By WINIFRED BLACK

WINIFRED BLACK

THE Lady from Foreign Parts is puzzled—a little amused, too, but mainly puzzled.

"What is the matter with you Americans?" she said. "What makes you such wide-eyed, credulous children? Aren't you ever going to grow up? I was over here, let's see, 20 years ago as a bride. My husband had an American cousin and we ran over on our honeymoon.

"America was proper then—oh, awfully proper. If you weren't a regular Puritan you were taboo. No little amusing affairs to be smiled at and forgotten. No odd little smokingroom stories, don't you know—everything quite for granted, a wife and a husband and children, one or two of them, in the English upper-class fashion.

"Never very much for children, you Americans. Funny, too, you are such children yourselves, aunts and grandmothers, family doctors and family lawyers and everyone belonging to some church somewhere.

"Ruination for a statesman to have it hinted that he ever drank at all.

"Naughty plays? No, no, not in America! No risque books locked in papa's library, and a chorus of indignation if an artist exhibited a really good picture and everybody in the picture was not dressed to the last degree.

"Now, in Europe, we are taught that there are three worlds on this earth, three very distinct worlds and women must belong to one or another—the home world, the Bohemian world, and the half-world—all very interesting in their own particular way.

"I belong to the world of Bohemia myself; my artist husband gets me into that.

"The merely home world bores a Bohemian, but we have a certain respect for it, nevertheless, and we never try to mix the two.

"There in America I had tea the other day with five women, two of the home world, two of Bohemia, and one of the half-world. I was a little shocked, not at the half-world woman, but at the homeworld women. What were they thinking of—they with young daughters to bring up?

"We of Bohemia are irresponsibles; nobody holds us to account for anything. But mother and her darlings—well, you're just a lot of queer children, y It's all or nothing w it? I wonder if it w that way?"

And, do you know a word to say, not a would you have said?

The only quick-cooking oats with this flavor is "Quick Quaker"

FLAVOR is the all-important point in food. In oats it is probably more important than in any other.

That is why people who once taste the toasty richness of Quaker Oats are spoiled thereafter for all others.

Quaker flavor is unique, toasty and delightful. No other oats offers it to you. Some 50 years were spent perfecting it.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins and this "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

For your own sake, say "Quaker" when buying oats. Two kinds now at groceries: Quick Quaker (cooks in 3 to 5 minutes) and Quaker Oats as always.

Graywing's Little Joke

Joke a little every day;
It helps a lot along the way.
—Graywing the Gull.

REDDY FOX had seen Jelly-fish that were not jelly, and sea flowers, called Anemones, which were not flowers. He was getting to be a little suspicious of new things. Nobody likes to be thought ignorant. You know that. Reddy had twice been laughed at by Graywing the Gull, so he was a little slow about asking questions.

Now, Graywing the Gull, whose sharp eyes miss very little, and who has great knowledge of the things of the sea and the seashore, had enjoyed telling Reddy about things. You know, most people enjoy airing their knowledge. Sometimes it is a failing with people. They get so fond of airing their knowledge that they become tiresome. But Graywing wasn't as bad as this.

He noticed that Reddy was not asking as many questions as he had been in the habit of asking, and he wondered if Reddy was losing interest. So Graywing did a little hunting about himself to find things which he thought might interest Reddy.

One day, looking down at a little quiet pool, he saw something that made his own eyes open rather wide. "Well, well!" he exclaimed, "I wonder how this little fellow happened to get way up here. Reddy the Fox must see him."

Graywing took to his broad wings and went looking for Reddy Fox. From away up in the sky he could look down and see long distances in every direction. He discovered Reddy taking a sun bath in a little hollow among the sand dunes. Graywing sailed down until he was just over Reddy and very close to him. Then he screamed. Reddy bounced to his feet as if he were on springs. He glared up at Graywing. He was cross. Yes, sir, Reddy was cross. Really, I don't blame him, do you? "Well," he snarled, "what is all this rumpus about?"

"I was looking for you," said Graywing. "You see, I have found something I thought you would like to see. I didn't mean to startle you, Neighbor Fox, but I must say that I admire the way in which you can jump. Yes, sir, I do so. I believe you used to live inland."

"I do now some of the time,"

He discovered Reddy taking a sun bath in a little hollow among the sand dunes replied Reddy rather ungraciously. "What of it?"

"Then you must know what a horse is," said Graywing.

"Of course, I know what a horse is," retorted Reddy. "Goodness knows, I've seen enough horses."

"But all the horses you've ever seen were on land, weren't they?" Graywing asked.

Reddy grinned. "No," said he, "I saw a horse once that wasn't on land.

Graywing looked at Reddy suspiciously. "If he wasn't on land, where was he?" he demanded.

"In the water," replied Reddy. "He was swimming across the river."

"Oh!" exclaimed Graywing. "Well, he was a land horse just the same, even if he was in the water. But just a little while ago I saw a Sea Horse."

Reddy pricked up his ears. "Was he swimming?" asked Reddy, looking interested.

"No," replied Graywing, "he was down under water when I saw him, but he wasn't swimming."

"Oh," said Reddy, "he must have been drowned."

"I don't think so," replied Graywing. "I think he was alive."

"He couldn't be alive and be under water," cried Reddy most decidedly.

And Graywing chuckled.

Recipe for Beauty

By LUCY LOWELL

WHAT is your pet recipe for feminine beauty?

Do you think that beauty may be coaxed from the little jars and tubes and boxes on your dressing table?

Do you think it lurks in the gymnasium, in the swimming pool or on the tennis court, ready to be carried away by the young woman with the most physical prowess?

Or do you think that it's a fragile thing that lives with dreams and is only won by long hours of sleep?

Or, well, what do you think about beauty?

One girl sends me her own favorite recipe for good looks. And, perhaps, what some women will have still more interesting than the fact of the recipe itself, is the fact that it is meant for young women between 30 and 40.

Between these ages, says this girl, the curved contour of the cheek begins to sag. She goes on:

"The 'laughing wrinkle' between the nose and chin becomes pronounced. Massage is a simple eradicator, but it sometimes grows hair on the face. When I retire for the night I am careful not to sleep on my arms. My face and pillow must have direct contact.

"The pillow should not be too soft. Lie with the flesh gently drawn away from your mouth, nose and eye, toward your ear. The result will be wonderful beyond your expectations.

"Having discovered that direct contact between the face and the pillow creates beauty, I feel it my duty to share my secret with my sisters."

And a friendly, pleasant idea that is!

About the face-against-pillow recipe for beauty, I don't know. Of course we all understand that anything which presses against the soft skin and muscles of the face causes wrinkles in time. Haven't you seen old ladies with hollows in their cheeks caused by the habit of boring in with a forefinger?

The mere pressure of a pillow against the face would not, it seems to me, produce beauty. But—

If the face were laid upon the pillow for a certain number of hours each and every night—eight or nine at least—I think beauty would be quite likely to be the result. For there is nothing, no preparation in the jars and bottles and boxes; no mud-pack, "lifting," massage, that will erase wrinkles, brighten the eyes, soften and tint the skin and make a woman good to look at generally, like long hours of restful sleep.

All affectation is the vain and ridiculous attempt of poverty to appear rich.—Lavater.

Mending by Welding

By Hannah Wing

THE carpenter or cabinet maker does the mending if things about the house made of wood need repairing; for the lighting and small electrical equipment there is the electrician, the plumber attends to affairs of the pipe line but when household metals crack or break the usual procedure is throw the stricken fixture whether iron, steel, brass, copper or aluminum into the junk heap. With the automobile becoming almost a household fixture a new kind of tinkering has come into our communities and that is the welder. With the intense heat of the fine pencil point of the oxy-acetylene flame he makes broken pieces of metal melt and flow together until the new part not only can scarcely be detected from the old but is often even stronger than before the mending.

For instance, broken lugs on stove or furnace doors, casualties in cast iron pots and skillets, holes in aluminum kettles and teapots, and snapped cutting shafts of the food chopper are all subjects for the welder.

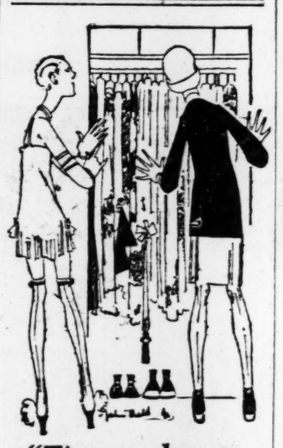

At changing seasons of the year the runners on the youngster's hand sleds, parts of the lawn mower or a bridge lamp may give way to stress or strain and snap.

But where can you find a welder?

The repair of household equipment by welding is usually done in shops that operate as job welding shops, in automobile-repair stations, machine shops, or blacksmith shops equipped with oxyacetylene apparatus. There is usually no difficulty in finding one of them, for they are listed in the classified telephone book or are advertised in the local papers.

HINDS
Honey & Almond
CREAM

"Oh dear, ... my nose is peeling!"

WELL, sunburn does that. Coarsens your skin, too. Why not prevent sunburn—with Hinds Honey and Almond Cream?

Just pat Hinds Cream on your face, neck and arms and powder over it, before you go outdoors. Then your nose won't peel and your skin won't burn or blister. Try it and see; it takes but a few seconds, but it saves hours of care later.

If you're already sunburned, use Hinds Cream, too. It's delightfully cooling.

You can buy Hinds Cream wherever toilet goods are sold.

When dirt seems to "drop out"—watch out!

Your laundry soap should be quick—yes—but SAFE too...

Too much washday speed may mean danger!

For sometimes soaps and powders which cleanse quickly are hard on clothes, weaken the fabric, shorten their life!

You want a soap that cleanses quickly, of course. A soap that saves your time and strength. But for the sake of your clothes—for economy's sake—you need a safe soap too. Do you know that Chipso is quicker than any other safe soap?

Chipso's thin white flakes dissolve instantly into rich suds—no chipping and melting of hard cake soap, no balling up in the water like a powder. Chipso does not "eat" dirt out—but soaks it out—quickly, with perfect safety for your clothes.

Try a Chipso washday. See how it saves time and strength. Notice how white your white clothes are, how fresh your colored clothes are—what a clean, sweet odor they all have.

At your grocer's—in cheerful blue-and-orange packages. A lot of soap for a little money,—see how large the Chipso boxes are! The big size holds enough Chipso for 6 large washings—or to wash your dishes for a month.

TEDIOUS PASTIMES—WAITING FOR A CUSTOMER TO MAKE UP HIS MIND

—By BRIGGS

The Man on the Sandbox

by L. C. Davis

SEPTEMBER.

IF correctly I remember,
Thirty days hath September;
Some are hot and some are cool,
Nights are pleasant as a rule.
Weather's fine for horseshoe pitching,
Straw hats we will soon be ditching;
If, perchance, too long we wear 'em,
Some one into shreds will tear 'em.

If correctly I remember,
Schools are opened in September;
Of the fact that school commences
There are many evidences,
In the urchins' mein reflected;
Some are glad and some dejected,
Some with joy the prospect hail,
Others go as though to jail.

If correctly I remember,
It is some time in September
That the coal man will remind us,
That October should not find us
With no coal to start a fire,
And the price will soon be higher
Now's the time for us to do it,
Otherwise, perhaps we'll rue it.

TOO TRUE.

The man on the sandbox says it's a poor fish that can't swim the English channel these days.

It remained for a German to break the channel record. And he wasn't accompanied by a U boat either.

North Pole. Hallo, there! How's the ol' swimmin' hole?

English Channel. Great! Come on in, the water's fine.

It's hard to write a merry quip on swimming the English channel that will stand up all day. They swim it between editions now.

"Railroads Should Be Let Alone, Brush Advises Coolidge."

If everybody lets them alone the busses will get all the business.

The game between the Cards and Pirates had to be called the other day while the field was being cleared of straw hats. Indicating that straw hats are batting for pop bottles.

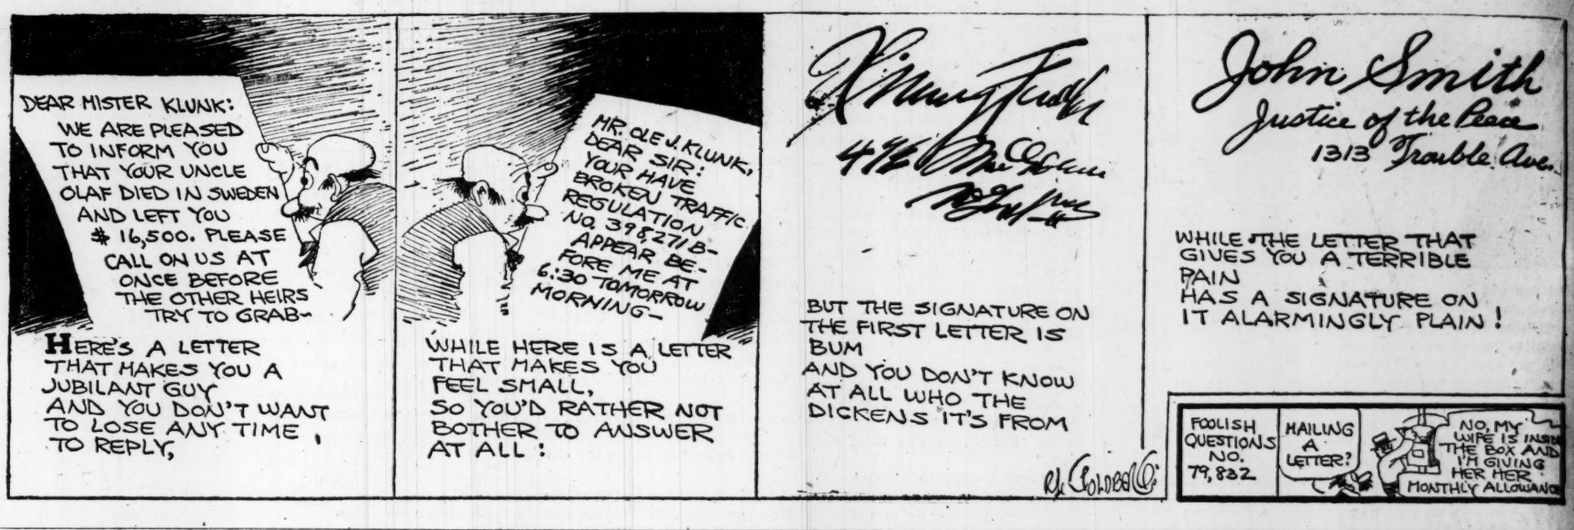

The ball game is a good place to go to get rid of your old straw hat along with a lot of excess enthusiasm.
